Mayor Mayne addressed colleagues by stating, "I have a matter to call to your attention this morning. The county commissioners practically have refused the proposition of a joint city and county sealer, so that leaves us out.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Pa Newc has had two roaming dogs offered to him for pets since Wednesday—and neither, by the way, carried license tags around their necks. We're wondering if this law that requires owners of dogs to procure new permits for 1932 is causing some to turn theirs loose.

Thunder and lightning, common in the summertime, makes plenty of folks talk when it performs in the winter. Last night's rumblings and sharp electrical display created street conversation galore today.

Pa Newc wonders how many signs of spring his readers saw yesterday. For instance: A man was painting a store front on South Jefferson street. He wore a straw hat. Men were found seated peacefully on the benches on the public square. And earlier in the week they were cutting the grass at Oak Park cemetery.

About this time of the year, in ordinary years, we are experiencing the annual "January thaw."

The poor old groundhog is going to be out of a job this year. With

Noted Society Leader Upholds Mrs. Fortescue In Honolulu Actions

Mrs. Stotesbury Says Any Good Mother Would Have Done Same Thing

ALL PHILADELPHIA TALKS OF MESSAGE

"Count On Me" Is Cheering Word Sent To Accused Woman In Honolulu

By E. L. RAWLEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—"I would have done the same thing had I been in your place—and so would any good mother."

All Philadelphia today is discussing this phrase from a telegram sent by Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, famous as one of the great leaders of American society, to Mrs. Granville Fortescue, one of four persons held in connection with the murder of a Hawaiian native charged with the assault of Mrs. Fortescue's married daughter.

Defends Accused Matron

Philadelphia morning newspapers today displayed on the front page pictures of Mrs. Stotesbury and the full text of her message approving the avenging maternalism of Mrs. Fortescue, the social leader, surprised over publication of her telegram, backed up the message nevertheless with this further defense of the accused matron:

"I think that any mother would feel impelled to do what she is accused of doing under similar circumstances."

"If there is anything I can do for you and yours, count on me," Mrs. Stotesbury added in her cable.

Lifelong friendship prompted her to send the message of admiration and encouragement, said Mrs.

HONOLULU IS CALM TODAY

Governor Lawrence M. Judd, Denies Conditions Not As Bad As Being Painted

(International News Service)

HONOLULU, T. H., Jan. 15—Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, held with his aristocratic mother-in-law and two Naval enlisted men for the "honor slaying" of a native suspected of attacking his wife, today pleaded with his attorneys for a speedy trial.

Lieut. Massie's attempt to hasten action in the case came after the prosecution announced that instead of presenting the case before the grand jury today, as had been expected the grand jury might not be called into action until next week. The prosecution's files were not ready, it was said.

Wants Early Trial

Montgomery Winn, defense attorney, said Lieut. Massie was anxious for an early trial in order to relieve the nervous strain of anticipation on Mrs. Granville Fortescue, his mother-in-law, held with Massie and the enlisted men aboard the S. S. Alton for the revenge killing of Joseph Kahahawai.

Governor Lawrence M. Judd, meanwhile, prepared a program of legislative reform to be introduced in the special session of the territorial legislature in an effort to clean up conditions on the islands.

Governor Replies

In the face of completed plans by the department of justice in Washington for a sweeping investigation of the islands, Judd replied to congressional charges of laxity by denying that conditions on the islands were as serious as had been painted.

Drastic Change In Prison Policy Now Forecasted

Treatment Of Mentally Defective Prisoners At Rockview To Be Changed

KILLING OF GIRL IS BEING PROBED

Members Of Prison Board Gather At Bellefonte To Investigate Case

(International News Service)

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Jan. 15.—A drastic change of policy at Rockview penitentiary, bearing on assignment of mentally defective prisoners for "house duty", was in the making today as members of the prison board gathered to investigate the assault and brutal killing of Betty Hickock, 22, daughter of Dr. Asa L. Hickock, prison psychiatrist, by Fred Collins, Negro trusty.

Members of the board said they favored such a policy change and attempts would be made to amend the present rules. The prison board will conduct its own separate investigation of the girls' death in the residence occupied by the Hickock family on the prison farm.

Collins in Solitary Confinement.

As plans went forward for the girl's funeral tomorrow, Collins, serving a 10 to 20-year sentence from Beaver county, was kept in solitary confinement in the Western State penitentiary at Pittsburgh. The squat prisoner was rushed there immediately following the inquest here to preserve order among the enraged prison population and townspeople aroused by his deed.

Brief funeral services for Miss Hickock will be held here tomorrow and then the body will be taken to Meshopen, Wyoming county, for burial in the Hickock family plot.

It was revealed by friends of the slain girl that she was to have been married shortly to Wilson Tuthill of Honesdale, whom she met at business college.

It was said that the prison board would make a complete investigation of rumors that the Hickock girl had on several occasions expressed fear and alarm at the presence of Collins in the house as a servant.

Carl Benson, R. D. 7 reported Thursday that he had his machine parked on Harrison street and that a machine the number of which he did not get while enroute west on Harrison street, ran into and damaged his car.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS:—The New Castle Civic Orchestra has unselfishly offered to present a program of concert numbers on Sunday, January 17, in the Cathedral, as their contribution to the Mayor's Relief Fund, and

WHEREAS:— This concert comes at a time when the American public is being reawakened to the need of living music as a part of its spiritual life, now,

THEREFORE:—In grateful appreciation of this splendid gesture of unselfishness upon the part of the New Castle Civic Orchestra and in further appreciation of the fact that living music must not be allowed to become decadent in this nation, I, Charles B. Mayne, Mayor of the City of New Castle, do proclaim Sunday, January 17, as Living Music Day in this city, and urge upon my fellow townsmen their attendance at the public concert in the Cathedral on that day.

Rentz Is Chairman Of Jameson Hospital Campaign For $60,000

Speaking as a unit, the members of the Board of Directors of the Jameson Memorial Hospital today announced that Fred L. Rentz, president of The New Castle News had accepted the chairmanship of the campaign for $60,000 for the hospital, which campaign will open on January 21. Mr. Rentz is a member of the board, and served many years as president both of the Shenango Valley Hospital and of the present hospital. In accepting the chairmanship Mr. Rentz said.

"There are some tasks which are given us which we accept hesitantly and yet we dare not refuse them. I cannot refuse to act as chairman of the Jameson Memorial Hospital campaign and be loyal to the memory of the man who meant so much to New Castle, David Jameson.

"David Jameson was a man of capacity, of vison and of courage. He was successful because he believed in himself but the success which so justly came to him he shared with others. His gift of the Jameson Memorial Hospital to the citizens of his community was a gift of such magnitude that we cannot yet appreciate it to the full. As the years pass and our vison lengthens we will realize more and more what it meant.

"In giving the hospital to New Castle he stressed the fact that its doors should never close and if my own efforts are of any avail in keeping those doors open then they will remain open. In the past it has been my privilege to be associated with the work of the hospital, and I hope that I may be permitted to continue. In the past the directors have refrained as far as possible from asking the people to assist in the maintenance of the hospital. The condition at present is such that we feel that the responsibility for keeping the hospital open should be broadened to include everybody.

"I have too much faith in New Castle and Lawrence County to believe anything else than this campaign will be successful. As citizens we owe it to ourselves to clear the debt from the Jameson Memorial Hospital and I trust that every citizen will do all that lies within his power."

Send First Contingent Of Local Workmen To Pymatuning Next Week

Lawrence County's first contingent of labor will be at work on the Pymatuning Dam next week. Orders have been received from A. W. Motley chief of the state labor agents, by Robert L. Merrmars, to send 45 men to the dam next week prepared to work for six weeks. This is only a part of the quota assigned to this county. The balance of 200 men will be sent up as they can be used which will be within a few days or a week following the departure of the first group it is anticipated.

Mr. Meermans, who is in charge of the State's Labor Office here, went to the site of the Pymatuning Dam on Thursday and conferred with Mr. Motley. While he was there Mr. Meermans made a tour of the site and came back enthusiastic over the arrangements of the state to handle the men.

An Army Camp

"The place looks like a well kept army camp" said Mr. Meermans. "There will be three different camp sites, each caring for 200 men. The other 400 of the 1,000 to be used will be from towns in Crawford and Mercer Counties near enough for the men to go home each night."

"The men will be housed in pyramidal squad tents, with wooden floors and wooden sides. Six men will be assigned to each tent with a Sibley stove in each tent. Mess halls are being erected, bath houses and medical infirmaties. A small hospital has been erected to care for any men who meet with accident or become ill and the entire camp is under the supervision of an army captain."

"As the men arrived in camp they will be examined by a physician. Men who have heart trouble, hernia or venereal disease will be sent back home. The health conditions of the camp are to be kept at the highest possible standard and no man will be allowed to start work with any of the troubles mentioned."

Funeral Services Today For Wealthy Society Victim And Her Aged Maid

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MIDDLEBURG, Va., Jan. 15.—With a dragnet for her slayer spread over the entire eastern starboard, simple and quiet funeral services for Mrs. Spencer Ilsley, murdered social leader and sportwoman of New York, Washington and Milwaukee, were scheduled here today.

Funeral Services

Services will be conducted at noon in Emmanuel Episcopal church, an ivy covered little building just around the corner from the home in which Mrs. Ilsley's body was found early Wednesday. The Rev. D. Campbell Mayers, rector, will conduct services. Friends of the popular Mrs. Ilsley came from the whole Shenandoah Valley to attend the funeral.

The body of Mrs. Anne Buckner, of Rockville, Md., Mrs. Ilsley's elderly maid who was found murdered with her mistress, was to be buried today at her home in Rockville.

Services in this quiet little town struck note of vivid contrast with the search carried on by police for the man, or men, who crept into Mrs. Ilsley's home early Wednesday and beat out her life and that of her maid with a heavy bootjack.

Al Smith's Son In Auto Mishap

YOUTH IS HELD PENDING PROBE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Walter J. Smith, 21-year-old son of former governor Al Smith was arrested today and will be arraigned on a technical charge of homicide.

Young Smith's automobile killed Harry Wallace, a pedestrian. The homicide charge stands until he is arraigned under it, despite the fact that police declared that the victim was crossing the street against the lights when Smith's automobile struck and killed him.

Smith, a student of Manhattan college here, accompanied by Francis B. Smith, formerly of Malden, Mass., and said to be a relative, was driving north on Lexington avenue early this morning.

At 128th Street, Smith told police, Wallace stepped from the curb to cross from the east to the west side of the street. He was struck by the right fender of the car.

Smith stopped his car. He and his companion picked up the victim and drove at high speed to Harlem hospital, where the man was pro-

Cabbages Growing In Garden Plot

Portersville Woman Says They Have Matured Since Last Fall

Fresh vegetables from other districts of U. S. are common in local markets, but it remains for Mrs. J. Deemer of Portersville to come forward with a story of cabbages actually growing in her garden in January. In fact the cabbages have kept right on growing ever since last fall.

When Mrs. Deemer gathered some of her cabbages last fall there were 25 or 30 heads that had not matured. She left them in the ground, thinking that they were no use. The cabbages kept right on growing.

To prove it Mrs. Deemer took one of the cabbages to the Portersville postoffice yesterday, where she left it on exhibition. She said that there were a lot more just like that on exhibition growing in her garden. Some of the postoffice employees and others went to have a look.

Sure enough there were the cabbages, green, crisp and fully matured. If any old timer knows of a reason when cabbages kept on growing until January 14th, let him come forward or forever hold his peace.

A. F. Knisely Sought For Murder Of Wife In Warren Bank

(International News Service)

WARREN, O., Jan. 15.—Aerial search for Arch F. Knisely, 43, Warren clubman and wife murderer, was resorted to by police today as the theory was advanced that Knisely may be hiding in some wooded section of Trumbull, Mahoning or Portage counties.

Patrolman John Drinco, a licensed pilot, made a brief survey late yesterday from the air and was to conduct an extensive flight today in an effort to locate Knisely.

No Trace Of Car

Belief that Knisely may never have left the state was expressed after authorities of three neighboring states—Pennsylvania, West Virginia and New York—failed to find any traces of the clubman's car.

Fears that Knisely might kill his 23-year-old nephew, Fred McCafferty, whom he forced to accompany him on his flight after killing his wife in a downtown bank lobby Wednesday morning, were expressed by relatives.

A police guard was stationed at the home of Attorney Jay Buchwalter, counsel for Mrs. Knisely in her divorce suit against her husband, here today when it became known that Knisely had threatened the man's life some time ago.

Mellon Denies Patman's Charge

Denies He Ever Discussed Oil Concession In Colombia

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Emphatic denial that he had ever discussed with the state department or with bankers the matter of the Barco oil concession in Colombia was made by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon today in a statement to the house judiciary committee which is considering impeachment charges brought by Rep. Patman (D) of Texas.

The oil concession was granted the Gulf Oil Co., a Mellon corporation, revoked, and then revalidated after the state department had brought pressure on New York bankers to go through with a $20,000,000 loan to Colombia.

Patman had cited the Barco incident in substantiation of his charges that Mellon is still actively interested in his corporations, notwithstanding the old law which prescribes that a secretary of the treasury may not engage in business. It is under this law that Patman seeks to impeach Mellon.

Highest January Temperature Is Reached Thursday

Mercury Hits 72 In Most Unusual Weather Condition Ever Noted Here

As far as the records at the U. S. Weather Observing Station here show, the 72 degree mark registered yesterday, was the highest January temperature ever recorded here.

Weather conditions have been abnormal for the past two years. The year of 1930 was marked by one of the worst drought ever experienced in the United States. This was followed by an unusually warm wave which has lasted throughout the year of 1931 and is now extending into 1932.

Added to this is the rainy spell which has been observed during the last few months. December showed a great excess in precipitation and January is following suit, the normal average for the month having been reached already with the month only half gone. Rain which fell last night and this morning brought the month's total to 2.83 inches. The normal for the month is 2.91 inches. This will probably be exceeded by the rain which will fall the rest of today.

Just what is causing this unusual condition, is not known, but weather observers have been aware of the fact that temperature conditions have been changing since 1917, each year seemingly being a little warmer than the one preceding with 1931 being unusual.

Crawford, who was seen here the day preceding the murder and who disappeared after the crime was reported variously as on his way to Philadelphia and as doubling back into Virginia after abandoning an automobile taken from Mrs. Ilsley's garage the morning after the murder.

Fingerprints Scanned

District of Columbia authorities who have directed investigation into the case today expected to determine whether fingerprints taken from the entrance to Mrs. Ilsley's bedroom, in which she was killed were those of Crawford.

The theory that Crawford killed Mrs. Ilsley in a drunken craze to revenge her action of swearing out a warrant charging him with burglary Christmas Eve gained support today.

The postoffice must be pessimistic about this weather. At any rate, on the lobby bulletin board today an advertisement for bids for hauling away furnace ashes was posted. Or maybe the ash bin needs emptying now.

It's a task and a half, this job that a local committee has in planning the George Washington bi-centennial observance. There will be special affairs that week, it is indicated. New Castle, like every other city and hamlet, should participate in such a nation-wide celebration.

nounced dead on arrival. Hospital officials called police.

"Al" Not Worried.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—"My son, Alfred, is taking care of the situation," former governor Alfred E. Smith of New York said today when asked to comment on a dispatch from New York reporting the arrest of his son, Walter J., on a homicide charge.

The former governor, who came here to make an address at a Democratic victory banquet last night, seemed unperturbed by the affair.

He said he could not alter his plans of leaving Boston for New York at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Ex-Governor Smith said he received word of the accident in which his son was involved, in a telephone call from New York.

Hearing Postponed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Walter J. Smith, 21-year-old son of former governor Al Smith, today had his hearing postponed in homicide court on the technical charge of homicide placed against him, when his car killed Harry Wallace early this morning.

The postponement was granted on a motion made by John Glynn, his attorney, who pleaded that "this young lad is taking examinations in Manhattan college."

Young Smith was released after posting $1,000 bail.

When time came to plead young Smith's case, the courtroom was jammed with friends of the former governor, who crowded around the youth, shaking his hand and assuring him that "everything's going to be all right."

Magistrate H. Stanley Renaud, who presides over the homicide court, immediately broke a precedent by barring all photographers from the courtroom on pain of contempt of court if they dared take young Smith's photograph.

After granting the postponement of the hearing on the homicide charge until January 21, Attorney Glynn stepped to the bar and explained to Magistrate Renaud he had a case on that date. He asked for a further postponement until the next day. This was readily granted.

Young Smith was brought into the courtroom by a detective and sat on a bench where he waited 45 minutes until his case was called. He was pale and rumpled from spending the night in the detectives' room.

POSTMEN'S BRANCH HERE IN MEETING

President Ernest Clare officially took over his duties at last night's monthly meeting of the New Castle branch No. 22, National Federation of Letter Carriers, in the Knights of Pythias hall. He was elected with other officers several weeks ago.

Special attention was given last night to the wage matters affecting postal employes.

ally or by reputation. For 40 years he had been associated with the J. J. Dean Grocery company and since the death of the founder, J. J. Dean, he had been president of the company. He was a man of intense loyalties, a firm friend and a relentless enemy of the things he thought were wrong.

Born Near Harlansburg.

Mr. Moorhead was born and spent his entire life in Lawrence county. He was born near Harlansburg June 13, 1852, the son of James and Jane Martin Moorhead. On March 25, 1891, he married Miss Anna Belle Carlon. Mrs. Moorhead preceded her husband in death over a year ago, passing away June 1, 1930. He is survived by one son, James Earl Moorhead; two grandchildren, Ben D. and Richard C. Moorhead, and one sister, Miss Mary S. Moorhead of Volant, Pa., and two brothers, William H. and Charles L. Moorhead of Slippery Rock, Pa.

Mr. Moorhead was a Christian business man. The principles which guided his religious life he carried into the business world with him. In this community he was known as the "Dean of Credit", being one of the pioneers in organizing the New Castle Credit Men's association and later the New Castle Credit Exchange. He was a man of positive convictions, either he was for or against a project whole heartedly and any movement that had his support felt his influence in no small way.

Failing health caused him to resign the presidency of the board of directors of the New Castle hospital some months ago. His fraternal affiliations were with the New Castle lodge, Free & Accepted Masons No. 642, and the New Castle Consistory. He was a member of the Central Presbyterian church for many years and an active worker in his church councils. Mr. Moorhead was connected with other business interests aside from the J. J. Dean Wholesale Grocery company, being vice president of the Western Pennsylvania Mutual Fire Insurance company.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from his former home with Rev. C. B. Wingerd in charge.

BOSTON, Jan. 15—Already famous as the hub of the universe, home of culture and seat of Beacon Hill, Boston has registered still another achievement. It has become a mecca for pedestrians. The death rate here was 12.1 per 100,000.

NOTED SOCIETY LEADER UPHOLDS MRS FORTESCUE

Stotesbury at her home, Whitemarsh Hall this morning. She first knew Mrs. Fortescue when the latter was a young society girl in Washington, and she chaperoned many of the parties the debutante attended.

Private Message

"The telegram I sent to Mrs. Fortescue was purely a private message of sympathy such as any good friend would send," she explained.

"I am terrifically shocked by this whole thing. Mrs. Fortescue was one of the belles of Washington in the days when I lived in the national capital. She was a great beauty and tremendously popular. I chaperoned her frequently at parties and balls and have always felt the keenest affection for her. I felt toward her as though she were my own daughter.

"I think that any mother would feel impelled to do what she is accused of doing under similar circumstances. All their lives may be ruined by this terrible thing and now is the time for Mrs. Fortescue's friends to rally to her support. I felt horrified when I learned of this tragedy and my first impulse was to rush to her support.

"Certainly, it would be a mother's instinct to avenge her daughter's honor. We should realize the terrific strain under which Gracie Fortescue must have labored. She probably would have gone insane thinking of the dishonor done her daughter.

Uphold Mother

Philadelphia society women are one with Mrs. Stotesbury in her admiration for Mrs. Fortescue. Any mother "would become a tigress under such circumstances," several of them declared.

For several months, Mrs. Stotesbury has been seriously ill at her home here. Her message of support to Mrs. Fortescue was made public by her secretary from Whitemarsh Hall. The text of the cable follows:

"Dear Gracie: This brings you my love and heartiest sympathy and also my admiration and respect for your magnificent courage in this overwhelming misfortune.

"I would have done the same thing in your place and so would any other good mother.

"If there is anything I can do for you or yours, count on me.."

Receipt of the cable brought an answering message of thanks from Mrs. Fortescue, Mrs. Stotesbury said. The reply also disclosed Mrs. Fortescue had received a number of encouraging messages from other social leaders throughout the east.

Mrs. Stotesbury further explained her action by asserting she could not be a "fair weather friend."

Memories of their friendship decided her to "go all the way" in her friend's defense, Mrs. Stotesbury said.

Mrs. Fortescue's daughter, Mrs. Thalia Massie, wife of a prominent young naval officer stationed in the Hawaiian Islands, was attacked by five natives several months ago. Among the natives accused of the crime was Joseph Kahahawai, and it is for his slaying that Mrs. Fortescue and three naval men are held.

SENIORS PRESENT COMEDY PLAY

little comedy of American family life presented by the Senior class of Senior High school Thursday evening in the high school auditorium.

"Jonesy" is an average son of an average family in an average American town. He is the epitome of American youth, not a Babbit exactly, just an ordinary youngster who has the faults and foibles that you had when you were a sophomore in college, but underneath it all a heart of gold and all that sort of thing. A humorously human bit of a play, but not heavy to cause intellectual indigestion, not too frothy that it doesn't hold the attention. Just a nice clean play, well within the range of high school players to present, and within the range of ordinary folks to understand. And it was well done.

Family Troubles

Jonesy is engaged to the girl next door but meets an actress. Jonesy's mother does an inside loop when she finds it out and then goes into a mental nosedive when she discovers that the actress is the niece of the local industrial magnate who has it in his power to give Jones Senior a nice berth in his legal department.

Along with Jonesy's girl trouble a frat brother of his comes to visit for the holiday and gets enmeshed with a department store girl who insists that she wants to marry him. The second act presents a tangle of matrimonial, economic and family difficulties that finally unwind to the satisfaction of everyone before the final curtain.

The secret service department of this paper reports that rehearsals for this play took up but two weeks. If this is true then the two weeks were spent in intensive work. The cast had its lines and sides down letter perfectly, they put themselves into the spirit of the thing and looking at the play as a complete entity it provided a lot of laughs and a lot of entertainment. Miss Clara Hartsuff the dramatic coach showed splendid judgment in the selection of a play, and the usual ability in preparing the players. No mention has been made yet as to the cast itself. Here it comes in box score form.

The Box Score

Henry Jones (William Hazen). Father of the family. A choleric kindly small town lawyer with a past. In this part Hazen "stole the show."

Wilbur Jones (Julian Turk). The son, 'Jonesy" who gets his family in and out of trouble. Turk had the idea the authors intended and gave a good account of himself.

Mrs. Henry Jones (Dorothy Moore). Unfortunately Miss Moore had laryngitis but went through with her part nobly. Wept beautifully in the proper places and as for hysterics——

Diana Devereaux (Josephine McGoun) The actress. Had some of the audience wishing they were young enough to play opposite her.

Anne Jones (Ruth Brenneman). The daughter. Looks capable and acts the same way.

Katie (Lucille Kison). The family servant. Just a simple old gal who has been in the family for years. Very good.

Mildred Ellis (Beryle Cameron). The girl next door who has her own ideas of what she wants. With her manner she'll probably get them.

Stanley Jackson (Walter Preston). A suave, sveldt captain of industry. Hardboiled on the outside, mellow inside. Good characterization.

Mr. Silverberg (Louis Greenberg) A small part but customers, what this Greenberg does with it is plenty.

Billy Morgan (Robert Emery). Scion of a house of wealth and carries out the best traditions.

A Plumber (William Woodworth) Also doubles as a policeman. At bat twice and got a hit each time.

Betwen the acts the Senior High School orchestra played a group of orchestral numbers. The house was fairly well filled and showed its appreciation of the efforts of the Senior actors.

REID ENGLISH IS APPOINTED CITY SEALER

familiarize himself with the duties of the office, and as this office is in my department I recommend the appointment of Mr. English at the rate of $1,200 a year."

Councilmen Treser and Genkinger offered a second, after which Councilman Davies asked: "Does this increase the cost of operating the department?"

"No, not for the city. The other people got it," explained the mayor, adding:

"It seems that the state has an overseer. He was here yesterday. The salary the city is now paying is the lowest anywhere.

"I told the overseer that we were electing men for New Castle and not for any other city."

The mayor informed colleagues that the county sealer will receive a salary of $1,500 annually and that the county will have to bear the expense of maintaining an office.

He also declared the county would have to provide equipment, which would be an additional cost, and maintained that every voter in the city of New Castle would have to help bear the additional expense on the county because "someone had to have a job".

STRATOSPHERE PLANE READY FOR TESTS

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Jan. 15—The Junkers stratosphere plane has made a number of test flights and, according to assertions by the Junkers people, has proved its air-worthiness.

The special apparatus necessary to reach altitudes of ten miles or more above the ground have not been installed for these test flights. Professor Junkers hopes, however, to have the plane ready for its first altitude test flight within a short time.

It will then have an absolutely airtight cabin to preserve normal airpressure for the pilots even in the thin atmosphere of the higher regions, and a special super-character to fill the cylinders of the motor was gas enough to maintain its efficiency under these conditions.

Deaths of the Day

Frank LaMarco Funeral

Funeral services were held Thursday morning in St. Anthony's church of Youngstown, Ohio for Frank LaMarco, of 3007 Dearborn street, that city.

The church was filled with friends and relatives, the Sons of Italy and The Daughters of Italy, attending in bodies and the magnificence of the floral tributes attested to the man's popularity.

After the mass in Youngstown the cortege came to New Castle, where interment was made in St. Lucia's cemetery. Members of the Sons of Italy acted as pallbearers.

Time of Funeral

Funeral services for Edward W. Norris will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. from the First Baptist church, Orchard street, Hubbard, Ohio.

Mrs. McMains Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Grace McConnell McMains of New Wilmington were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the United Presbyterian church at New Wilmington, with Dr. A. J. Randles of the Second U. P. church in charge and assisted by Dr. C. S. Beatty, Dr. J. Ralph Neale, Rev. J. W. Witherspoon, Dr. H. J. Rose and Rev. W. Byers.

The services were largely attended by sorrowing friends and relatives. The Westminster male quartet, consisting of Homer Dishong, Thomas Grenfel, Scott McMunn and William Frack, sang the Twenty-third Psalm and One Hundred and Third Psalm, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. A. L. Skillen.

There were many beautiful floral tributes to the memory of Mrs. McMains. The pallbearers were N. Nesbit, T. Nesbit, H. Kenehan, O. Miller, C. C. Cox and Scott Ripple. Interment was made in Fair Oaks cemetery.

Joseph Brice

Joseph Brice, aged 60, who was widely known and held in the highest esteem by a wide circle of friends in this city, passed away this morning at 7:55 o'clock at his home, 38 North Jefferson street following a brief illness. His death comes as a shock to all who knew him.

Mr. Brice was born in Jedda, Pa., October 12, 1871, and had been a resident of this city since 1920. He was associated with the Brice Brothers service station on North Jefferson street.

He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic parish. He is survived by two sisters, Miss Rose Brice, at home, and Mrs. Peter Maloy of Philadelphia, and the following brothers, Dr. P. J. Brice, John, Neil and James Brice, all of this city, and Charles Brice of Philadelphia.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning in St. Mary's church. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

FOUR SEEK EARLY TRIAL IN HAWAII N NATIVE CASE

special session of the legislature will be a bill increasing the penalty for criminal assault to death or life imprisonment, and permitting the trial judge the alternative.

The governor also announced a police reorganization bill under which he would appoint a police commission. It was expected, also, that a bill would be drafted allowing the governor to remove the high sheriff of the county, who is also warden of Oahu prison, without the consent of the senate as is now needed.

A legislative investigation of the prison from which there have been nearly 80 escapes in the past five years, was also expected.

City Is Calm

Honolulu itself appeared more calm today although there was no relaxation of police vigilance. No arrests have been made as yet in the native quarters despite rumors that individuals of mixed blood had plotted in an effort to seize by main force the four Massie case defendants from the custody of the Navy.

George McClellan, 26, a taximan who was a witness at the trial of the four men of mixed blood accused with Kahahawai of attacking Mrs. Massie, reported a suspicious incident to police, but no action was taken.

SEND CONTINGENT OF WORKMEN TO PYMATUNING DAM

to Espyville camp which is about 15 miles north of Conneaut Lake. Cards have already been sent out to the men have been selected telling them when to report and the men will need to take but few things with them. Toilet articles, shaving kit, some socks and handkerchieves, change of underwear and shirts, these are the necessities. The state will provide three blankets for each man, will provide a cot, and all eating utensils. For those men who have to work in any damp ground there will be boots. There is a bedsack for each cot which is to be filled with straw which the state will provide.

The men will work nine hours per day at a rate of 35 cents per hour. From their pay will be deducted 85 cents per day to pay for three meals, quarters, light and heat. If the state can cut this cost down it will do so at the earliest possible moment. The food will be substantial, wholesome and clean and prepared under the direction of expert cooks. There may not be many chocolate eclairs on the menus but there will be plenty of meat, bread, potatoes and the substantial things of life. In short, life at the Pymatuning Dam will be rather simple but healthy and wholesome. The work will not be the easiest in the world, but neither does the state expect to have any Simon Legrees in charge.

Each group of 200 men from Lawrence County will work for a period of six weeks, when another group of 200 will be sent. Because a man was not selected in the first 45 is no reason why he will not get sent up later. The registrations show 2700 names, listed and picking 45 or 200 names out of this list was a task. There are many men who need the work who are not going in the first contingent, but all of the men who are going are men who need jobs. There may be mistakes made in the selections but they will be honest errors. No politics will be permitted in the selection of the men, need and physical ability being the only things considered.

HUNDREDS FLEE AS RIVER RISES IN MISSISSIPPI

which the great levee collapsed, it was feared many persons, unwarned, might have lost their lives in this new onrush of a deluge which has plagued the region for the past three weeks.

Five thousand inhabitants of this district were imperiled. Hundreds abandoned their homes and sought haven in the higher reaches when warned of the levee's collapse.

It was feared the avalanche of water might have exacted a heavy toll of lives on isolated plantations where warnings could not be communicated on time.

Danger of famine and hunger complicated the dire conditions created by the deluge.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET SUNDAY

A special program in keeping with the occasion will be offered by Hadassah juniors and seniors when they participate in a Mother-Daughter banquet Sunday at 1 o'clock in the Elk's Club.

Several original songs and an appropriate playlet entiled "Pioneers" will be part of the splendid program arranged by a committee, which is making every effort to have this event surpass any they have ever had.

Greetings will be brought by Mrs. William Cosel, a member of Hadassah, who was one of the few representatives from the United States present at the November Peace conference in Paris.

In addition to these features, others will be given as surprises.

The Hadassah members, their families and friends are pleasantly anticipating the arrival of Mrs. Robert Szold, who has been a national figure in Hadassah for four years. She is a member of the famous Szold family, all of whom are actively engaged at the present time in national and international work connected with the rehabilitation of Palestine and the Holy Land.

The open meeting at 2:15, which will follow the fine luncheon arranged, promises to be of the same high caliber for which the New Castle chapter of Hadassah is already known.

The hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. Phillip Levine, Mrs. Jacob Silverman, Mrs. Louis Kulkin, Mrs. B. Kline, Mrs. M. Herskowitz, Mrs. Jack Gold, Mrs. A. Gonick and Mrs. Jack Hershman.

The committee on arrangements includes Mrs. L. Kohn, senior Hadassah president; Miss Lillian Fishkin, junior Hadassah president; Mrs. Marc Levine, senior program chairman; Miss Sara Love, junior program chairman; Mrs. L. Sandler, senior reservation chairman; Miss Hannah Kulkin, junior reservation chairman; Mrs. M. Herskoeitz, publicity chairman; Mrs. M. Davis, music chairman, Mrs. S. Edelstein, hostess chairman; Mrs. I. Grossman, decoration chairman, and Mrs. Henry Cohen, telephone chairman.

Married In Canton

Word was received here by friends of Joseph Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gardner, former Southside residents here, but now living in Warren, O., announcing that young Gardner was recently married to Miss Anna Myers of Canton, O., at Canton.

The wedding was private and attended by members of the immediate family. The pair left on a honeymoon trip to Detroit and other points.

FAREWELL SHOWER HONORS COUPLE

A delightful social event of Wednesday evening occurred at the home of Mrs. J. F. Titus, Edison avenue, when she entertained a group of friends in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson who plan on leaving in the near future to make their home in Birmingham, Alabama in the interests of the former's health. The affair was in the form of a farewell handkerchief shower and proved a complete surprise to the honored ones.

The guests arrived at an early hour and when all had assembled card tables were arranged and a contest in 500 enjoyed. At the conclusion of the game, Mrs. Margaret Treharne and Mrs. Nellie Johnston were presented lovely prizes.

At 11 o'clock the hostess served lunch assisted by her daughter, Miss Dorothy Titus. Ae delicious menu was enjoyed by candle light, and the large diningroom table, centered with a silver bowl containing select blooms, was lovely in tones of green and yellow. The tapers were placed at either end. Novel favors further expressing the predominating color scheme, marked places for Mrs. Evelyn Woods, Mrs. Nell Johnston, Mrs. Della Evans, Mrs. Ruth Connors, Mrs. Ethel Bell, Mrs. Rheba La Rue, Mrs. Ada Miller, Mrs. Elsie Frederick, Mrs. La Rue King, Mrs. Sarah Wallace, Mrs. Margaret Treharne, Mrs. George S. Wimer, Mrs. Ruth Patterson, Mrs. Tempa Stickle and the hostess.

Preceding this feature, Mrs. Titus presented a collection of handkerchiefs to the honored ones in behalf of those assembled, and made a few fitting remarks. While the party was in progress, and each was enjoying themselves to the utmost, there was an atmosphere of sadness that hoovered about, that was felt by everyone, in losing their friends permanently, as residents of this city.

All departed at a late hour, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Patterson the best of success on their new journey.

MARTHA SHRINE NO. 14 PLANS SPECIAL EVENT

Plans are being formulated for past officers night of the Martha Shrine, No. 14 for the sojourners, to take place on Thursday, January 21, at the Cathedral. This social affair will follow their regular meeting, and each one will bring a picture of herself when in the teens for the guessing contest that will be featured.

Mrs. Jane Belknap is general chairman of this event, and she will be assisted by the past worthy high priestesses and past watchmen of sheppards.

GOLD STAR MOTHERS GUESTS AT TEA EVENT

On Thursday afternoon a delightful social event took place at the home of Mrs. D. R. Smith, Leasure avenue, when she entertained the Gold Star Mothers at a Washington tea. The hours were spent informally with chat, and at a suitable time tea and dainty cakes were served. Mrs. Fred Wehr poured.

Those who participated included Mrs. J. A. Cox, Mrs. Emma Campbell, Mrs. John Cartwright, Mrs. Lydia Pitzer, Mrs. Fred Wehr, Mrs. E. E. McGill, Mrs. Anna Boyd, Mrs. William Phillips, Mrs. Edward Anderson, and the hostess, Mrs. Smith.

This group has planned to gather once a month for a social time, and is was decided that on Thursday, February 11, Mrs. Wehr of Adams street would entertian.

REUNITED LEAGUE CHICKEN DINNER

The home of Mrs. Roberta Estep on Neshannock avenue was the scene of much merriment last evening when she entertained associates of the Reunited Ladies League in her home at a beautifully appointed chicken dinner, an annual event. A delicious menu was served by the hostess and her committee, comprising Mrs. Frorie Davis, Mrs. Anna Richards, Mrs. Elsie Phillips, Mrs. Belle Clarke, Mrs. C. C. Nolte and Mrs. Mary Williams. The table was attractively arranged in decorations expressive of the season, and novel favors were found at each place.

The club members had decided to hold their meetings on Tuesdays instead of Thursday as has been the custom and their next session will take place February 2 with Mrs. Rebecca Strong of West North street as hostess.

B. Y. C. MEMBERS DINNER PARTY

Associates of the B. Y. C. Club enjoyed the hospitality extended by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gross on Richelieu avenue, when they entertained in their home at an especially prettily appointed 6 o'clock dinner. A delicious menu was served at small tables, perfectly arranged, by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. William Fox. The seasons tones predominated.

Cards formed the pastime during the balance of the evening, with lovelye prizes for honors being awarded to Mrs. Walter Gross, Mrs. Trevor Griffith, Walter Gross and William Fox.

The next regular meeting will be held in one week with Mrs. Dewey Shifflett on Adams street as hostess.

X. L. Bridge Club

Mrs. Robert Sadler of North Mill street was hostess to the X. L. Bridge Club members in her home Thursday evening. Cards occupied the attention of the guests, prizes for honors going to Mrs. Dorothy Griffith, Mrs. E. R. Wallover and Mrs. W. D. Ayers, Mrs. James Morocco, a special guest of the evening, was given a token from the hostess.

Lunch was served at a late hour by Mrs. Sadler, assisted by Mrs. Willis Shumway, the latter, who will entertain in two weeks at her home on North Lee avenue.

NOVEL EVENT AT EPWORTH CHURCH

Unusually entertaining was the "Men's Party" held Thursday evening in the community room of Epworth Methodist Episcopal church when the Harrison Street Unit, Mrs. V. O. Potter, leader, and the Court Street Unit, Mrs. J. C. Wilson, leader, gathered, with the men in attendance acting as hosts.

A program with the following participating was presented; Miss Helen Andrews, piano solo; West Side Glee Club quartette, several selections; Marian Shaffer, readings; Levina McConahy, vocal numbers accompanied at piano by Beulah Kemp; steel string trio, choice selections Each one performed splendidly, and their efforts were shown appreciation by the applause of the large gathering.

Following the social period, the men presided at the various small tables, which had been prettily decorated with flowers and tapers where they served refreshments. Approximately 150 guests were served.

At the close of the evening, a nice silver offering was taken up for the building fund.

E. T. W. KENSINGTON LUNCHEON DELIGHTFUL

Mrs. H. A. Donaldson and Mrs. J. W. McCreary proved charming hostesses Thursday afternoon when they entertained associates of the E. T. W. Kensington in the home of the former on Park avenue at a prettily appointed 1 o'clock luncheon. The large table was nicely arranged in tones suggestive of the season, and a delicious menu was served. A bowl of pink roses formed the atractive centerpiece, and miniature dolls dressed in dainty frocks made by Mrs. McCreary, were the favors found at each place.

During the balance of the afternoon, the guests participated in a Japanese ball game with prizes going to Mrs. J. H. Gilfillan and Mrs. C. L. Snyder.

They adjourned to meet Thursday February 11 with Mrs. W. H. Gillespie, 317 Rhodes place with Mrs. C. H. Milholland as associate hostess.

Card Party

A delightful Five Hundred card party was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Michael Lastorio of Croton avenue, under the auspices of the Children of Mary Sodality of Croton avenue, with eleven tables in play.

The first prize went to Antonetta DeSalva, the second to Marie Pavia and the third to Alice Massaro. Music on the accordian was furnished by Miss Martha Colaluca. Dainty refreshments were served late in the evening, with dainty valentine tones prevailing.

The committee in charge consisted of the Misses Victoria Micco, Elizabeth Lastorio, Lavina Pia, Annetta Morgan, Rose DeSalva and Lucy Nardi. Mrs. Joseph Panella was a special guest.

Honored At Shower

Mrs. Etta Chamberlin of West State street entertained a group of young guests in her home Thursday evening in honor of Miss Laura Mae Marr who will enter nurses training at the Homeopathic hospital at Pittsburgh. The hours were spent informally with chat and music, and at a suitable time, the honored one was showered with a collection of dainty and useful gifts.

Lunch was served at a late hour by the hostess assisted by Mrs. John Jones and Mrs. Margaret Grittie. The seasons tones prevailed through out in the appointments.

Luncheon Guests

Mrs. Lyle C. Hughes, Clenmore bollevard, had as luncheon guests recently, by A. W. Arbuckle, Mrs. Norman Eckman and daughter Phyllis and Mrs. Everett Bedell, all of Youngstown, O.

MRS. C. F. FLANNERY HOSTESS TO CLASS

Thursday afternoon Mrs. C. F. Flannery, North Mercer street was hostess to the members of the Epworth Women's class of the Epworth Methodist church, with thirty five members enjoying an informal afternoon of companionship.

Mrs. Maude Montgomery presided and Mrs. Hogue opened the meeting with a devotional period and after business had been discussed the program chairman, Mrs. H. E. Marshall, introduced Mrs. W. H. Shipler, who entertained with a number of readings.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Flannery at the close of the afternoon and the women departed, to meet again February 11.

ELECTION HELD BY R. F. U. CLASS

Election of officers was the principal item of interest transacted at the meeting of the R. F. U. Class of the Emanuel Evangelical church held last evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hafer of 411 Sampson street.

Miss Katherine Tartler was re-elected president for the coming year. Other officers named were: Vice president, Mrs. Helen Thompson; secretary, Miss Rose Seiler; treasurer, Mrs. Daniel Linz, and publicity chairman, Miss Tartler.

Two new members were admitted, Miss Anna Withers and Harry Diehl. After the business session, a social period was enjoyed when games were played. Later the hostess was assisted in serving delicious refreshments by Miss Rose Sopp. The next meeting will be held at the Irene Maitland Deaconess Home on February 11 with Miss Anna Withers as hostess.

Happy Makers Club

Members of the Happy Makers Club met in regular session Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Theresa Ventura, Maitland street.

The devotional period was led by Miss Theresa Pusella, and a business period followed, with the president, Theosa Vitelili in charge. Matters of interest were brought up and discussed.

During the social hours the members were given an enjoyable surprise when a program especially arranged by the hostess was presented. Miss Margaret De Stafano and Miss Jennie Marcella sang, with Miss Edith De Carbo as the accompanist.

The hostess served delicious refreshments and the girls departed for their homes, to meet January 20 at the home of Theresa Pusella.

1929 Bridge Club

Most delightful was the meeting Thursday afternoon of the 1929 Bridge Club members when they gathered in the home of Mrs. Fred Flowers on Second street for a period of socialability. The guests were served a delicious luncheon at 1 o'clock at a table beautifully appointed in tones of the season. Covers marked for 8. Following, the usual routine of business was efficiently carried out, and a contest in cards whiled away the remaining hours. Mrs. J. P. Walter and Mrs. R. G. Clark were awarded the prizes for high and low honors.

As a special guest, the club had Mrs. Harry Reynolds.

They departed, agreeing to meet again Thursday, February 11, with Mrs. R. G. Clark on North Cedar street.

One-Eleven Club Meets

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Krah, Euclid avenue, entertained the One-Eleven Club members in their home last evening with cards forming the main pastime. The earlier hours were spent in the contest, and at the close of play, lovely awards were made to Mrs. Matthew Edel and P. S. Ewaver for honors. Dainty refreshments were later served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. C. F. Kimmell. Tones in the appointments used were in keeping with the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Edel of Shaw street will extend hospitality to the club in their home on Thursday, January 28.

Jolly Twelve Club

Mrs. Charles Gardner proved a pleasing hostess when she entertained members of the Jolly Twelve Club at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. B. McConnell on Beckford street Thursday at their usual social session. A short business period was held with Mrs. Albert Perkins, president, in charge, and matters of interest were discussed.

Bingo formed the main diversion and prizes were given to the winners in this contest. Refreshments served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. McConnell, brought the evening to a close.

In two weeks Mrs. John Lusk of Young street will entertain in her home.

Modern Bridge Club.

A 1 o'clock tureen luncheon marked the meeting of the Modern Bridge club members Thursday afternoon, when they met at the home of Mrs. John Cunningham, Delaware avenue. This was an annual affair and proved most enjoyable. A delectable menu was served and the table was nicely decorated for the occasion. Mrs. Harry Stenger and Mrs. Charles Freeman assisted with the menu.

At an appropriate time the guests indulged in a cards contest with prizes being presented to the winners at the conclusion of play. On January 20 Mrs. William Confer of Grant street will be club hostess.

Colonial Club

Miss Fannie Manto, East Home street, received the Colonial Club members in her home Thursday evening. The hours were spent informally with cards, three tables being in play, with the prize for honors going to Mrs. Charles Ross. At a late hour lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Edward Terreria. Places marked for a full membership and one guest Mrs. Helen McDevitt.

On February 4 the club will gather at the residence of Mrs. Titus Conti, South Mill street.

LUNCHEON EVENT FEATURES MEETING

A pretty luncheon event of Thursday was that in the home of Mrs. H. L. Stewart, Croton avenue, when she entertained the members of the A. C. T. Class of the First Christian church, with Mrs. Frank Taylor, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Jesse Rice as associate hostesses.

The table decorations added greatly to the enjoyment of the event. A rose bowl centered the table and from this long stemmed talisman roses displayed their rich colors, which were carried out in the tall tapers, which burned at the ends of the table. Places were arranged for twenty.

Mrs. Percy Walls presided at the following business meeting and the women reported on the welfare work being carried on and donated further funds to aid several families. They also arranged for sending blankets to the Cleveland orphanage, which is supported by the local church.

Mrs. John Butler, and Mrs. M. Reeves of Pittsburgh were special guests.

February 11 the class will be entertained in the home of Mrs. B. F. Butler, North Jefferson street.

Marriage Of Interest

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Grace M. Nickel, daughter of Mrs. Emma M. Nickel of 1011 North Jefferson street to Charles Brandon Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Baker of Zellenople, Pa.

The wedding took place at Point Pleasant, New Jersey, August 12, 1931, with the Rev. C. R. Wickett of the First Christian church officiating with the ring ceremony.

The couple were unattended.

The bride is a graduate of the New Castle Senior High School class of 1929 and attended Slippery Rock State Teachers College.

The groom is affiliated with the State Highway Department.

They will reside for the present at the home of the groom's parents at Zellenople, Pa.

Dinner Tonight.

Arrangements are all completed for the entertainment of the various choirs of the First Presbyterian church this evening in the church dining room.

The activities will begin at 6 o'clock with a dinner, which is sponsored by the music committee, as an appreciation of the splendid services of these groups in presenting such splendid programs during the holidays.

HIGHLAND BOOK CLUB LUNCHEON

A beautifully appointed 1 o'clock luncheon featured the meeting of the Highland Book Club members Thursday afternoon, when they were entertained at the home of Mrs. W. H. Lee, Delaware avenue. A delicious menu was served to fifteen at a large table prettily arranged in the season's tones.

Following, the usual exchange of books occurred and the remaining hours were spent informally with bridge.

On Thursday, January 28, the club will be received by Mrs. Herb McGoun on Lincoln avenue.

Gramoda Kensington

The Gramoda Kensington members were delightfully entertained Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Robert Grooms, Greenwood avenue, at a 6 o'clock tureen dinner. A delicious menu was served at a large table nicely decorated, where places marked for seven guests. The following hours were spent informally with sewing and social chat.

During the business period, plans were made for a theatre party to take place on Thursday afternoon, January 21.

The next regular gathering in two weeks, will be held at the home of Mrs. George Thomas, Logan street.

Queen Sewing Circle

Mrs. Ed Blaine of Dewey avenue received members of the Queen Sewing Circle in her home Thursday afternoon. The hours were whiled away with fancywork and quilting, and at the close of the afternoon the hostess served a dainty repast. Mrs. Fred Kennehan assisted with the menu.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks with Mrs. William Campbell on Scott street.

STEPHENSON CIRCLE HAS MUSICAL PROGRAM

Members of the Stephenson Circle of the First Methodist church assembled at the home of Mrs. Charles Rheinhardt, 1314 Delaware avenue, Thursday evening.

Mrs. Ida Paisley led the devotional opening and Miss Cordelia Roberts gave a splendid review of the mission study book. Miss Beulah Magruder gave the story from "The Friend" after which a splendid musical program was rendered.

Miss Elizabeth Harvard pleased with several vocal numbers and was called upon for more and Mrs. Edna Payne and daughter Ruth entertained with piano numbers in duet and solo forms.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and her committee after little Kathryn Wilcox had given several splendid readings.

Mrs. J. K. Hess, 225 Garfield avenue, will be hostess to the Circle on February 11.

Attend Funeral

Mrs. S. W. Manning, Hamilton street, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dunkerly, Scott street, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kirkwood, Scott street, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dunkerly, Hoover Heights, Mr. and Mrs. John Dunkerly, Rose avenue, Mr. and Mrs. George Dunkerly, Adams street, and Mrs. Sadie Parker, Stoneboro, were at Sandy Lake Thursday, attending the funeral of a relative.

Evening Party

Thursday evening R. G. Thompson, district manager of the Electrolux company, invited the salesmen and their wives to the offices and here an evening of informal sociability was held, with a three piece orchestra furnishing music throughout the hours.

F. S. Crabb, Pittsburgh, district manager, was a special guest and gave a splendid talk to the group.

HUGHES FOR U. S. STEEL HEAD

NEWS reports from New York to the effect that J. Lamont Hughes, head of the Carnegie Steel company is a leading possibility for selection by the directors as president of the United States Steel corporation are received with enthusiasm in New Castle and this Shenango Valley.

The vacancy as president of the Steel corporation is to be filled shortly, because of the resignation of James A. Farrell, who has held the office for the past 21 years.

In looking around for a successor, it is but natural that the eyes of the leaders in the steel industry should fall upon Mr. Hughes, now president of one of the greatest of the subsidiary branches of the giant corporation.

Mr. Hughes is occupying his present position because of sheer merit, having worked his way up from the ranks, and during his long association with the Carnegie Steel company has demonstrated that he is of the calibre to be promoted to the leadership of the giant industry.

Many in New Castle who knew Mr. Hughes when he was a newsboy in this city, will watch with great interest the selection of Mr. Farrell's successor, but with a confidence that the choice will be Mr. Hughes.

THE DIM, DISTANT PAST

In a certain section of Missouri two young lads are walking six miles to and from their country schoolhouse every day. And a number of newspapers in that state have seen fit to give the boys considerable publicity for what is termed an "unusual" feat.

We suppose it is unusual for this modern era. But somehow, we fail to see in what respect the two youths are deserving so much praise.

For in pre-modern times—25 years ago and even less—the practice of walking long distances to school each day was part of the daily routine for thousands of young men and women. The "little red schoolhouse" was common then, too, and many of its students had to travel long distances for the education it provided.

But those students got no newspaper notices of the "feats." The long daily walks, often under extremely adverse weather conditions, were taken as a matter of course.

And it seems to us that there is no cause for decrying the changes which have made this arduous form of self-transportation passe—other than the opinion that the long walks to and from the schoolhouse made the boy or girl appreciate educational opportunities more than do many public school pupils of today. The Little Red Schoolhouse and the long trips its occupants had to make are symbols of what seems a dim and distant past to 95 per cent of the modern schoolboys and schoolgirls.

UNCLE SAM IN BUSINESS

Because of the apathy of business men and others who should be alert to the menace of governmental interference with private enterprises, a small but aggressive minority in congress is making progress in its attempt to socialize all American industries.

These advocates of government operation of business and industry have already placed severe burdens upon private enterprises through excessive regulation, as a first step toward their goal. In order to further harass these enterprises a multitude of government bureaus, commissions, boards and other agencies have been set up, with their army of political job holders to inspect, investigate and intimidate.

If these tactics shall succeed in destroying private business, the road to government operation and socialism will be open. This, of course, is the ultimate object of the whole scheme. And if it succeeds we shall all be slaves to an all-powerful political machine like that which is enslaving the people of Russia today.

Experience has demonstrated that governmental conduct of business is inefficient or wasteful, or both. Our experiment with government operation of the railroads during and after the war is an example. Our Post Office Department now shows a yearly deficit of $150,000,000. We have squandered $250,000,000 or more through the government's excursion into the cotton and wheat markets. We have wasted many millions in reclamation schemes for the purpose of bringing more land under cultivation to increase the agricultural surplus. We have borne enormous losses in the shipping business. And so on.

The tragic aspect of all this is that the consequences of these follies must be borne by the taxpayers, whose private businesses have been injured and in some cases virtually destroyed by the federal government. Socialistic experiments in many of the individual states have had the same inevitable results.

It is time that every citizen who believes in the encouragement of private enterprise and individual effort should protest against the encroachments of government in business. The place to protest is at the ballot box. Relegate the socialistic politicians to private life and keep them there.—Marcy B. Darnall, Herald, Florence, Alabama.

All Of Us

Give Us Something to Chew On
I Was Scolded
Did I Deserve It?

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I have been scolded—and I can't decide whether I deserve it or not.

All I did was write an article in which I asked, "Why do we like to remember our moments of pain and terror?"

I remembered how I felt when friends of my boyhood were killed or drowned; I remembered my father's death; I remembered one bloody and terrible and exciting day in the war, and I wondered if we human beings are not tougher than they think they are. "We do not shrink from the worst we have known," I wrote. "Almost we glory in it."

But a fine woman wrote to rebuke me. She told me to look for the eighth verse of the fourth chapter of Philippians and where Paul said: "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good spirit; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

And she tells me "it is dreadful to prostitute the mind to harboring in thought awful experiences instead of keeping man's highest faculty clean and pure and splendid for clear and constructive thinking, the precedent of every good work."

But I am stubborn. I know that this happy woman speaks the truth, but still I do not believe that she speaks the whole truth. I know that sometimes a quarrel clears the air and draws two who love each other closer together than they were before.

I know that sometimes there is a sweet release through tears.

I know that after pain there is sometimes peace.

I know that after you have gone through tragedy, mimicked on the stage or felt in real life, pity and fear and pain and terror act as a great catharsis for the soul. And I firmly do believe that sometimes in our moments of weakness and doubt we may summon strength to our aid through remembrance of days when we encountered terror and were not affrighted.

Remembering the dreadful past may be heroic treatment for the ills that afflict us in the present, but is it not sometimes good to be reminded that, after all, we are Men and Women who can be strong when strength is needed? We want Something to Chew On!

REAL PEOPLE

The backbone of the nation is the happy-hearted throng
Or ordinary people who go swinging right along.
They live in modest houses and they work from day to day
And the papers never notice what they do or what they say.
For they're always keeping busy at life's commonplace affairs,
Planning futures for their children and what golden dreams are theirs!

They are settled in their habits and their views of wrong and right.
They are simple folks and friendly and they're often home at night.
They keep little backyard gardens and the mothers stitch and sew,
And the fathers all are saving for some joy they want to know.
They deal with hurt and sorrow with a faith they've learned to hold,
And they're patient with their children and they're mindful of the old.

They are honest with their neighbors, and they're honest in their play,
They are fond of mirth and music in a simple sort of way.
They believe in God and serve Him, and you'll notice as a rule
They always send their children to a nearby Sunday school;
And in spite of all the sneering of the scornful or the base,
The simple, sturdy people are the backbone of the race.

ANOTHER ONE

Mr. Fred Rentz,
Dear Sir:

I read your valuable paper every day. The other day when you told us about salaries of County officers, you forgot one. What about the probation officer, Jack Dunlap. I am told his salary and fees amount to $200 a month, you know, Fred $3600 a year is a lot of money, he also gets house rent and maintenance free. They tell me that of this amount his wife gets $50 a month. As a tax-payer I am interested in how my money is spent. Could we not find many Lawrence County men who would be glad to fill that office for half that money. Fred, I'm glad you have a paper to keep us informed and when you forget something there is always someone who remembers and helps you out.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

A parson up in the mountain of Virginia was so distressed by the moonshining and the bootlegging and the drinking among his flock that he preached a sermon against liquor.

"I wish there wasn't no liquor on the earth" he declared. "I have wrote a letter to the President of this country asking him to give me a permit to seize all the stills and get into all the warehouses and gather up all the fruit jars filled with the turble stuff. When I get that permit, I'm going to knock all the whiskey barrels in the head and empty all the whiskey kegs and bust all the whiskey jars. And I'm going to pour all that liquor in the river and on Christmas morning you all will see the river flowing red with liquor. That's all I got to say. Let the choir sing now."

The choir leader stepped forward cleared his throat and said "Shall we gather at the River?"

JOE BREAKS OUT

Coaltown, Penn., Jan. 14, 1932

Fred Rentz,
News Company.

I see in one of the more prominent presses of the city where some agitation is being made to change the name of Coaltown to something else. Well I been letting this thing ride on account I been busy with some professional experiments as regards some new cure I been making for liver complaints etcettera but it is time somebody took the bull by the tail & got the same headed off.

Well all I got to say is I been for a good many years building up my business & my customers has got in the habit of coming to Coaltown in large & increasing numbers for the same & if the name was to be changed I ask you how would they know where to come to. My business would be ruined.

Suppose some one which had got himself elected to some political job had been away wasting 4 years in the Pennsylvania legislature & when he come home & got off the train in Mahoningtown the first thing he would want would be some of my goods. So he would say to the paid taxi driver take me right away to Coaltown & the driver would say nothing doing buddy there aint no such place.

It would be just like as if there would be a nice quiet tea room on some terrace of sheep hill where lots of prominent citizens was in the habit of going to the same on off & quiet evenings & then suppose they changed the name of sheep hill to Mount Hops.

Well suppose some prominent citizen should meet you on the corner & you would say hello lets go some place & sit down & smoke etcetera & he would say I dont care to smoke but the rest is all right with me. Let us go up to a tea room which I heard about on sheep hill.

So you walk out there & when you come up the hill you see there one of the village constables from the sheriffs office & you go up to him & say where is the tea room around here & he says dont get funny with me. & you say we aint trying to be funny. We are looking for sheep hill where there is a tea room on some terrace aint this the place. & he would say it would be more sensible if you was to be looking for some sewer manhole which was out of order & disturbing the peace & prosperity of the city. Go on home on account if you spring any more of them bum jokes on me you will get a free ride down town. Sheep hill why there aint any such place.

Them is my sentiments Fred I stick to the same.

Election In New Hampshire Is Surprise To Both Parties

Democratic Victory Believed To Have Emphasized Economic Conditions And Support For Anti-Prohibition Candidate

Some disagreement as to causes is shown in discussions of the victory in New Hampshire of William N. Rogers, wet Democratic candidate for Congress. Recent elections in scattered districts, it is observed, have been favorable to the Democrats, and it is believed by some that the New Hampshire vote, although light, was representative of protest against economic conditions. Mr. Rogers' stand as a wet also is credited with some influence.

"The election demonstrated," according to the MANCHESTER LEADER (Ind.), "that the wave of discontent resulting from the business depression, which made itself apparent in many parts of the country in the regular elections of 1930 and which has been gathering volume in the special Congressional elections, has reached New Hampshire. There have been signs that an upset in this district was within the range of probability, but the extent of the overturn exceeded the expectations of the most optimistic supporters of former Congressman Rogers and of the most pessimistic supporters of former Gov. John H. Bartlett." The Leader also comments on the small number voting and concludes: "It is lamentable that so many voters bear their civic duties so lightly making it necessary to have extraordinary provisions in the way of transportation to and from balloting place to induce them to vote, except in national elections."

"The Democratic victory," in the judgment of the ROCKFORD REGISTER-REPUBLIC (Rep.), "is interesting largely because it is the first major political test of the new year, and because it completes a cycle of Democratic upsets in traditionally Republican districts, including victories in New Jersey, Ohio, Missouri, Texas and Michigan. Previous to the 1930 elections, the Republicans had a clear majority of 100 in the house as a result of the 1928 Hoover landslide."

"If any Republican can miss the significance of the results," says the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE (Rep.) "he must be blind or dreaming. The effects of the economic tide are still running strong against the administration. When to these is added the mounting wrath of the wets, the case is hopeless. * * * * The party plainly faces the hardest kind of fight in the coming election. It needs the strongest political direction at the head of its national committee. It must refuse to compromise the able leadership of Mr. Hoover in the economic field by supporting the beaten cause of the drys. The obvious moral of the New Hampshire result cannot be too soon taken to heart or too effectively acted upon."

"The Republican candidate was a strong one," thinks the NEW YORK SUN (Ind.), "but approximately half of the Republicans of the district declined to go to the polls." That paper holds that "not even George Mosses' talent for humorous paraphrase could turn out a version of the election that would make pleasant reading at the White House." Appraising the victory as "complete and unexpected," the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS (Dem.) feels that "it should be both a challenge and an encouragement to the Democratic party." Reviewing the other overturns, the CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST (Dem.) states: "Michigan, Texas, New Jersey have, in special elections, returned Democrats to take the places of Republicans long representing their districts. And now New Hampshire sends a Democrat to take the seat once filled by Daniel Webster. Now, what do you know about that? It would be good fun to hear the Hon. George H. Moses, Senator from New Hampshire, explaining to the braying 'sons of the wild jackass' how it has come about."

Recalling that New Hampshire "was carried by Woodrow Wilson in 1912 and in 1916, when issues of great moment broke down barriers of political custom," and that "such a crisis again confronts the nation," the ATLANTA JOURNAL (Dem.) remarks that "Democratic success in New Hampshire is another sign of the times, presaging still greater victories on the all-decisive battlefield of 1932." The DAYTON DAILY NEWS (Ind. Dem.) finds that "even the Democratic leaders were surprised at the result," although, "for many years New Hampshire has been drifting slowly away from its political twin, rock-ribbed Vermont." The Daily News concludes that "the administration which presides over a panic in the United States cannot expect to preside over anything very long."

"It may even make George Moses fear that some of the 'sons of the wild jackass' inhabit the Granite State," suggests the HARTFORD TIMES (Ind. Dem.) with the further comment: "The wets will claim that Mr. Rogers' opposition to prohibition had much to do with his victory. But since that is not the new element in the situation and in view of the fact that his principal campaign argument dealt with unemployment and the present unfavorable economic conditions, it is more reasonable to assume that the large shift of votes was in the nature of a protest. For that reason, it is a negative rather than a positive declaration of sentiment."

"Dissatisfaction with economic conditions" is seen by the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL (Ind.) which makes the further comment: "The second reason for the Democratic victory in New Hampshire was the contrasted attitude of the two candidates on prohibition. Mr. Rogers was uncompromising in his opposition to the Eighteenth Amendment, while his Republican opponent, ex-Governor Bartlett, as lately as 1928 had proclaimed himself, a Dry on the public platform, and in the campaign just closed went only so far in modification of this position as to propose a referendum. Thus his actual stand was more or less confused and the swift-running current of Repeal helped the Democratic standard-bearer along."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ONE OF THEM

There are many New Castle men yet alive who remember Alexander Peacock, together with the others, steel kings and princes of Western Pennsylvania. Harry Alloway tells a good yarn about "Aleck" Peacock in the Wall Street Journal.

"Alexander Peacock, whom Henry Frick disliked and whom Andrew Carnegie made a millionaire, became a Wall Street figure following the 1901 flotation of United States Steel. As a practising Scotchman, working in a Pittsburgh linen shop, he gained the patronage of the Carnegie family by knack of bargain exhibiting salesmanship, which the alert steel master recognized as raw material capacity worth appreciating; and the smooth-tongued counterman got opportunity to exchange retailing thread for wholesaling steel rails."

"But gustoed good morninging wasn't the taste of Henry Frick, and when one day Aleck Peacock bought himself a home next door to Frick's, another day witnessed the building of a high brick wall betwixt. Peacock affected to be jaunty; but how deep the gesture slashed became a saddening experience for everybody else in the big company's management, for Peacock dirged his grievances unsparingly."

"Came along the letting of the first New York subway contract for over 60,000 tons of top-priced structural steel, millions of dollars of

YOUR DUTY

Among your friends are those whom you realize to be slipping physically.

Whatever you do, don't mention the facts to them.

Don't let your manner indicate sympathy.

It may be a shock to you to see a friend of many years whose cheeks are sunken, whose color indicates disease, whose step falters.

Nevertheless, if you are well, it is your obvious duty to do what you can to bolster the courage and strengthen the morale of your friend.

Even though you cannot help comparing the present conditions with the former vigor, don't by word or action let your thoughts be suspected.

You are bound to be in the same boat some time.

Think what would help you most.

Wouldn't it be encouraging to see your friends act natural?

Wouldn't it be better for them to talk about what interests them outside of the sick room rather than talk about your "condition"?

Bring up some of the happy things that you have experienced together.

"Seeing you reminds me of" is a good start if you remember something jolly or interesting to you both.

Don't depress an invalid with a long face and spiritless manner.

Captain Edgar Guerard Hamilton Explains French Foreign Legion

WILL ENTERTAIN SMEDLEY BUTLER

Dinner and conference meeting of Shenango Valley Chapter, Reserve Officers Association, held on Thursday night at The Castleton, was an outstanding meeting of the chapter and a number of matters of intense interest featured it.

Annual election of officers resulted in the selection of First Lieutenant Paul A. Welsh of this city being selected as president of the chapter. Other officers elected were as follows: First Vice-President, Second Lieutenant Harry Offutt of Butler, Pa.; Second Vice President, Lieutenant D. D. Donley, Sharon; Secretary, Second Lieutenant Fred J. Blaha, New Castle and Treasurer. First Lieutenant Floyd D. Perrine, New Castle.

At the business session, it was unanimously voted to hold the next dinner meeting on February 5 and have as the guest of the chapter on that occasion, General Smedley Butler, who is in the city on that evening.

Major W. F. Jackson spoke at the business session in behalf of a determined effort on the chapter to increase its membership and also relative to both the state and national conventions of the Reserve Officers Association, which will be held in Pittsburgh this year.

Captain J. J. Firestone of the 99th Division Headquarters, at Pittsburgh was present and in charge of the conference and credits those in attendance receive on their records.

Captain Hamilton Speaks

Captain Edgar Guerard Hamilton, guest speaker of the evening, held this large group of reserve officers in an intensely interested attitude for more than an hour with his discussion of the French Foreign Legion, of which he is the only American Officer, bringing to this group of interested service men, the real picture of the most unusual group of soldiers in the world.

He expalined the history of the Legion from its inception slightly more than a hundred years ago, told of its numbers, the types of men to whom it appeals and who are in its ranks, its traditions, discipline and what it means to France.

One of the interesting things brought out is the fact that the French Legionnaire, is not concerned in the matter that he is fighting under the French Flag, in fact that has little or no sentimental attachment for him. The man in the legion is fighting for the traditions and honor of the legion, not for any country or flag.

Speaking of the fact that he had been criticized for his statement relative to the standing of the English members of the legion and the type of soldiers they make, he said "Any man may make a bad soldier, regardless of his nationality. When I said the English made poor soldiers in the Legion, I was misunderstood. I did not infer or mean to, that the English Soldier in the legion was cowardly or was not game in actual fighting. What I did mean was that those Englishmen we receive are never happy or satisfied with their condition, always complaining and finding everything wrong. This is probably due to the fact that we do not receive the best type, in all probability, of English soldiers."

The guest list at the meeting of the Reserve Officers last night included the following: First Lieutenant John D. Kennedy, Financial Reserve Headquarters Third Corps; First Lieutenant J. R. Sharp, 395th Infantry; First Lieutenant R. H. Simmons, 523rd Coast Artillery; Second Lieutenant R. P. Brown, 201st Infantry; Second Lieutenant C. B. Book, Q. M. C.; Major C. E. Imbrie, Medical Reserve; Captain Paul K. McGill, Engineer Reserves; Captain W. F. Pohl, Medical Reserve; First Lieutenant A. Laird, Medical Reserve, 140st Service Unit; Second Lieutenant H. A. Offutt, Infantry Reserve.

Second Lieutenant H. A. Solsberg, 395th Infantry; Colonel D. A. McQuiston, 395th Infantry; Major J. R. Cooper, Medical Reserve; First Lieutenant Robert A. Eckles, Engineer Reserve; Second Lieutenant Frederic M. Smith, Engineer Reserve; First Lieutenant Joseph Cowan, Jr., 395th Infantry; Captain John B. Bretell, Cavalry Reserve; Captain Howell J. Jenkins F. A. Reserve; Second Lieutenant Fred J. Blaha, 395th Infantry; First Lieutenant P. G. Dingledy, 314 Cavalry; Major R. C. Lutz, Dental Reserve.

Captain Walter K. Smith, 395 Infantry; First Lieutenant F. D. Perrine, Engineer Reserve; Lt. Col. J. P. Leaf, Engineer Reserve; Captain James J. Firestone, U. S. A.; First Lieutenant Paul A. Welsh, 571st F. A.; Major William F. Jackson, Dental Reserve; Captain C. R. Sowash, Q. M. C.; First Lieutenant Robert M. Strickler, Jr., Infantry Reserve; Second Lieutenant Howard T. Lorue 523 C. A.; Second Lieutenant Russell T. Jones, 503 C. A.; Second Lieutenant Wernet M. Baker, 395 Infantry; First Lieutenant William Best, 396 Infantry; Captain R. L. Montag, 396 Infantry; First Lieutenant Eugenio Bintrago, Jr., 22nd Engineers; Major Lewis E. Burnsides, 22nd Engineers; Captain Louis E. Saver, F. A.; First Lieutenant John H. Chiles, Jr., 375 Engineers; H. K. Bell; Captain R. P. Phillips, C. S. A. C.; Second Lieutenant R. C. Sepic, 324 Engineers; F. D. Campbell, Medical Reserve; Lieutenant J. W. Thompson, 1301 Service Unit; Lieutenant Roland Haines, 395 Infantry; Lieutenant L. C. Barnhart, 99th Signal company; Lieutenant Frank Y. Sargent, Q. M. C. 99th Division.

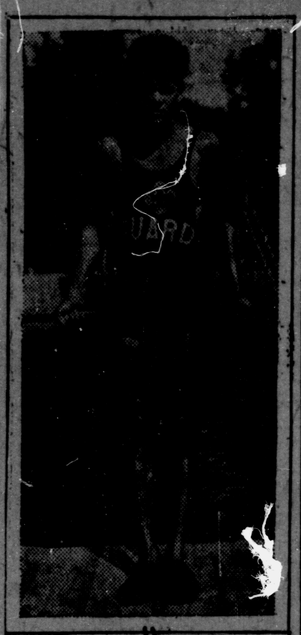
From Guard To Warden Is Record Of Jack Hulme



JACK HULME

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 15.—By virtue of his fine cockney accent, probably learned in France where he met many British soldiers during the World war, Jack Hulme, physical education director and swimming instructor at Westminster college, won a roll in "Escape", three act play produced last night in the Community House.

Hulme made his dramatic debut as a jail warden at the request of Professor A. T. Cordray, director of dramatics. With Hulme as wardens were Harry Dobkin, Pittsburgh and Professor Cordray.

Students and faculty members were congratulating Hulme today on his first appearance as a thespian. His versatility as team trainer, Boy Scout leader, swimming coach, life guard nad arm-chair philosopher was enhanced by his most recent activity.

metal expenditure called for. Pittsburgh was exercised. Engineers and bankers and railway officialdom throughout stood stout against promising even a slice of award to Carnegie mills. Inquiries by Mr. Frick himself were shunted aside.

"Here's my chance!" The buffeted salesman monologued excitedly; and nobody minded. What the smoothest and foremost of steel barons could not approach was hardly a shining prospect for an "accidental lad from Dundee" that the lightsome nickname popularly registering Aleck Peacock. The little man wandered over to the Duquesne Club, intent upon a late solitary supper."

"Hello Scotty!" was hurrahed to him at the grill's entry, a New Yorker, framed for his high finance intimacies, seeming simultaneously to be arriving for the elf gormandizing rite. 'Hello Scotty! I'm about to break your heart. . . . Come on in and pay my dinner check!"

"Mr. Peacock may have winced, but twas lost in his fervors over that mocking New Yorker prize; and he volleyed:"

"If I could even land a wee bit of that contract I'd be a winner for sure . . . why, man, in a half dozen years I'd make a quarter of a million dollars."

"Well, you won't be making a quarter of a cent, at your endless-chain wailing and shivering. Here, Roderick D'hu, you're missing my meal ticket!"

"You are an awful trial man," Peacock shuddered . . . 'And what a whetted appetite;" he added, glimpsing the cafe slip's figures. 'Frank Robinson, one of these days you'll die a'dining!"

"Come over to New York on the midnight train with me," guest soothed "and Aleck, I'll show you a trick or two at steel sale missionarying. I've got a friend you'll like . . . he buys his own suppers!"

"Friend was Richard Croker, that civic service gentleman who in later time confided to an investigating committee that the habit he was best at was 'working for my own pocket'."

"Alexander Peacock, though it has been said that Henry Frick did not grow fraternal, made in his "next half dozen years" not the $250,000 he had yearned for, but twenty-five times that."

Oil City Ministers Seek Disarmament

OIL CITY, Jan. 15.—A resolution pleading for world disarmament, unanimously adopted by the ministers of Oil City, was forwarded to President Herbert Hoover. It said:

"In view of the terrible price of war in human suffering and loss, and that the major nations have by action made war to be an outlaw, the churches of Oil City, Pennsylvania, represented in this union service of prayer, would urgently plead through the President of the United States of America that no effort be spared in order to attain disarmament for the whole world."

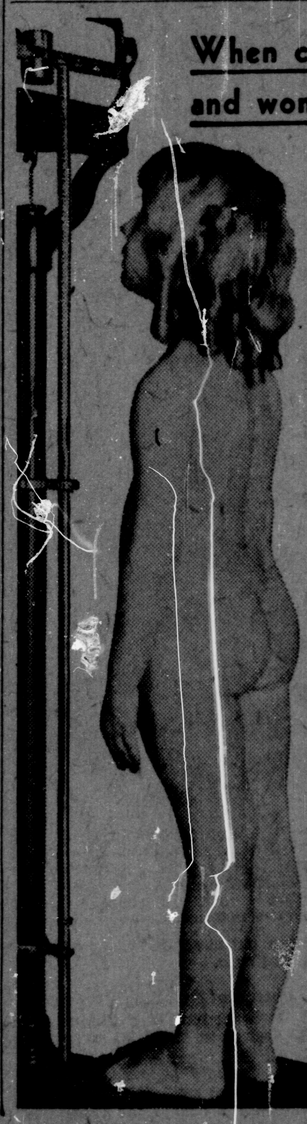
SECOND PAYLESS PAYDAY.

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—For the second time recently some 26,000 employees of the city and county of Philadelphia saw a payless payday. The city treasurer's office was without sufficient funds with which to meet its semi-monthly pay roll of approximately $1,700,000. The only hope of the employees was that the last minute tax payments, sent through the mails, might reach record proportions.

Of course women are more efficient. Whoever heard tell of a man who could wash his face with mud?



When children won't eat— and won't gain weight—

Try This!

The youngster who has no appetite, probably has stasis. A little fig syrup will soon correct this condition—then watch the child eat—and gain!

Mothers should never coax a child to eat. Nature knows best. Remove the cause of a youngster's poor appetite—get rid of stasis. Children who don't eat are sluggish. Read what the "California treatment" is doing for sluggish, listless children in every part of the country!

A Pound a Week

Your child will eat well from the day and hour you conquer sluggishness. But that girl or boy with furry tongue and a bad breath should not be dosed with salts!

Begin tonight, with enough pure fig syrup to cleanse the colon thoroughly. Less tomorrow, then every other day, or twice a week, until the appetite, digestion, weight, complexion, tell you the stasis is gone. When a cold or other ailment has again clogged the system, fig syrup will soon set things to right.

When appetite fails, tongue is coated white, eyes are a bilious yellow, California fig syrup will gently stimulate the colon muscles—and the child you used to coax to eat will fairly devour his food.

Just One If—The claims made for California Fig Syrup are true and it will do the same for you—IF you get genuine CALIFORNIA fig syrup. Don't accept any of the substitutes.

Will Not Abate Fight To Obtain Better Streams

Board Never Ceases Effort To Extend Unpolluted Mileage

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14—The Sanitary Water Board of the State of Pennsylvania, charged by law with the control of the purity of all State waters, has never abandoned any stream to pollution, either industrially or otherwise, according to Dr. Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health and chairman of the Board

The classification of the water courses of the State as Class "A" "B" and "C" does not mean that the streams designated as "C" have been forever given over to sewage loads and industrial mining wastes. No stream as yet has been officially designated as a Class "C" stream. Even for stream nominally so designated, there is always hope that some means may be devised to reclaim and purify them and thus permit them to be reclassified as soon as such means make their improvement practicable and desirable, Dr. Appel said.

The fact that the 35,000 miles of so-called class "C" streams are not fishable now, does not by any means indicate that they will not be so at some future time. The constant aim of the Board is to reclaim as much mileage as possible on these waterways and add it to the purer streams of the State.

The Board has, however, faced the fact that certain types of wastes such as bituminous acid mine water cannot be practically controlled so as to render the effluent harmless to fish life. That fact has simply been marked down as a problem to be solved, and every energy of the best minds in the field of chemical research is being devoted to such a solution.

Many people seem to believe that Class "B" streams are so polluted as to be devoid of fish life. This Dr. Appel asserted, is not true. On the contrary, a large percentage of the mileage of Class "B" streams appear to be unpolluted to the casual observer, and of course contain a great many fish. Good sport with rod and line is possible on nearly all of them, and the improvement of their condition in this regard is being constantly sought. It can be shown that Pennsylvania has more than 65,000 miles of fishable waterways at present, with reasonable expectations that this mileage will be increased, according to Dr. Appel.

Influenza Epidemic Grips Great Britain

Report 412 Lives Taken Last Week—London Reports 207 Deaths

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 14—Physicians throughout the country today increased their efforts to check the spread of the current influenza epidemic which took a toll of 412 lives last week, twice as many as during the previous week.

Deaths in London alone totaled 207.

Lord Dawson of Penn, personal physician of King George, advised taking a glass of milk after each meal as a means of warding off the disease.

Rail Freight Men Here Confident Of 'Brighter Business Year' Coming

"The railroad freight business in the New Castle district for 1932 looks considerably brighter" declared a spokesman for the New Castle section of the American Railway Association Thursday, following the group's first meeting of the year at Baltimore & Ohio headquarters here. The meeting brought the local railroad freight agents together for their annual election of officers.

At the meeting, the chief discussion centered about prevailing conditions locally. Each month it is customary for the carriers' representatives to review the past 30 days, but at the conference this week the year of 1931 was analyzed.

"We have every hope that the new year will be far better than '31 was" said the spokesman. "We are confident that things will change."

W. A. Stone, P. & L. E. agent here, and William Bowers, agent of the Erie, were chosen chairman and secretary of the local section, respectively. Mr. Stone served during the preceding year.

Freight agents from every railroad were in attendance at the conference to report the showing of their own road during 1931.

CHECK EATER GIVEN 30 DAY SENTENCE

BELLEVILLE, Ill., Jan. 15.—Lester Byrl, St. Louis, Mo., who is alleged to have put a $30 bogus check in his mouth, chewed it and then swallowed it, when police attempted to arrest him, was sentenced to 30 days imprisonment here recently.

Byrl was sentenced when he pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy.

He is alleged to have attempted to pass a bad check on four Belleville filling station attendants before apprehension. When a deputy sheriff attempted to arrest him, however, Byrl is alleged to have eaten the check.

Nagging Wife Frees Husband

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—A wife who declared her nagging drove her husband to crime has won him probation instead of a penitentiary term.

Superior Judge Thomas P. White produced a letter from Mrs. Evelyn Samman when Frederick Samman, jobless mechanical engineer, appeared in court yesterday on a charge of holding up a gasoline station and taking $18, using an empty revolver.

"We lived on potatoes for a while and when they were gone we lived without them," Mrs. Samman's letter read. I know I nagged and was very disagreeable. I guess I was particularly unpleasant."

"This man was not desperate of himself," the judge said in placing Samman on 10 years' probation. Samman went from custody to a fruit market job.

WAS CONNECTED WITH SCHOOLEY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 15.—Charges of embezzlement were filed against Charles A. Bardolph, president of the closed Franklin Savings and Trust Company, accusing the official of misappropriating $250,000 of the funds of the bank which investigation revealed was closely interlocked with city politics.

Filing of the charges came shortly after secret hearing began before George F. Raylor, Jr., deputy state bank examiner, who summoned Bardolph for questioning.

According to charges made as the result of an audit of the affairs of former City Treasurer Roy D. Schooley, now under indictment the same politicians who secured rebates of their tax penalties and interest were alleged to have been ble to secure huge loans from the bank.

An organization of stockholders of the closed bank charged that as a result of the operations of three officials, a potential loss of $499,000 may result.

Schooley, who is claimed to have deposited city funds in the Franklin Bank without requiring the institution to post proper securities, his chief investigator, Arthur G. Burgoyne, also indicted, and many others are to be questioned in the hearing.

VISITS ROSE AVENUE

Mrs. Gladys Johnston, branch librarian of the city public library, visited the second and third grades at Rose Avenue school Wednesday and spoke to the students about the library. Fifty new registrations were secured.

Philadelphia Is Plenty Broke"

No Money To Buy Stamps To Send Out Water Bills Worth Million

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—Philadelphia has $1,000,000 in water bills all ready to mail, but no stamps and no money to buy them.

Receiver of Taxes Arthur D. Brenner made this startling revelation when he disclosed the city had not money on hand to buy stamps. There will be no funds available either for this purpose until Controller Will B. Hadley opens the city's books for 1932, said Brenner. Meanwhile city council is trying to balance the 1932 budget so Hadley can close the 1931 accounts and start on 1932.

Wheatland Health Officer Is Taken

Death Takes John Scott, 83, One Of Oldest Health Officers In State

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., Jan. 15.—John Scott, 83, of Wheatland, one of the oldest health officers in the state, died Thursday after a short illness.

He served as health officer at Wheatland for the past 11 years.

Man Succeeds, Gets Square Meal In Jail

(International News Service)

CHARLEROI, Pa., Jan. 15.—Joseph Burkett, 26, decided to go to jail as a last resort to obtain three square meals a day.

So Burkett picked up a brick that was lying along the curb in front of the First National Bank of West Newton and heaved it through a window of the bank.

Chief of Police William Evans, standing nearby, witnessed the episode. He arrested Burkett.

"I didn't know any other way of getting in," remarked the prisoner.

New Castle Civic Orchestra To Make Debut On Sunday

Fifty Local Musicians To Presert Concert In Cathedral Auditorium — Offering To Be Taken For Benefit Of Mayor's Relief Fund.

GEORGE ANTHONY — JULIUS V. SYPHER

Preparations have been completed to take care of a capacity crowd at the concert which will be staged Sunday afternoon in the Cathedral, when the first New Castle Civic orchestra will make its debut. The orchestra will present a concert of classical numbers for the benefit of the mayor's relief fund.

Although young in point of the present organization, the members are old in experience for the most part, many of them having been before music loving audiences here many times in the past.

The New Castle Civic orchestra is composed of 50 of the most talented professional musicians of the city. For the past three months they have been rehearsing faithfully for their initial presentation on the coming Sabbath, and those who love good music will not be disappointed in the offerings they have selected.

There will be no admission charged, so that those who like music and cannot afford to give anything need not stay away. A silver offering will be taken, however, and those who can, are asked to give as liberally as possible as the cause is a most worthy one.

There is no expense to the staging of this concert, so that every cent contributed will go direct to the mayor's relief fund, which is badly in need of additional receipts at the present time.

In addition to the orchestral numbers, there will be solo numbers by George Anthony and Richard E. Johns, two of the city's premier soloists; organ numbers by Thomas H. Webber, while George Richardson at the violin will be the concertmeister.

Those attending will be assured of a splendid program with a variety of numbers and a large and appreciative crowd is expected to be in attendance.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

It sounds all right but it doesn't make sense, these tales of early spring robins and the like. Every day somebody has a new tale of something we ought to expect in April or May, and it wouldn't be surprising if the bathing beaches would open before long.

One of the mail carriers, Klingensmith, reports seeing a robin and a flicker, although this isn't the first robin reported. Reports of buds on shrubs and trees are common now, and unless you can report a flower or two it doesn't count in your score.

And Joe Lindsay of Crawford and County Line claims to have a dog and a couple of cats that answer a dinner gong or a bell and they break their own records.

Now if somebody comes in with a story that they saw some snakes who were awakened by the thunder and lightning last night we'll know that if spring isn't here it's on the way.

Even that old legend about the groundhog seems in danger of taking it on the chin. When those thunder claps crashed last night and the lightning lit up the streets somebody remembered that an old time weather snark used to say that it presaged six more weeks of winter.

If the six more weeks are anything like the past six of winter, most of us will be able to stand up under the temperature. When Pennsylvania turns in temperatures of 55 and 60 and upwards in January, nobody needs to start whistling "California, Here I come."

Judge Advocates Citizens Shoot Holdup Bandits

Philadelphia Jurist Believes Bandits Would Cease If Citizens Carried Guns

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—The way to halt crime is to buy a gun and if held up use it, in the opinion of Judge Harry S. McDevitt.

Judge McDevitt, known as "Hard-Boiled Harry" among court attaches, so informed the Fathers' Association of Cheltenham Twp., school at Elkins Part last night.

"All good citizens should buy a gun, get a permit, and if you are held up—use it," advised the judge.

"When gunmen realize they may get what they don't hesitate to give—banditry will cease," he said. "You will probably have to shoot most of them in the back, but shoot them," he continued.

"We must stop giving criminals sentiment. What they need is long sentences. Eighty per cent of the crimes in Philadelphia are robberies and burglaries by gangsters who would rather steal $10 than work for $20."

Special Decree By Bishop Boyle

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 15.—Catholics in the diocese of Pittsburgh, comprising ten Western Pennsylvania counties, today were given permission to eat meat on Fridays which fall on civil holiday dates, by a special decree issued under the seal of Bishop Hugh C. Boyle.

The decree signed by the Rev. J. C. Danner, chancellor of the diocese of Pittsburgh, under direction of Bishop Boyle, will be in effect for a period of five years from October 5, 193[illegible].

Lincoln's birthday, next February 12, will be the first civil holiday date affected by the order.

Almost 600,000 Catholics in Allegheny, Westmoreland, Fayette, Indiana, Armstrong, Butler, Lawrence, Beaver, Washington and Greene counties are affected by the decree.

Man Is Injured By Debris When Home Is Wrecked

Mysterious Blast Wrecks Philadelphia Home, Man Is Trapped Under Debris

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—Buried for five hours when a mysterious blast wrecked his home here, Michael A. Zdanowski, 50, was rescued early today and rushed to Frankford hospital unconscious from injuries.

Cause of the explosion which virtually blew the house to bits, was undetermined.

Zdanowski was alone at home, was buried under tons of debris and saved from death by a joist which fell over him, shielding him partially from collapsing walls. Fire which broke out after the explosion nearly cost his life and only after frantic efforts did firemen extricate the trapped man.

Thousands of persons gathered to watch the dramatic race with death. Zdanowski's wife, who was absent at the time, was unable to give police any explanation of the explosion.

Welsh News

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS
(Brython)

I am very glad and proud to say that there is a feast of good things awaiting the members and friends of the Emmanuel Baptist church next Sunday evening when the junior choir of the church under the direction of Bryn Hughes will give another sacred concert. The event starts at 7:30 o'clock.

A letter came to hand this week from the Welsh veteran, Thomas Edwards of Pico, Cal., stating that he and his family visited the old friend, Harry Bonna, who used to live on East Long avenue years ago. He is in the Long Beach hospital where his leg was operated on. The letter states that he is improving.

News has been received of the death of one of the leading preachers in Wales, Rev. Forwerth Jones of Masteg, South Wales. Rev. Jones visited New Castle many years ago. He spoke at the Emmanuel Baptist church during his visit here.

Word has been received from David Rees Jones of Lady Lake, Fla., saying that he is having a good time with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Shaddich.

William H. Richards is organizing a choir to compete in the Warren Eisteddfod May 7.

Very sorry to state that Griffith Phillips is still on the sick list.

UNDERTAKERS OFF SUNDAY.

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash.—Seattle undertakers started the New Year off by voting themselves a day of rest. Sunday, hitherto their busiest day, was the day selected. The move was made due to the number of people who visit the cemeteries on Sunday, whose sorrows might be increased as funeral processions recalled sad memories. Clergymen also favored the decision as Sunday rites often interfered with regular church services.

Defendant Given Verdict In Case

Harry McCormick Wins In Suit Brought By Gennaro Cioffi; Other Cases

In the case of Gennaro Cioffi against Harry McCormick, which was tried before Judge R. L. Hildebrand, in county court the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant. The case was one in which Cioffi claimed that a wagon driven by his fifteen year old son, was struck by a truck driven by McCormick on the Butler road. Cioffi's horse had a leg broken and had to be killed and his wagon was smashed. McCormick denied that he was negligent, and claimed negligence on the part of the driver of the wagon.

When the case of George Elia against Kathy Germanovich was called for trial before Judge Hildebrand, the plaintiff failed to appear, and a motion for compulsory nonsuit on the part of defendant was granted.

Steve Fleisher also failed to appear as a prosecutor in a case against Sarah M. Herman and Judge Chambers granted a nonsuit.

In the case of William H. Dunlap, use of Louis P. Dean against Dominick Sylvester, growing out of a dispute over the payment of a mortgage, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1,342.47. The case was tried before Judge Chambers.

GIVE WARNING OF CHECK PASSERS

Warning has been received by the local police department to be on the lookout for persons attempting to pass checks on the state department of highways. Two have been passed in the eastern part of the state. In the first place, the department of highways does not issue checks. The checks are drawn on the Harrisburg Guarantee Title and Trust Company, which does not exist. Both passed so far have borne the number 1638. They are made payable to William L. Ford and signed John L. Borden, secretary and C. W. McConley, treasurer.

"The way I figure is this: A fellow don't spend so much on himself but what he can afford to enjoy the best in smokes.

"Myself ... I smoke Chesterfields. They cured me of rollin' my own. First off, you get better tobacco.

"I'm not knockin' the makin's ... but it stands to reason Chesterfields wouldn't be where they are today if they didn't give you the finest tobacco. I like their aroma.

"Plenty of Turkish in Chesterfields ...and you don't get that in the makin's.

And there must be something about the blend, too ... you can't get a milder, better taste ... not anywhere!

"Got a right good opinion of myself, but I don't figure I'm as clever as those cigarette-making machines. Every single Chesterfield is round and filled right ... beats anything you can roll yourself. Besides, it smokes cooler and lasts longer. I've tried both, so I know."

MY NEW YORK
BY JAMES ASWELL

By Central Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 15—It seems the Culbertson-Lenz bridge tournament lasted a trifle too long to hold the fevered suspense of the early sessions. The finale didn't have the bang-up splash effect augured by ballyhoo at the beginning. Maybe such gladiatorial tilts need a quick and puncky finish—say, in 50 or 75 rubbers—to achieve the ideal box office. It's curious too, that none of the contract friends I know changed systems because of the outcome. In a great many homes auction is still played while contract is talked about.

AUTO SHOW A MAGNET

All the regular trains into New York carried additional sleeping and coach cars to take care of the auto show influx. The show itself offered numbers of strange and informing sidelights upon this tumultuous time. The top-hatted and bejeweled contingent was not so much in evidence this year, while the fabled man-in-the-street turned out in all his strata to see and tinker with gadgets and marvel and yearn.

More than that. He came, too, to buy. Automobiles for folks of moderate means are in unprecedented abundance this year. Incidentally, I could not help the feeling that the auto show was one of the most effectual depression tonics yet found. There people could gaze upon, could touch, the shining toys which await them, if not now, then around that corner which had been mentioned so stressedly that it had become unreal.

Mournful gentlemen and ladies gazed and remembered high days.

STRAWS IN THE HURRICANE

The press agent for Greta Garbo if she had one, managed her sojourn here with extraordinary skill. Prior to the star's arrival there was a flurry of rumors. She was here. She wasn't here. And so was her Aunt Hepatica. It was great fun. Before she left the paper's leg men were trailing her obsequiously, and the gossip writers were whispering about her on noiseless rant, ma-town should not have been entertained in this fashion, but many a star with just as much fame has arrived and departed with no more than a line and a thumbnail cut in the papers.

I'm wondering who handles La-Garbo's "public relations," as Ivy Lee would say. He ought to have a raise.

"From Lafayette to Lindbergh" might be the motto on the City Hall steps, which have supported 121 years of celebrities. They are now being repaired, and Mayor Walker will have to summon the newsreel boys to another location. Is that Walker vice presidential boom founded on anything save rumor?. .

I'm an old slow-poke at reading books, but I've got around to Rex Stout's "How Like a God". . It's a strangely powerful tome. Ray Perkin's Christmas card, arriving belatedly, is enclosed with a bill for postage, labor, brain-wear, etc., involved in its production. . You wasted your dough, Ray, but cheerio!. . .

And I suppose I forgot to tell you I received a New Year's greeting from a speakeasy in the form of an imitation bank check, which commands the Club So-and-So to pay to the order of cash "Three planters punches". . .Guaranteed not to bounce back, I hope. . .

People's Mission Annual Meeting

Congregation Hears Reports Of Church And Holds An Election Of Officers

The annual meeting of the People's Mission, Sampson street, was held Wednesday evening and reports of the progress of the mission were heard.

It was reported there was an attendance of 5106 during the year 1931 and the financial condition of the group is splendid.

An election resulted in Richard Owrey being elected superintendent; recording secretary, George McCanr treasurer, Robert Gorst, Sr.; pianiste, Mrs. Olive Doutt; assistant, Julia Owrey; trustee, Edward Lout; publicity secretary, Mrs. Harriet Samuels; assistant, C. Byler; janitor, Harry Shaffer.

For the Sunday school Richard Owrey will also be superintendent; Lonzo Murphy, assistant; pianiste, Julia Owrey; assistant, Mrs. M. Hetrick; recording secretary, Joseph Proctor; assistant, Annabelle Gorst; librarians, Irene Gorst and Margaret Johnson.

The question of the Mission affiliating with the Christian and Missionary Alliance church was taken up and discussed, but no decision arrived at.

The Mission organized 37 years ago and in that time have made splendid spiritual progress in the city, with the past year being the most successful year since its inception.

Pennsy's Schedule To Undergo Change

Three Local Trains To Be Dropped Next Sunday; Re-Route 'Express'

While service itself will be improved by the re-routing of the fast "Chicago Express" thru New Castle junction, the Pennsylvania railroad announced that effective Sunday, January 17, three trains running into or out of the city will be discontinued.

Trains No. 815 and 844, New Castle-Orville trains, will be withdrawn along with No. 339, Pittsburgh-Cleveland train thru New Castle junction.

Superintendent H. T. Frushour said the "Chicago Express" will pass thru here about 8 o'clock, arriving in Chicago at 7 o'clock the next morning. Heretofore it has been routed over the Ft. Wayne and Chicago branch via Salem.

Youngstown Youth Held For Murder

John Keenan, 21, Youngstown, Held For Murdering Of "Pal" In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 15.—John Keenan, 21, of Youngstown, O., was held on a murder charge by a coroner's jury Thursday for the fatal shooting of his partner, Austin Cullinan.

accidentally discharged, the bullet striking Cullinan in the forehead and killing him instantly, according to the testimony.

Correct This Sentence: "I never prescribe anything for a patient," said the doctor, "that I wouldn't take myself if I were in his fix."

Wants Testimony Of Prisoners In Trial At Erie

Would Take Two Western Pen Prisoners To Erie Court For Testimony

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 15.—District Attorney Mortimer E. Graham had on file a petition in Erie county court asking temporary release of two men from the penitentiary to testify at an "insurance plot" trial here.

Louis Kaufman, serving from four to eight years in the Allegheny county workhouse and Henry "Blackie" Cornell, serving a similar term in the Western Penitentiary are the witnesses wanted.

Both were sent to jail after being convicted of Arson charges in connection with the firing of several homes in Erie county in order to collect insurance.

The men also face charges with Frank Girardot, insurance adjustor and alleged co-conspirator. Girardot is to be given a hearing on January 29 and the testimony of Kaufman and Cornell is wanted by the prosecuting attorney's office.

That's the happy state of health and pep a man enjoys when he gives his vital organs a little stimulant!

When your system is stagnant and you feel sluggish, headachy, store kegs. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

This appetizing syrup is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. One dose will clear up almost any case of headache, biliousness, constipation. But if you want to keep in fine shape, feel fit the year 'round, take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin every few days. You'll eat better, sleep better and feel better in every way. You will never need to take another laxative.

Give the children a little of this delicious syrup two or three times a week. A gentle, natural stimulant liver and strong bowel muscles that expel every bit of waste and poison every day! Just keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin on hand; take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. See if you don't feel new vigor in every way. Syrup pepsin isn't expensive.

Baptist Class Program Draws Nearly 200 Men

Church Group Assembles For Annual Dinner-Meeting; McAllister Heard

A dinner, musical entertainment and a timely enlightening talk on modern European and Oriental economic conditions provided a full evening last night for the crowd of 189 First Baptist church men who gathered in the church basement for the annual business meeting and election of officers of the congregation's Men's Bible class.

They first enjoyed a sauerkraut menu with all the trimmings, and then eased back in their chairs for the entertaining numbers of a Youngstown musical comedy trio and later sat spellbound for nearly an hour while the Rev. F. B. McAllister, pastor of the Baptist Temple at Youngstown, recited his impressions of a trip he made abroad almost a year ago.

Minister's Message

The Orient is fomenting with unrest and a war among the countries there might be expected at anytime. Conditions there are pitiful and distressing, unlike anything here, even the worst," said McAllister. He spoke at length on the status of the people in both Orient and Europe.

The enjoyable message pictured true conditions and gave to the men who heard him a more understandable view on the progress of the nations abroad.

Attorney Harvey Martin, toastmaster for the evening, introduced the former New Castle pastor. Rev. McAllister left the First Baptist pastorate about 10 years ago.

John Owens, in his customary peppy way, handled the singing of hymns. W. O. "Red" Williams was a capable director of the pep music. Richard E. Johns, local singer contributed several vocal solos.

Choose New Officers

During the business meeting of the class, the president of the past year, George C. Fox, was reelected. Others named were A. Porte, vice president; Howard Ziegler, secretary, William Harris, treasurer, and Harry Turner, assistant treasurer.

Surpassing the class records for every other year, the secretary's report revealed that the average Sunday attendance for 1931 was 128.

With the Youngstown musicians, brought here by J. A. Perry, formerly of this city, appeared the Book-Leyde vocal quartet, this city. Mr. Perry was accompanied here by Glenn Anderson, president of the Men's Bible class of the Youngstown church; and W. Griffith, another leader of the class.

L. W. Houk was in charge of the special entertainment last night.

The duke is shown beside the eight-foot plus sail fish he caught off Palm Beach, Fla., where he is vacationing as the guest of Otto H. Kahn, international financier.

Monks Taking St. Bernards To Himalaya Peaks

Modern Transportation Has Done Away With One Time Need

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 15—Railway tunnels under the Alps, motor highways through the passes—modern transport has largely done away with need for the romantic services of the Monks of St. Bernard.

So the Monks have sought out the highest and wildest mountains in the world—the Himalayas—wherein to extend their work of aiding lost and weary travelers.

The decision to open a hospice high up among the snows that fringe northeast India all year was reached after an expedition by two St. Bernard Monks, Father Molly and Coquoz.

They crossed Lunnan plateau in China to Lolo in Tibet, spending a whole month in the saddle among the ice and rocks of the "roof of the earth."

Finally they came to one terrible pass in which the humble wayfarers often find hardship and sometimes death. "Here," they said, "we shall do our work."

The Order supported their decision.

The work in Switzerland that the Monks have been carrying on since 962 will be continued, as will the assistance given in other countries.

Some of the famous St. Bernard dogs, with their little casks slung around their necks, will be taken to the Himalayas, the monks said.

Designers Move To Put Check On Fashion Piracy

Actual Models And Ideas Should Be Protected

(International News Service)

PARIS, Jan. 15—An attempt to put an end to fashion piracy in Paris will be made by the leading dressmakers who have called a big conference in this city. Proposals will be drawn up for the protection of fashions by a copyright similar to that which protects authors and artists.

The designers believe that not only their actual models, but even the ideas by which they are inspired should also be protected. This will hit many of the smaller dressmakers who, for some years past, have been in the habit of making models embodying the main features of the creations of the big houses.

The copyright proposals are also intended to prevent the wholesale reproduction abroad of French models, the facsimile of which have very often been found in the United States, Great Britain and Germany. In the future, a foreign buyer will perhaps be obliged to pay a heavy fee for the right of reproducing the model which he chooses to buy.

The most difficult problem before the conference will be the exact definition of what has been termed the "copyright of inspiration", which is to protect not only actual models, but designers' ideas.

Bossom, British M. P., Won Fame In U. S. Years Ago

Honored For His Achievements On Two Occasions

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15—Although a native of England, Alfred C. Bossom who was elected to occupy a seat in the British Parliament at the last elections, lived in New York City for twenty-five years and achieved fame as an "American" architect and commentator upon many subjects.

On two occasions he was honored for his achievements, first when he was elected a Fellow of the Royal Institute of British Architects, in 1924, and again several years later when he was awarded the Cross of the Legion of Honor of France. The first honor was for being an outstanding "American" architect, and the second for "encouraging understanding between America and France."

Bossom was particularly well remembered in New England as the architect who drew the plans for the mansion at Round Hills, near New Bedford, occupied by Col. E. H. Green, son of the famous Wall Street figure of years gone by, the late Hetty Green.

Bossom left America five years ago, and upon his departure announced that he planned to bring about a better understanding between the United States and Great Britain.

At one time he staged an exhibition of models of tall buildings to prove that the skyscrapers follow the human anatomy rather closely on the theory of his makeup.

BEAUTIFUL BARMAIDS BANISHED FROM "RULE'S"

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 15—Americans who visit London next season will get a surprise—"Rule's has parted with its beautiful barmaids.

"Rule's," to the uninitiated, is a London hostelry which for 150 years has been famed as possessing the most beautiful barmaids ever gathered together under one roof. Now proprietor Tom Bell has broken the tradition by hanging up a sign "No barmaids." And London's men-about-town are going around with long faces and heavy hearts.

King's princes, actors, artists, judges and just ordinary men have visited "Rule's," gazed at its barmaids, and left to spread their fame far and wide.

The three beauties who formed the last generation of barmaids are gone. Pretty Kathleen Riley has joined the chorus of a musical show on tour; Violet Bullard, brunette, is now at a famous restaurant; and charming Phyllis Sheen is serving her faithful admirers from behind a West End bar.

The only women now employed at the inn are the cashier and Fay Tilley, young widow of Jack Tilley famous vaudeville manager, who has charge of a section on the second floor.

TELEPHONE LIFE LINE

(International News Service)

VALLEY CITY, N. D., Jan 15—You've heard about telephone operators who stuck to their posts while fire raged and thus managed to save innumerable lives. Well, this is another story like that: They were told: "There's a man somewhere in North Dakota. There's serious illness in his family. He must be found." After calling 80 hotels 125 ranches, 90 implement dealers and 50 stores, five operators ended a seven-hour search by locating Carl B. Swanson, at Bowdoin, 95 miles from here. Then they were ordered to tell Swanson the ill person had died.

LIKE KING MIDAS HE TURNED SAND TO GOLD

(International News Service)

NICE, Jan. 15.—Emulating old King Midas, Polish Professor Dunikowski of this city claimed that he converted sand and rock from the Mediterranean shores into gold ingots by subjecting them to electrical treatment and ultra-violet rays.

An experiment, he says, was made in London last year in the presence of English chemical experts, who entered into negotiations with him without success, and later a company was formed in Paris to exploit the process.

The ingots were obtained by passing the earth and rock through a secret electrical process and baking the residuum at a high temperature, finally washing it in sulphuric acid and mercury.

Professor Dunikowski has been put under arrest at Menton until further explanations are forthcoming.

New England To Have Monopoly On Sun's Eclipse

Only Section Of United States Where It Will Be Seen

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 15.—New England will be the only section of the United States from which a total eclipse of the sun, occurring the last day of August, of this year will be visible. Astronomical experts made this known to the Convention Bureau of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

The forecast was expected to be the signal for thousands of persons in various parts of the country together with thousands of vacationists to visit the New England states to witness the unusual spectacle.

According to observers, the total eclipse shadow will be about 100 miles wide, traversing New England in a diagonal direction. The northeastern limit of the path being generally a line from the Rangeley Lakes to Boothbay, Me., and the southeastern limit passing near St. Albans, Vt., to Montpeiler, Mass., Concord, New Hampshire to Salem and Chatham, on Cape Cod.

The eclipse will begin at 2:19½ p. m., eastern standard time, and will end at 4:33½ p. m. The times were judged from a center town of the path of the eclipse. The period of totality will vary according to the place where it is viewed, ranging from 60 seconds on the Cape Cod tip to 99 seconds at the summit of Mt. Washington.

Fahrenheit Revealed As A 'Peck's Bad Boy'

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—Daniel Gabriel Fahrenheit, the man who invented the mercury thermometer was apparently a typical Peck's bad boy in his youth.

This fact is indicated by a letter dated January 21, 1707, which was recently found in the archives of the city of Danzig, Germany, and which Professor Waldemar Westergaard of the University of California at Los Angeles brought to America for English translation.

Acording to the letter, Young Fehrenheit at 21 was causing his guardians so much trouble, and was so incorrigible that the aid of the city council was requested to help in slipping him away to the Dutch East Indies. The plan, however, was not successful.

The guardians, in the letter, pointed out that they "sent him to Amsterdam by his own consent to serve in an office, in the hope that he would learn to conduct himself properly."

"But," the letter stated, "things have gone very badly with this minor; he has spent his money and he has behaved himself regrettably in other ways."

When the guardians attempted to send him to the East Indies, young Fahrenheit failed to appear, and they made their appeal to the city council.

TELEPHONE INSULT JAILS JEALOUS GIRL

(International News Service)

TRIESTE, Jan. 15.—When Giulia Filippetti, 20-year-old typist, was sentenced to a month in jail, in the Pretore's court she was so astounded by what she later defined as the severity of the decision that she went out of the courthouse between two carabineers as in a dream.

She had been in the habit of ringing up a young girl of Trieste and insulting her on the phone. She pleaded guilty but said she had only insulted her rival once, for Maria Bezzi had, it appears, attracted the admiration of Ettore Rossi, with whom Giulia was in love. Witnesses testified that the typist had insulted Maria several times.

Giulia was not even given the benefit of the first offenders' act, which could have bound her over to keep the peace.

In Italy victims of insulting telephone messages can have their phones "watched" for a small fee and so find out the number of the phone used by their aggressors. This arrangement, recently made, has almost ended troublesome anonymous telephone calls.

COURT ORDERS QUIET.

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Pa.—Silence! By order of the court. A man and wife have been sentenced literally to live a dumb existence for three weeks.

Seizing upon a unique experiment in an effort to adjust marital difficulties, Judge John M. Groff ordered Harrison Summers to pay $5 a week to his wife, Susan, for the support of her and their minor child. Summers is permitted to sleep and eat at home, but neither is to address the other, lest blows result. After three weeks they are to report to the court, when a further adjustment will be made.

Fruits having small acid content are melons, bananas, currants, black berries and pears.

Wesleyan Revival.

Great interest is being manifested in the revival services being held in the Wesleyan Methodist church, of which Rev. W. H. Armstrong is pastor.

Many are attending from neighboring churches and Thursday evening a great spiritual wave seemed to sweep over the congregation and there were many came to the altar for prayer.

The services will continue Saturday evening and all next week.

W. C. B. Class Meets.

Members of the W. C. B. class of the Wesley Methodist church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. W. H. Britton, East Hazel street, for the monthly business and social meeting.

Mrs. Bessie Rech led the devotional opening and business was taken up with the new officers in charge. A St. Patrick social was planned.

Mrs. Katherine Daly gave a reading "If I Had Time" and Mrs. R. G. Leslie, on behalf of the class, presented Mrs. Matthews with a lovely gift.

When business was over there was a drawing of "capsule friends" for the coming year, after which a social period ensued and dainty refreshments served by the hostess.

February 11 the class will meet at the home of Mrs. Ecker Bacon, West Washington street.

Section A Meeting

Members of Section A of the Y. L. B. Class of the Third United Presbyterian church were pleasantly received Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harold Caldwell, on Maryland avenue, when she and Mrs. J. W. Alexander entertained jointly at their regular session.

Mrs. Albert Lutz lead the devotionals and a business meeting followed with their president, Mrs. D. C. Brown presiding. Plans were discussed for a tea event to be held sometime in March.

Twenty five were served dainty refreshments by the hostesses, including three guests, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Caldwell and Miss Stickle.

Their next gathering will be held January 28 at the home of Mrs. Roy McCown on Maryland avenue as hostess. This will be in the form of a turem dinner.

J. O. Y. Class

Members of the J. O. Y. Class of the First Baptist church, taught by Mrs. W. O. Williams were received in the home of Mrs. Anna Maxwell, Fairmont avenue Thursday evening for their regular monthly meeting. Twenty-one were present, and a business meeting in charge of Mrs. Mabel Truby, president. Plans were completed for a tureen dinner to be on February 4 at the church. Husbands of the members will be special guests on this date. Games were played and other pastimes enjoyed, and lunch was served by the hostess at the close of the evening.

Golden Links Class.

A pleasant gathering was held at the home of Mrs. William Haines, Cumberland avenue, Thursday evening, when she entertained the members of the Golden Links class of the First Methodist church, of which Miss Wanda White is the teacher.

Miss Margaret Wallace presided and after discussing matters of importance to the class a period of general conversation and music was enjoyed and lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Eleanor Donnelly.

February 11 will mark the date of the next meeting.

White Russians in China Plan Independent State

Famous Foe of Soviets Reported Negotiating With Japanese for Mongolian Freedom and Expansion Into Manchuria.

Reports that trickle into Moscow, Russia, from Mukden, Manchuria, are persistent to the effect that General Gregory Semenov, former Cossack officer and leader of the White Russians in the four-year guerilla war against the Red Army, is negotiating with the Japanese conquerors of Manchuria for their support in winning independence for Inner Mongolia. Besides absolute autonomy from China, of which it is now an integral part, Semenov is seeking expansion of the territory into Manchuria, now occupied by the Japs. Inner Mongolia is ruled by five Mongolian princes, whom Semenov has brought round to his way of thinking. It was here that the Russian Czarist general, together with his 50,000 followers, found refuge when they were driven from their native land by the failure of their attempt to wreck the Soviet machine. But as the exiled Russians are barely tolerated in the country, which is under Chinese domination, Semenov has long plotted an independent state, where he and his followers can found a White Russian colony. The invasion of Manchuria by Japan gave the outlaw general his opportunity, so now the situation in Manchuria may be further complicated.

Society

Sicilian Girls Meet.

Miss Jennie Venturella of the Wilmington road entertained the Sicilian Girls club in her home on Thursday evening at the regular session. During the business session three new members were taken in, and plans were made for a theatre party on January 21. Election of new officers also occurred, with Sara Mulone as president and Viola Fiala being elected secretary and treasurer.

The remaining hours were spent socially with cards, chat and music, and at the close of the evening a tasty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her sister Nub.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, January 28, with Josephine Gennaula of Emerson avenue as hostess.

Mrs. L. O. Rowland Hostess

The I. P. Club members were received Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. L. O. Rowland on Shaw street for a social time. The hours were spent with radio music, chat and cards. Prizes in the contest were won by Mrs. Nettie Hill, Mrs. M. Wimer and Mrs. Blanche Lewis.

Preceding this part of the program, a business hour was held, and Mrs. Charlotte Confer was taken in as a new member. Other matters of interest were also given attention.

Lunch, served by the hostess, assisted by Pauline Rowland, Mrs. Homer Rowland and Margaret Pieffer, brought the evening to a close. In two weeks, Mrs. Martha Wimer of Court street will be hostess.

Full-A-Fun Club

The Full-Of-Fun Club members gathered Thursday evening at a local downtown theatre for a party. Fifteen were present. Their next regular session will take place on Tuesday, January 19 with Miss Anna Roth as hostess.

BASKETBALL GAME.

The members of the Square Circle will meet at 7:30 in the Y. W. C. A. for the basketball game to be played with the Polish Falcons in the gymnasium tonight. This game, scheduled for a week ago, and postponed, promises to be fast and interesting.

GIRL SCOUT TROOPS WILL HEAR STORIES

Miss Katherine Dallas, story teller and puppet show operator, will tell stories for New Castle's Girl Scout troops on Thursday evening of next week, January 21, at 4:15, according to announcement today by Miss Nance Pugh, Scout director.

All girls interested in the use of puppets as told by Miss Dallas are asked to meet Saturday morning with Miss Pugh in the Girl Scout office.

Donations To Mayor's Fund Are Inadequate

Contributions to the mayor's relief fund are far below the amount needed to carry on the work, it was stated today by members of the committee, and must be materially increased or the work will fail.

With approximately $200 needed each day, the amount subscribed has fallen below this mark during recent weeks, although there has been a renewed interest during the past few days. It is still insufficient, however.

Today's contributions totalled $110, one of which was a $100 gift. This brought the total amount given so far to $6,937.17. However, the surplus in the fund is only a little better than $2,500 and with $1,200 weekly being used at the present, it will be readily seen that there is only enough in the fund to last another two weeks. Unless contributions come in a little more rapidly it will be necessary to suspend operations.

Small contributions are just as valuable as the large ones, the committee heads state, and those who are able to give but a small amount need not feel hesitant because their donation is not a large one. A large number of small amounts will help to swell the fund.

Those who have not previously given are urged to fill out the accompanying blank and mail it to Treasurer L. W. McClung at the city treasurer's office.

Those who have subscribed are also asked to keep their contributions coming in, as the committee needs every cent they can get.

SUBSCRIPTION BLANK

I agree to pay the sum of.....dollars monthly on the first of each month for as many months as funds are needed by the Mayor's Relief Committee and will forward my remittances to L. W. McClung, Treasurer.

I reserve the right to cancel this pledge whenever I find it necessary.

State Lists Highways For Snow Removal

Will Broadcast Hazardous conditions On State Highways Through Police

LOCAL CONDITIONS MADE AVAILABLE

In addition to listing the detours which exist on Pennsylvania state highways at the present time, thirteen in number, the Detour Bulletin issued this week, shows the highways which the state has listed for snow removal.

These include a majority of highways in the state, only a comparative few roads, not widely traveled, are ignored.

In addition to removing snow promptly from the highways, the state has arranged to broadcast information relative to unusual or hazardous road conditions, over the state police telephone typewriter system, to all police stations in which this system is installed.

New Castle residents and persons residing in Lawrence County can procure this information from the police station here.

In addition, local road conditions are made available at all Highway Maintenance Offices, one of which is located here. Even the telephone numbers of the offices are given in the information handed out through this bulletin, the office in the Seventh Ward having the telephone number 3852.

The detour bulletin containing this information is posted in the lobby of The News.

Farmers Advised To Order Plants Early

Among the timely reminders given to Lawrence County farmers by the Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture, is the admonishment to order plants and seeds early.

The weekly bulletin contains the following advice:

Order Plants Early—Do not wait until spring to order seeds and plants. Prepare a list now of the garden flowers, shrubs, and trees needed and send it to your nearest reliable seed store or nurseryman. Orders placed early receive prompt attention.

Choose Good Sire—The dairy sire should be from ancestors with greater producing capacity than the cows in the herd. Choose the sire with great care. Unless proved or from good producing ancestors, his daughters cannot develop into good cows.

Feed Birds For Gains—If the birds are losing weight feed them at noon each day a mixture of equal parts of corn meal, rolled oats, condensed milk, say Penn State poultry specialists.

Thin Maples Rigidly—To develop a young sugar bush thin heavily the second growth saplings. Remove all trees except sugar maples, and in dense stands of these thin out enough individuals to allow those remaining sufficient rooms to develop well-rounded crowns. If these young trees are given proper attention they will make good sap producers when the mature maples are gone.

Sell 784 Purebred Rams—In the past six years 784 purebred rams have been distributed at 24 sales conducted by cooperative sheep and wool producers associations. These rams have contributed much to the improvement of Pennsylvania farm flocks.

Sows Need Exercise—Brood sows need exercise as well as good feed and care. If fed some distance from their quarters the sows will get exercise and feed, too.

Seventy At Work Digging Out Coal

Harry Trover Believes There Are 15,000 Or More Tons Yet Available

Harry Trover, in charge of coal mining operations at the county's mine being operated on the New Castle Clay Products company property, reports that there are about 70 men at work digging coal. There still is plenty of coal but on some sections water is interfering with operations. There is a hard pan under the coal and the water that falls remains for a long time in the depressions. Some plan to drain off the water may be evolved. Mr. Trover estimates that there are fifteen or twenty thousand tons of coal yet to be mined. The mine has saved the county thousands of dollars.

URGES TAX ON JOBS

PORTLAND, Ore.—A job tax to relieve the national debt is the suggestion of Marcus A. Spurlin of Portland. Spurlin would place a tax of one half of one per cent on every job, based on salaries and collected by employers. He believes it would place the burden on persons best able to pay. The suggestion was sent to Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury, where it was noted with interest and placed on file, according to a letter to the Portland man.

"White Line" Gang Resents Suggestions Of Hard Work

So Ten 'Professionals' Who Are Offered Meals For A Little Labor, Go Hungry

If the plans of B. J. Watkins, superintendent of the City Mission are carried out the professional loafers who drift into the city and panhandle their way weeks at a time will be dealt a hard blow. The superintendent has always been of the opinion that hard work is anything but desirable to the "White liners" who have become familiar seekers of help at the Mission.

Only recently it ocurred to Watkins that a plan whereby men getting assistance would be more than willing to reciprocate with a little labor making the workers understand that it was not entirely charity on the part of the Mission, but a reward for their own work that they were given food.

So when it was decided to haul trees into the city from a farm on the old Pittsburgh road, to be cut into firewood and stacked in neat piles, Watkins asked the aid of the "drifters." As men came before him for help he suggested that they come to the large empty former automobile showroom at 30 South Mercer street and work about a half hour cutting their individual supplies of wood.

The result of the experiment was evident yesterday. Ten 'white liners" came to the old showroom, took a good look at the steadily increasing piles of wood, saw men hard at work cutting the trees—and left hurriedly. Their desire for food had vanished completely. They would not work, they told Superintendent Watkins after he asked them to cut up some wood for a few minutes before the dinner hour.

Watkins believes his plan of getting work from the men who seek help will ultimately clear the city of the professional drifters. The plan will enable others who really wish to work, to obtain help from the Mission.

Requests City To Build New Sewer

W. L. Ferry appeared in council chambers, Municipal building, today and said that an ordinance had been passed in 1928 for a sanitary sewer in Vogan street but that no sewer had been laid. He requested that the city make arrangements to carry out the provisions of the ordinance.

"You should guard against improvements particularly at this time" said Councilman Hoyland. He said the city has had to borrow money to pay current expenses.

It was explained by Councilman Genkinger to Hoyland that under the system the cost of the sewer would be assessed against the abutting property owners. He said that property owners had presented a petition requesting the construction.

The city engineer was asked to deliver a report showing the properties against which the cost would be assessed.

WOMEN CHALLENGE DETROIT CHECKERS

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Jan. 15.—For the second time since declaring he had met "only one woman in 20 years of playing who could play checkers intelligently," Police Sergeant John C. Koch has been challenged by a woman.

The latest challenge came from Mrs. E. A. Jeffries of Salem, O. Koch said he would accept it if satisfactory arrangements for the contest can be made.

In the first match against a woman, Koch won five of six games but conceded that Mrs. Palmona Warners of Detroit "was a very good player." The contest was staged in Judge Henry S. McSweeny's courtroom and admission charged. The proceeds were donated to charitable organizations.

Requests City To Provide Protection

J. F. Kennelly today appeared before city council and as the result of alleged testimony given at a recent public service commission hearing in Pittsburgh, asked council to furnish added police protection in the West Washington street district.

Kennelly alleged that several witnesses had declared the section dangerous and he as a taxpayer and a businessman in that section, he wants the city to add police protection there.

Council Fails To Approve Voucher For Mills' Pay

White Says Affirmative Vote Has No Effect In Court Case

When a separate voucher for the pay of Charles S. Mills was submitted to councilmanic vote today it was defeated four to one. Councilman Genkinger cast the affirmative vote.

The voucher was for $69.50 for Mills' service as a fireman during the first half of January. Recently Mills was injured when he accompanied the fire apparatus to fight an East Side blaze.

Recently Mills' attorneys brought alternative mandamus proceedings against the city controller to compel the latter to approve the voucher. As yet a hearing has not been held.

Mills was elected a city fireman upon the recommendation of Councilman Reeves. As Mills name was not among the first four civil service eligibles, the solicitor ruled the election was illegal.

Mills continued to work as a fireman but when the firemen's payroll was presented for approval it contained his name and Controller Green refused to approve the payroll.

Councilman Reeves removed the name of Mills from the payroll and council agreed that a separate voucher for his salary should be read before council.

Council, with the exception of Councilman Treser, voted approval of the voucher but in each instance it was not honored by the controller.

He had been informed, it is understood of the solicitor's ruling and also advice from private counsel that Mills election had been illegal and as city controller continued to refuse to honor the warrant.

Mills continued to work and recently mandamus proceedings were brought against the controller.

When the time came for the new administration to approve the separate voucher today, it was pointed out that "Mills is not receiving his pay."

"What is the procedure?" inquired Director D. O. Davies of the fire bureau.

He was told that in the past all councilmen, excepting Treser, had voted to approve the voucher.

Payroll Voucher Rejected

Treser said he had no personal feelings in the matter.

"What effect will this have if you try the case?" Mayor Mayne asked of the city solicitor, Robert White.

"If council approves the separate voucher, it will not have any bearing on the case in court" said White.

He explained that in past months council had approved the voucher but that payment had been withheld by the controller.

White also said that Mills had been injured and under a councilmanic ruling "city employes can be off duty one month, ill and draw salary, less compensation, after which they cannot draw salary but are paid compensation.

The mayor said he did not feel like doing anything that might "tie the hands of the city solicitor in trying a court case."

"A vote to approve will not have any effect. It has been approved by council as a matter of form" said White.

If I vote to approve payment it might prove embarrassing" said Hoyland, director of finance.

A vote was taken and all voted negatively except Councilman Genkinger who maintained the same stand as the former council, excepting Treser.

Where Flour Turned to Smoke

This general view of the St. John Mill and Warehouse fire at Wichita, Kansas, was made while the blaze was in its early stage. Smoke and flames are seen pouring from a wing of the building. Incidentally, that smoke is valued at about $100,000, that being an estimate of the damage. The fire destroyed 600 barrels of flour and all the equipment of the plant.

No Lack of Ventilation

Please, children, concentrate on the shoe. There's plenty of time to admire the beauty who holds it. This is the depression shoe, so-called, one presumes, from the meagre amount of leather that goes into its manufacture. It is intended as a sandal for wear with pajamas and is in silver trimmed with gold. Did someone say "Depression"? The shoe is one of the exhibits at the annual footwear show at Boston, Mass. Now you may look at Miss Amelia Ronan, who holds and admires the masterpiece.

City Proposes To Settle For Damages

Bratschie Land Condemnation To Cost City $1,000 In Settlement

Indications are that the city of New Castle will pay Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Bratschie, Neshannock township, $1,000 in full settlement for land taken in connection with the proposal to run the big storm sewer from Euclid avenue to Shenango river.

The sewer has been laid beneath the New Wilmington improved highway and also beneath the right-of-way of the New Castle Water Company to the waterworks.

The viewers allowed $1,250 damages to Mr. and Mrs. Bratschie. Attorney Clarence Patterson, in behalf of the land owners, offered to settle for $1,000 today.

Council indicated that a settlement would be made next week.

Complains To City About Assessments

H. G. Coates today appeared before council and complained that assessments on properties which he and Mrs. Hildebrand owned were excessive. He said an assessment in the seventh ward had been raised from $4,950 to $5,300 and one in the third ward from $4,950 to $5,150. On motion of Councilman Genkinger the complaints were referred to Assessor Andrew Sands.

Coates said that no rent was coming in, and Mayor Mayne inquired: "Is it a rent matter only? The same situation exists all over the city."

Coates declared he was forced to reduce rents and could not make repairs.

Did Not Know Car Struck Girl

Youth Has Been Released On Own Recognizance

State Highway Corporal Lawton today stated that William Gangel, R. D. 2, New Castle had been interviewed and released on his own recognizance to await future action by authorities in connection with an automobile striking Miss Elizabeth Kinder, 18, along the New Bedford-New Castle highway, Wednesday night.

Lawton stated that Gangel had reported he was operating his car along the road and was blinded by bright lights. He said that Gangel also reported he felt the car undergo a "jar" but believed it had struck a mail box or some other object. Gangel told the highway patrol, according to the corporal that he did not know that the machine had struck a girl.

The patrol, in investigating the case have ascertained Gangel has a very good character and the circumstances are such, according to Lawton that the entire case will be laid before the proper authorities for decision upon any future action.

The girl is considerably bruised and will have to remain in bed for a week or more, it was reported today.

News Has Presented Jiggs And Maggie For Twenty Years

It's one thing to go to a friend's wedding but it is another thing entirely to attend his 20th anniversary still his friend, after the double decade of marital bliss has been passed.

The News claims this distinction in the 20th wedding anniversary of "Bringing Up Father", the comic strip of George McManus. Twenty years ago on January 24, the wedding of this internationally known pair was consummated. Their 20th anniversary sees Jiggs and Maggie still one of the outstanding comics of the American newspaper world.

Shortly after "Bringing Up Father" was started, or rather after Jiggs and Maggie were presented to the American public as man and wife, Fred L. Rentz, publisher of the New Castle News, went to New York to look into the comic strip possibilities. No newspaper in this district carried any comic strips, indeed the idea was just beginning to take hold in the larger papers.

The strip Mr. Rentz wanted was "Mutt and Jeff", the brain children of Bud Fisher. Because of territorial restrictions, Mr. Rentz could not get Mutt and Jeff, "but," said Sam Palium, syndicate manager, "why not try this new one that started a couple of weeks ago, 'Bringing Up Father'."

The comic strip was practically unknown, "Jiggs and Maggie" were local fixtures then, but in their whimsical humor, their domestic battles and their foolishness Mr. Rentz thought he saw a comic strip that would live.

He was right. Jiggs and Maggie are known wherever newspapers are known today, 20 years later the New Castle News is still carrying the strip and intends to continue carrying it. In those years George McManus, the artist, has become a personal friend of Mr. Rentz and the New Castle News. Today The News is proud of the fact that it can join in the congratulations to Mr. McManus on the 20th anniversary of the comic strip that has brought him fame and fortune, not alone because The News carries the strip, but because it was one of the pioneer papers in the world to carry it.

Hickory Heights Parents Gather

Parents-Teachers Meeting Is Held On Thursday Evening At School

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Hickory Heights school was held Thursday evening in the school with a large group of parents present.

Mrs. H. F. Robison presided at a short business meeting, during which time a committee for the annual flower show was appointed and includes Mrs. Norman Patton, Mrs. H. E. Cartwright, Mrs. Frank Kwatt, Mrs. W. B. Munnell, Mrs. R. R. Maxwell, Mrs. Orlan Hartman, A. C. Cameron, Fred Fisher and Norman Patton.

An interesting program was presented by pupils of grades 5 and 6 with Miss Almeda Ruby, teacher, directing them. There was a piano number by Maxine Mercer, a vocal solo by David Kimmell; violin selection, Betty Munnell and a health play, with Billy Wagner as the doctor; Samuel Robison as the teacher, Thompson Watt as the microbe and Maxine Mercer, Betty Munnell, Tony Latore and David Kimmel as the others in the cast.

Dr. W. A. Womer brought an unusual and forceful health message to the parents, taking the high death record of former years, and explained how many of these diseases which caused deaths, are practically unknown today.

Eleanor and America Burnside, former pupils of the school, closed the program with a number of songs and violin selections.

February 11 will be the date of the next meeting.

Hold Meeting On Veterans History

Various Patriotic And Veterans Organizations Are Represented

At a meeting held in the Y. W. C. A. last evening, plans were furthered for the formation of a society to secure information on soldiers who have served from Lawrence County during the various wars the United States has participated in.

Much of this information has already been compiled by the Daughters of American Revolution, Sons of Revolution, Daughters of American Colonies, Daughters of Union Veterans, and other organizations.

It is hoped to compile a history which will give a great amount of information on these veterans and their descendants, for the state and county archives. Later, it is hoped to have these records published in book form.

SUIT TO RECOVER BALANCE ON BILL

The Lewistown Foundry and Machine Company of Lewistown, Pa., has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against The Consumers Sand and Gravel Company to recover a balance of $450 alleged to be due on a sand washing machine. The price of the machine was $1,100. It is claimed that the defendants have failed to pay the balance due.

Lausanne Conference Hinges On Elections

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The coming Lausanne reparations conference may turn out to be but a prelude to a second meeting, to be held after the elections in the United States and at which a definite agreement on war debts and reparations may be made, it was reported in well informed circles today.

A short reparations moratorium for Germany, probably for two years was expected to be proposed by Great Britain to relieve the strain on Germany for the present. But the Italian plan for complete cancellation of war debts and reparations, the brunt of which necessarily would be carried by the United States, received little sympathy here.

Despite the declaration of Chancellor Bruening of Germany that she could not and would not make any further reparations payments, most financial and political experts here agreed something at least should be done to thoroughly investigate her case at a later date, with a view to final settlement after the present internal political problems of the countries involved are ironed out.

Agreeing heartily with the sentiment expressed in Washington that elections in Germany, France, and the United States have demanded strong nationalistic policies of the leaders in each of these countries, British statesmen feel that little can be done internationally until after elections.

U. C. T. PROGRAM HONORS COUNCIL LEADERS OF PAST

Night Testimonial In City Hall Attended By 75; Visitors Here

Set apart as their annual testimonial for past leaders of the organization, Thursday night's "Past Councillors' Night" program of the New Castle Council No. 408, United Commercial Travelers, in City Hall rooms went far beyond all expectations and far surpassed previous occasions of this kind. Among the 75 men in attendance were 27 who have at some time or another held the post of councillor of the group.

A visiting delegation came from the Beaver Valley, Sharon and Butler for the evening's program, and enjoyed the fellowship that prevailed from the beginning of the program until it ended. Invitations had been extended to other councils of the district.

Ex-Leaders In Charge.

A custom always observed on the night when past councillors are honored was followed out last night as the regular council officers stepped aside to allow the former officers full sway. All of the chairs of the council were filled by past councillors.

John W. Louer led the program as councillor, although he held that position some time ago and William B. Howe, J. Ed White, Archie Gordon, David S. Nessle and Clarence Brookover occupied other chairs.

Special entertainment was furnished the travelers by acrobatic stunt performers, after which came a tasty lunch which a committee headed by Louer served.

Rep. Patterson Scores Pinchot

Ambridge Representative Hurls Severe Criticism Upon Governor's Head

(International News Service)

AMBRIDGE, Pa., Jan. 15.—Governor Gifford Pinchot today became the target for a terrific broadside of criticism in a speech by Representative Fred Patterson, of Ambridge. The Assemblyman charged that:

1. Governor Pinchot is holding up funds appropriated for unemployment relief.

2. Governor Pinchot's administration is adding to the cost of government by extravagances.

3. The recent special session of the legislature was unnecessary.

In the address before the board of trade here, Patterson alleged an investigation of state finances showed that the legislature, in a previous session, appropriated $13,000,000 for building construction for unemployment relief.

"Only $420,000 of that money has been used," Patterson claimed.

Throughout his speech, the representative struck continually at the Governor.

This Is Last Day For Dog Licenses

Treasurer William O. Pitts Has Received No Word Of Time Extension

Dog owners are slow this year in securing their licenses according to County Treasurer William O. Pitts. The time limit expires today and only about 1600 licenses have been issued. Last year there were 7,500.

No word had been received from the state department regarding an extension of time by Treasurer Pitts this morning. Licenses will still be issued, but dog owners are running the risk of having to pay a fine.

There was quite a demand for licenses today but nothing to be compared with former years.

Treasurer Pitts now has the 1932 fishing licenses, but there has as yet been no great demand.

AT 17 BOY BECOMES A SURGICAL WIZARD

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 15.—Life is just two steps ahead of everybody else for William H. Sweet, 21, Centralia, Wash., named Rhodes scholar this year, according to his record.

At 2½ he could repeat whole passages from children's books after he had heard them two or three times.

At 5, he was a student of United States history.

At 10, he had finished the eighth grade.

At 11, he decided to follow his father, Dr. Paul W. Sweet, as a surgeon, and at 12 was a second assistant to his father in performing operations.

At 16, he was first assistant at the operating tables.

White Not Satisfied With New Proposal For Light Contract

Council met today in the city building, and during the session Solicitor Robert White sent a communication to the body which related to a proposed new contract between the Pennsylvania Power company and the city for electric lighting. The solicitor gave his opinion to council. It was sent to committee for consideration.

According to the opinion from White "this proposed agreement is dated January 31, 1932 and is for a term of five years, from the first day of January, 1932, to the last day of January, 1937." The present contract is for a term of five years and expires January 1, 1935.

Recently the company agreed to save approximately $10,000 for the city and said that a new contract would probably be submitted. It has been, according to the solicitor's communication but council believes the new contract if adopted should expire at the same time as the contract now in effect, or 1935.

Water Obliterates Roads At Parkstown

Old Sewer At Fork Is Clogged —Powder Plant And School Roads Flooded

A clogged pipe sewer near Parkstown Corners early this morning caused water to flood the district, covering about 50 feet of the road leading to the Fairview schoolhouse and flooding for 100 feet the powder mill road leading to Egbert's station with over two feet of water.

According to residents in the district the water is believed to have resulted when the sewer would no longer admit its entry. The sewer had been constructed several years ago and was to have been repaired recently, it is said. It is located directly across the road from the home of Temple B. Boyd, who said this morning that a considerable quantity of water had flooded the ground about his home.

ENCYCLOPAEDIC WORK ON SCANDINAVIAN

(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 15.—An encyclopaedic work of 30 volumes on the Scandinavian people is now being brought out in Stockholm under the direction of Dr. Sigurd Erixon of the Northern Museum in Stockholm.

The contributors are chosen among the leading Scandinavian scholars in Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden, and the work itself is to a great extent financed by the Swedish Clara Lachmann Foundation. The various contributions are, however, written in the Swedish, Danish and Norwegian languages.

The work will be devoted to the Scandinavian language, place-names, personal names, runes and literature, law and constitution, folklore, art, religion, archaeology, etc. The earliest centuries up to the Middle Ages are described in detail, since the historical material after the year 1500 is more easily available to the public.

Hughes, Possible Steel Leader, Tramped 'News' Route In Youth; "Mont" Won Friendship Of Pals

"Mont" Hughes, known better in the steel world as I. Lamont Hughes, prominent among three industrial executives mentioned as possible successor to President James A. Farrell of the United States Steel Corporation, once rousted it here with other boys in the days when he tramped over part of the East Side district delivering the New Castle News.

Along with other newsboys then, "Mont" reported daily at The News headquarters, at North Mill street and Sycamore way, to get his supply of papers just the same as the boys do today, recalled Charles T. Metzler, local businessman who covered a route when Hughes did.

Both Hughes and Metzler were students in local schools at the time. Hughes was a few years younger, about 12 years old.

Mr. Metzler recalls how the gang loafed together before press time in a shop handy the newspaper plant, and how Hughes was in the gang almost every time. He was a rather quiet fellow, it was recollected, but the fellows liked him. Never was there any trouble for which he could be blamed.

Never In Scraps

Just like today, Metzler related with a smile, there were arguments among the fellows and some hot scraps, too. I can't recall of "Mont" taking part in any.

Now at the head of the Carnegie Steel company, at Pittsburgh, Hughes, who relinquished a U. S. Steel vice presidency to accept the Carnegie leadership, is considered most likely as the man who may fill Farrell's post when the latter retires on April 18.

Mr. Hughes was raised here.

Committee Finds Governor Judd Is Quite Negligent

Executive Of Hawaii Has Shown Negligence In Showing Leniency To Natives

ACTION ASKED FOR BY COMMITTEE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Without a dissenting vote the house naval affairs committee today approved its sub-committee's report holding Gov. Lawrence Judd, of Hawaii, culpably negligent in the numerous attacks upon women in Honolulu.

Leniency shown by the governor in one particular attack case, the committee, believed, such cases to increase in the islands, culminating Sept. 12 in the brutal, criminal assault by five half-castes upon Mrs. Thomas H. Massie, wife of an American naval lieutenant, and the subsequent killing of one of her alleged attackers by her husband and three other Americans.

Victor S. K. Houston, delegate to the house from Hawaii, asked permission to incorporate into the committee record a statement on the situation in Honolulu. It was agreed that the committee's report together with Houston's views, be printed in the Congressional Record.

The committee directed also that the report be given to the judge advocate of the navy, the attorney general and the chairman of the house territory committee, for action.

The coloring matter usually added to butter in annatto.

Slayer Dies In Electric Chair At Sing Sing

Francis "Two-Gun" Crowley Dines With Doomed Man In Cell

(International News Service)

OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 15.—For the second time within a month, Francis "Two-Gun" Crowley, awaiting execution in Sing Sing's "death house", today had participated in the last meal of another prisoner condemned to die.

Before Joseph Senna, 32, "the loneliest inmate" was executed in the electric chair last night for killing two men, Crowley and Senna shared a dinner of chicken, mashed potatoes and coffee.

At the end of Senna's last meal, Crowley asked for cigars. The two men smoked in silence for a while.

A few hours later, Senna was electrocuted.

He was convicted of the murder of two men during a bakery store hold-up in New York.

Senna alone of all death house prisoners, had no callers while there.

United Miner Is Found Guilty And Given Life Term

William Hightower, 77, President Of Kentucky Chapter United Miners, Guilty

(International News Service)

MT. STERLING, Ky., Jan. 15.—William Hightower, 77-year-old grizzled president of the Evarts, Ky., local of the United Mine Workers of America, was found guilty of murder conspiracy by a jury in Montgomery circuit court here today. The jury fixed the penalty at life imprisonment.

This was the second conviction obtained by the commonwealth in the prosecution of union mine leaders of Harlan county for the slaying of four officers in the Ambuscade at Evarts, Ky., on May 5th. W. B. Jones, secretary of the Evarts local, was convicted on a similar charge and also sentenced to life imprisonment here last Dec. 10.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

One of the pioneer industries of this city was that of brick making, no doubt due to the fact that the raw materials for the manufacture of bricks was available in considerable quantities all about the district.

One of the earlier brick plants was that of A. T. McCready, which was located on what is now Walnut street, and was the principal industry of its kind for many years in this city.

It started about the close of the civil war and continued in active operation until about 1880, furnishing the brick for many and in fact for most all the brick buildings of the district in that period of time.

One of the blocks erected out of the brick made in this plant is that located on East Washington street just east of the Pennsylvania Railroad track and in which the Knights of Malta and the Odd Fellows now have their lodgerooms. There were really four buildings or storerooms with lodgerooms above them and were owned by John J. Liebendorfer, Bailey Brothers and A. T. McCready in the order named going east, the McCready property consisting of the last two sections.

These were constructed about 1847. All brick were turned out in this plant by hand. A molder turned out 3,300 brick a day, making three brick at a time in a wooden mold.

Another brick plant that started about the time that the McCready plant ceased was that of Green, Marquis and Johnson, located just west of Mill street at the point where the former limestone narrow guage railroad crossed Mill street. It started in 1879 and continued in active operation until 1909.

Rose Avenue P. T. A. Meeting

Splendid Program And Demonstration Of Music Teacher Is Given Thursday Afternoon

The Rose Avenue P. T. A. met in the school gymnasium Thursday afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. Oliver Hazen presiding. The meeting was opened by the singing of a number of P. T. A. songs led by Mrs. Stanley Reese, accompanied by Mrs. Helen Chapman.

A most interesting program was presented by Mrs. Manley Bates, chairman of the program committee. Miss Elizabeth Mackey presented a Grade One B music lesson demonstrating in a most pleasing way the various steps in presenting a music lesson to beginners, as first singing songs already known, then the singing of rythm and rote songs and finally the work with the listeners.

Rev. George M. Landis gave a splendid address on "Habits." Rev. Landis first classed the habits as physical, mental, and emotional. He stated that habits are essential to practical efficiency and gave impressive illustrations to prove this point to the association. He also stated that habits are necessary to higher achievement, and that the real danger of habits is the fact that they are so easily made and so hard to break. He stressed the fact that the parents and teachers must use extreme patience in assisting the boys and girls of today in forming the right kind of habits.

Two lovely vocal solos "Trees" and "Smiling Through" were sung by Mrs. A. C. Bernard accompanied by Mrs. John Evans.

The attendance contest for the first semester was brought to a close with 1B-1 report room of Miss Elizabeth Mackey winning.

Authority Granted To Complete P. R. R. Job At Greenville

Part Of $11,000 Crossing Improvement Finished; Extra Work Planned

Authority to install additional automatic safety equipment worth nearly $3,000 to the partially-completed flasher light system at three Greenville street crossings of the Pennsylvania railroad, was received by the E. & A. division headquarters this morning. The office said immediate work on the extra equipment would commence shortly.

The newly-installed flasher lights protect Main, South Front and Second streets, the railroad office announced. An expenditure of approximately $11,000 was required to complete the entire project.

Gatemen were employed to protect the crossings before the automatic warning lights were placed.

DAIRY IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REPORT

Diana, the registered Jersey cow, belonging to Lauren Thompson of New Wilmington led the Lawrence County Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the month of December in butter fat production by producing 69.7 pounds of fat from 1,036 pounds of milk. Mr. Thompson's registered Jersey herd of 19 cows led the entire association in the production of both milk and butterfat. The average milk production in this herd was 736 pounds with 40 pounds of fat.

The registered Jersey herd of Milo Moose and Son of New Wilmington was second in the production of butterfat with 30.7 pounds per cow. The registered Guernsey herd of Arnold Bros., of Beaver County was third with an average production of 30.3 pounds butterfat per cow.

The registered Holstein herd of W. H. McCullough of Big Beaver Township was second in the production of milk with an average of 725 pounds per cow. The Holstein herd of Dan Brenner, and the Holstein and Gucrnsey herd of Chalmer Elder of Beaver County tied for next place, each herd producing 663 pounds of milk per cow.

Then ten highest producing cows in butterfat for the month were as follows:—

TO EXHIBIT PRODUCTS AT STATE FARM SHOW

The exhibit of Lawrence County Products at the Sixteenth Annual Farm Products Show, January 18 to 22, will include:—Wool by the Lawrence County Wool Growers Association, and Guy Fullerton of North Beaver Township; 25 head of Registered Shorthorn and 7 head of Registered Guernsey cattle by Charles Brenneman of Plaingrove Township. Honey will be exhibited by George Young and LaVere McKnight of the East Brook 4-H Bee Club; also by Harold Cooper, Harold Offutt, Calvin Winder, and Reed Thompson members of the Plaingrove 4-H Bee Club. One pack of Certified seed potatoes will be exhibited by Charles B. Patton of Hickory Township.

Members of 4-H Sewing Clubs from Lawrence County who will exhibit their handicraft are: Viola Munnell, Wilberta Boak, and Katherine Kibler of Slippery Rock Township; Mary Archetta, Dimple White, Evelyn Dinringer, Helen Marshall, Thelma McCullough, Eleanor Jackson, and Sara Bingham of Big Beaver Township; Gladys Harlan, Ida Peebles, Dorothy Harlan, and Frances Cameron of Scott Township; Sarah Steele and Jean Steele of Wayne Township.

DELAYED MULCH CAN BE PUT ON BERRIES

Although the normal season for applying mulch to the strawberry patch is past, there still are a number of uncovered patches in Lawrence County. Owing to the open weather of the past fall it is probably that little damage has been done, but the mulch should be applied as soon as the ground is frozen.

Mulching the berry patch, prevents the alternate freezing and thawing which "heaves" out the plants. Mulch has the further value of conserving moisture and retarding weed growth in the spring, of retarding early spring growth and thus helping to avoid frost damage to the flowers, and of forming a protective mat which keeps dirt and grit off the berries.

Wheat straw is considered the best mulching material. Oat and buckwheat straw and even shredded corn stalks, pine needles, and forest leaves have been used successfully. A mulch 3 to 5 inches thick should entirely cover all the plants.

USE GOOD SEEDS FOR GROWING VEGETABLES

Quality in vegetable seeds, whether saved at home or purchased, may mean the difference between a high yielding crop of the type desired and failure. What the seed will produce after it has germinated is just as important to know as what percentage will germinate. Freedom from disease, trueness to a good name, and cleanliness also are necessary for seed to be good.

Good seeds are not cheap because it costs money to obtain a select strain and to produce seed of high quality. Where a new variety or strain is offered, the safest plan is to try only a small amount the first year.

Where a good strain has been obtained, some gardeners store a quantity for the following year. The best place is where protection is afforded against mice, insects, and dampness. Commercial growers often make it a practice to order by lot number and to place their order early before the supply has become exhausted.

Some seeds refrain their viability longer than others. On account of varying conditions of weather while growing the crop and of care used in harvesting and storage, no exact time can be given for any particular lot of seed. However, parsnip, salsify, parsley, onion, peas, and sweet corn are not likely to retain their viability longer than three years. Asparagus, beet, cabbage, carrot, celery, lettuce, pepper, and tomato usually will retain their viability longer. Cucumber, endive, muskmelon, and watermelon probably will retain their viability longest.

DESCRIBES INSECTS THAT ATTACK GRAIN

The granary weevil, the rice or black weevil, the saw-toothed grain beetle, and a large beetle known as the Cadelle are some of the more important enemies of stored grains in central and western Pennsylvania.

The granary weevil is a small brown or blackish beetle, about three-sixteenths of an inch long, with its head prolonged into a slender snout, at the end of which is a pair of stout jaws. This insect has no wings and is confined entirely to locations where grain is stored. It is one of the oldest known insect-pests and has been carried by commerce to all parts of the world.

Closely related to the granary weevil is the rice or black weevil, and the life histories of the two species are similar. The rice weevil is a strong flier, however, and migrates from the granary to the fields and often infests the crop before it is harvested.

The saw-toothed grain beetle is about one-tenth of an inch long, slender, flattened, and dark brown. It gains its name from the six saw-tooth-like projection on each side of the thorax. The larvae of this beetle do not spend their entire lives in a single grain but crawl about actively feeding on portions of many kernels. When full grown they build a delicate cocoon by joining together small grains or fragments with a sticky secretion and within this the pupa and later the adult forms are assumed.

The Cadelle is one of the large grain beetles, being nearly one-third of an inch long, and is dark brown or black. Both the larvae and adults feed on grain and have the destructive habit of going from kernel to kernel devouring the embryos. They frequently cause serious injury to ear corn and their presence is indicated by long slits in the kernels.

Fournately, the control measures applied for one of these pests usually will give relief from the others. The remedial measures may be divided into three phases.

First, paper clean-up and sanitation of the farm buildings where the grain is to be stored. Second, timely threshing of the grain and early removal of straw and chaff from the vicinity of the granary. Third, prompt treatment of the stored grain to destroy the insects present.

FRUIT GROWERS WILL MEET IN HARRISBURG

Members of the Pennsylvania State Horticultural Association will gather in Harrisburg from Tuesday noon, January 19, to Thursday noon, January 21, for the 73rd annual meeting of the organization. The sessions will be held in the South Office Building of the capitol group.

Economy of fruit production will be the keynote of most of the topics to be discussed this year. Production problems, always important, will be secondary to the economics of fruit growing.

A group of prominent speakers will appear on the program. Chief among this is the Hon. Harry Flood Byrd, ex-governor of Virginia and president of the Virginia State Horticultural Society. He is one of Virginia's largest fruit growers and will address the Pennsylvania association on the "Future of the Apple Industry".

Professor G. W. Peck, of Cornell University, fruit judge at the State Farm Show this year, will speak on "How to Handle Fruit Properly."

Gilbert S. Watts, Bellwood, market gardener and grower of strawberries and apples, will relate his experiences in growing these farm products and in marketing them at his roadside market.

Other speaker on the program will include H. S. Nolt, Lancaster County; Guy L. Haymen, Chester county; H. F. Hershey, Berks county; C. T. Tyson, Adams county; Sheldon Funk, Berks county; F. G. Reiter, Allegheny county; E. Dana Sutliff, Luzerne county; and J. H. Weinberger, Lehigh county.

Disease, insect, and cultural problems will be discussed by members of the agricultural staff at the Pennsylvania State College.

The annual banquet will be held Wednesday evening, January 20.

A moratorium on moratoriums will be the next thing in order.—The Manchester Union.

Extended Load On Trucks Must Bear Proper Markings

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—Owners of motor vehicles hauling poles, pipes, lumber or any other material extending more than four feet beyond the rear of the chassis, bed or body of such vehicle are, in some cases, forgetting the law's requirement that a red flag or a red light must be suspended from the end of the load, according to complaints reaching the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

As a reminder, the bureau calls attention to Section 618 of the Pennsylvania State Vehicle Code. The code provides that when vehicles are carrying a load as described above "there shall be displayed, at the end of such load, a red flag not less than 12 inches both in length and width, except that, between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise, there shall be displayed at the end of any such load, a red light plainly visible, under normal atmospheric conditions at least 200 feet from the rear."

The Pennsylvania State Highway Patrol will rigidly enforce this provision.

NEGRO GETS JAIL.

Fred Bush, Negro, this city, charged with larceny along with Augustine Fandzzi, Lowellville, O., as a result of an attempt to steal tires of an auto on the South Side last Monday, was bound over for the March term of criminal court yesterday by Alderman Wallace J. Ewing. Bush went to jail in default of bail.

Fandzzi is also being held for the March term.

Dr. Clendening Tells How Poor Ventilation Makes Folk Unhealthy

Physician Explains That Too Dry Atmosphere And Lack Of Motion Of Air Cause Ills And Inefficiency

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The most unhealthful and uncomfortable feature of American living conditions is bad ventilation. This is especially true in winter. It applies to our houses, office buildings, stores, hotels, railroad cars, and even to buses. It applies with especial force to most of the places where crowds congregate—theaters and auditoriums. The majority of the larger and recently built movie theaters have very good ventilation. Churches, because of their high pitched or vaulted roofs, tend to have better ventilation than other auditoriums.

The principal thing that is the trouble with the American indoors in the winter is its dryness. There is a lack of sufficient humidity.

The second most important fault is lack of motion of the air.

Our houses and offices invariably are too hot. But they would not be if we controlled the humidity better and made provisions for fresh moving air.

What is fresh air? Why do we say, "Let's go out and get a breath of fresh air"? What makes us instinctively desire to do that? What are the qualities about fresh air that are so refreshing?

Leonard Hill, the great English authority on ventilation, says that fresh air is cool rather than warm, dry rather than damp, diverse in temperature rather than monotonous, moving rather than still.

In the United States the outside air in summer is extremely uncomfortable over the greater part of the country for most of the time from June 15 to Sept. 15. The winter climate over the greater part of the country for most of the time from October to April is mild and invigorating. It is probable that in the future when air conditions measures have become universally adopted, we will close the windows more often in the summer than in the winter.

The effect of ventilation on health is very considerable. In fact, ventilation is one of the two or three most important hygienic measures we can employ.

The effect of absolutely bad ventilation is rapidly fatal, as we know from certain great historical tragedies such as the Black Hole of Calcutta and the Londonderry disaster. And while such absolutely bad situations are rare, the lesser examples of poor ventilation must have a subtle effect on efficiency and health. Many diseases—colds, pneumonia, infections, tuberculosis—are partialy due to poor ventilation.

But the most important results are in the less permanent manifestations of faulty air conditioning—feelings of discomfort, headaches, lack of vigor and efficiency.

The principles of ventilation are so often disregarded and so little known and so important that they will be discussed in the articles during the entire week.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

Mrs. J. A. O.: "Please tell me what foods are alkaline producing and what are acid producing? I hear that oranges, grapefruit and tomatoes produce an alkaline condition. Can you tell me the name of a book on the subject?"

Answer: Acid-producing foods are white bread, whole wheat bread, dried sweet corn, crackers, cranberries, eggs, egg white, egg yolk, fish (haddock and pike), lean beef, chicken, frog, lean pork, rabbit, veal oysters, oatmeal, peanuts, prunes, plums and rice. Alkaline-producing foods are almonds, apples, asparagus, bananas, dried beans, dried lima beans, beets, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, chestnuts, dried currants, lemons, lettuce, cow's milk, muskmelon, oranges, peaches, dried peas, potatoes, radishes, raisins and turnips. A book on the subject is "Nomal Diet" by W. D. Sansum, published by C. V. Mosby & company.

Plan To Provide Work, Successful

Rochester Idea Would Work Well In New Castle Or Any Other City

New Castle is interested in dispatches from Rochester, N. Y., which tells of a plan to provide work in place of dispensing charity. Rochester citizens were confronted with the same problems that face New Castle and scores of other cities throughout the county.

Under the plan Rochester organized scores of workers who began a systematic canvass of the city to learn how much money would be spent for needed improvements. The improvements were to embrace such work as repairs to houses, in the way of carpenter work, painting, plumbing, plastering, papering, brick work, furnace work, and anything else that might be needed. Grading and other lines of work were also solicited.

The result was that in three weeks $6,026,351 worth of work was listed. Rochester has 375,000 inhabitants. A like percentage of work in respect to population, could probably be secured in New Castle, or any other city.

There is unquestionably a large amount of work to be done in New Castle. There are hundreds of houses in need of repairs of some kind. Many have refrained from making repairs owing to high cost. It is believed that a temporary agreement at least could be reached, by which this work could be done at a greatly reduced cost. It would help property owners and help the unemployed.

It would also mean that materials would have to be bought and this would help business all around. Work of all kinds, such as repairs to furniture, tin work, roofs, automobiles and electrical machinery, is solicited. It was found that hundreds of door bells were out of order, and that other electrical work was needed in Rochester.

Second Charleroi Girl Is Attacked

Mary Elizabeth Dierney, 15, Latest Victim Of "Hoodlum", Car Number Secured

(International News Service)

CHARLEROI, Pa., Jan. 15.—An outraged countryside and police rose up today in armed posses to scout Monongahela valley for four men who attempted to attack a high school girl on the streets here. It was the second attempted assault on high school girls within the past four days.

Mary Elizabeth Dierney, 15 years old, was the latest victim. She was waylaid enroute home from school by four men. She managed to escape after a terrific struggle in which she was bruised and her clothes torn. Her screams attracted aid and police are said to be in possession of the license number of the automobile.

Following with four days the attempted attack on Dorothy May Henrion, 17, another Charleroi high school girl, the outrage created a sensation here and in surrounding counties. Miss Henrion was stopped by two men who beat her into unconsciousness after tearing her clothes to shreds. She managed to escape to the doorstep of her home where she collapsed. For a time it was believed she would die. Her condition is still serious.

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on him should not perish, but have eternal life. —John 3:16.

(The International Uniform Sunday school lesson for January 17 is John 3:1-21, the subject being, "Jesus and Nicodemus" and the Golden Text, John 3:16.)

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Dwight L. Moody used to say that he was glad that our Lord spoke of the necessity of the new birth to Nicodemus, a great doctor of the law, rather than to the woman at the well of Samaria, or to Matthew, the publican or to Zacchaeus. Because, if it had been to such as these He had spoken it, Moody might have reasoned, "Certainly, these publicans and harlots need to be converted, but I am an upright man and do not need conversion."

Not Compliments, but Conversion

Nicodemus, a great religious leader of his people, came to Jesus with glowing compliments which might have turned the head of other teachers as young as Jesus. He said to Him, "Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God; for no one can do these signs that thou doest, except God be with him." But the compliment did not keep Jesus from telling His celebrated guest that even so prominent a religious leader as himself needed an entirely new nature before he could see the kingdom of God. "Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except one be born anew, he cannot see the kingdom of God." In other words, what Jesus wanted from Nicodemus was not compliments but conversion, confession of sin and contrition. Even such as Nicodemus were sinners and must see in Jesus a Saviour who could so change them as to give them an entirely new nature.

Not Reformation, but Regeneration

Nicodemus could see neither the necessity nor the possibility of such a beginning over again on the part of one of his attainments. He argued against the possibility of a man becoming a babe again: "How can a man be born when he is old?" But Jesus was insistent and reiterated His position: "Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except one be born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God." Man needs something which he can no more do for himself than he can lift himself by his own boot straps. He must confess himself helpless as a babe, and in need of what only God can do for him. His nature by birth is fleshly, and if it is ever to be spiritual it must be by a spiritual birth as real as his physical birth: "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born anew."

The Uplifted Saviour

Jesus reminded Nicodemus of an incident in his people's history in the days of Moses, when, because of their sin, God sent a scourge of fiery serpents from which many of them died. Upon their repentance God instructed Moses to erect in the camp a serpent of brass, whereupon, if they would but look with penitent and believing hearts, they should be healed and saved. Jesus made this a type of His own crucifixion for the sin of the world, saying, "As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up." From this John condensed the whole Bible into one grand verse, which is "the little gospel," John 3:16: "God so loved the world that he gave his Only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not Perish, but have Everlasting Life."

Employment Given On Township Roads

County Commissioners And Supervisors Are Co-operating To Help Unemployed

Some township road supervisors are taking advantage of the present opportunity to have road work done at a nominal cost. County Commissioner Elmer Conner stated today that some of the unemployed who are in need of help do not wish to accept charity, but want to do something by way of return.

Hickory township road supervisors have made arrangements whereby the county furnishes men. The township authorities send in a truck to take the men to work, gives them their dinner, and brings them back. The county pays for the work. The plan helps the men to retain their self-respect, and it also helps the township, in getting road work done at a minimum of cost.

Shenango township has also made arrangements to work some men under the same plan. There are many men who cannot get a day's work any place. They must have something on which to live, but do not feel like accepting it as charity. The men are to be commended for their willingness to earn even the small amount that the county is able to give them, and the road supervisors and county commissioners for their efforts to provide work.

If the winter remains open there are probably other townships who will be able to use men in this manner. It may take a little longer to get men to some of the outlying townships, but with truck service, this ought not to be much of a handicap.

SONS OF VETERANS GOING TO ELLWOOD

The members of Oscar L. Jackson Camp, No. 249, Sons of Union Veterans and its auxiliary, who are going to Ellwood City this evening will meet at the City Building Hall at 7 p. m. sharp in order to get to Ellwood City in good time. The local group plan to put on part of the evenings entertainment.

BEGINNING TO LIVE

An appetizing cereal, bringing "bulk" and Vitamin B, stopped the source of those dull headaches, and premature wrinkles

SHE had been a sufferer from constipation for many years. It sapped her enthusiasm and energy, took the sparkle out of her eyes, and made her skin sallow.

Every night she dosed herself with pills and drugs — in bigger and bigger quantities as time went on. They gave only temporary relief. Then, fortunately, she read an advertisement about Kellogg's ALL-BRAN (just as you are doing now).

She tried this delicious cereal. The results were surprising. She found she had a lot more energy at the end of a day. Her skin lost its sallow hue. Her drabness departed. Her friends discovered in her a new and colorful personality.

How could so simple a thing as eating a cereal effect this great change? Here's why. ALL-BRAN brings two things that check common constipation. "Bulk" which exercises the intestines. Vitamin B which helps give them tone. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar in action to that of lettuce. Inside the body, it absorbs moisture, and becomes a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Try two tablespoonfuls daily. If you suffer from intestinal trouble not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming. Equally tasty as a cereal with milk or cream, or cooked into fluffy bran muffins, breads, omelets, waffles, etc. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

GETS DIVORCE AT 72.

(International News Service)

DETROIT—A 72-year-old man who has not seen his wife since he left her in Europe almost 41 years ago, today has a divorce because he "wants to die single." Vincenzo Cuzzocrea, the petitioner, told Judge Homer Ferguson that he left his wife, Francesca, in Galina, Italy, in 1891 after two years of married life and came to the United States.

ILLUSTRATED BIBLE LESSON

Jesus and Nicodemus

John 3:1-21

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Nicodemus—whose name means "victor over the people"—was a member of the Sanhedrin or Council of Seventy, corresponding to our senate. Nicodemus, as a representative of the Sanhedrin, "came to Jesus by night" to interview Him and to report to the Sanhedrin what attitude should be adopted toward Him.

As Jesus had no dwelling in Jerusalem he passed the night in the open, probably in the Garden of Gethsemane on the slope of Mount Olivet. Nicodemus complimented Jesus as "a teacher come from God," but Jesus responded that "Except one be born anew, he cannot see the Kingdom of God."

As Nicodemus questioned on being "born anew," Jesus reminded him of how in the days of Moses, when the people had sinned and were punished through being bitten by serpents, God had Moses make a great serpent of brass and lift it on a pole in the camp, and whoever looked upon it was saved.

"And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up, that whosoever believeth may in Him have eternal life. For God so loved the world, that he gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish but have eternal life." GOLDEN TEXT: John 3:16.

Senior Reception Is Big Success

Over 400 Attend Colorful Event At High School On Thursday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—Probably the most successful affair of its kind in the history of the school took place in the Lincoln gymnasium last night when the Seniors gave their annual reception to the members of the class, their friends, the faculty, and Board of Education.

The affair undoubtedly had the largest crowd in attendance. The Senior B's were quite original in their decorations of the gym. Instead of going to the usual expense of buying crepe paper and other materials for decorations, the class used flowers and evergreens very effectively. Huge balls of snow suspended over head, gave the place quite a unique appearance.

Cards and dancing were in vogue until a late hour when a committee served refreshments to a crowd of over 400. Miss Elizabeth McKnight and Miss Marjorie Davidson, sponsors of the 12A and 12B classes respectively were in charge of arrangements.

The Senior B's took charge of the decorations and refreshments. The decoration committee was composed of George Brown, Phillip Price, William Baker, Louis Alfonso, Robert Frew, Alvie Klindienst, Dick Wilson, Nancy Douthett, Mary E. Christy, Mae Boggs, and Grace Davis. On the refreshment committee were Hilda Mae Snare, Marian Skewis, Esther Shaner, Congetta Botti, and Margaret Baldovich. The Senior A's provided the entertainment and their committee had Cecil Barlow and James Gaskell. William Baker represented the Senior B's on this committee.

Ellwood Invades Butler Tonight

Locals Are Under Dogs Against Classy Butler County School

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—Ellwood High cagers will trek to Butler this evening for their annual clash with Coach Heinzer's quintet.

The locals have been working hard since Tuesday and are prepared to give the Butler lads a stiff battle. Although instilled as the under dogs the Lloyd men are determined to upset the Butler County School. They feel that their win over Monaca last Tuesday has ended their losing streak. Ellwood was not very impressive last year until they met the Heinzer men who just barely escaped defeat. A victory over Butler would instill a great bit and enthusiasm into their future contests.

The Reserve squads of the two teams will stage a preliminary, preceding the main battle. The locals Reserves have been more impressive than the varsity and hold victories over New Castle, New Brighton, and Monaca Reserves.

BAPTIST GROUP

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—Group No. 2, of the First Baptist Church held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. H. M. Anderson on Glen avenue last night. After a short business meeting a delightful social period was held followed by a luncheon, served by the hostess. Eight members were present on the occasion. The next meeting will take place on February 11.

Reception Honors Mr. and Mrs. Paul Elliott Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—Rev. and Mrs. Paul H. Elliott were the guests of honor at a fine reception tendered them by the members of the Slippery Rock Church last night in the church rooms.

Over 150 were in attendance at this time. After a splendid dinner the remainder of the evening was taken up with conversation. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott received a great surprise when they were presented with several gifts by their admiring congregation. Omar Newton made the presentation of the principal gift. Rev. Elliott recently resigned as pastor of the church to accept a like position in Millvale, Pa.

Society Hears Several Reports

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15—An interesting meeting was held at the regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church Wednesday all day. Twenty four were present on the occasion.

A dinner was served at noon by the work committee, Mrs. William Weingartner, Mrs. Jess Weingartner and Mrs. John Wehman. Mrs. Merle McConahy and Miss Ruth Forrest assisted. Some work on a quilt and pillow cases for over-seas institutions was done following the dinner. At the usual business meeting several reports were heard by the society. It was announced that the apportionment for 1931 was paid and the balance left with the treasurer.

Mrs. William Weilhausen was in charge of the devotional period and Mrs. Harlam Gillespie of Query Corner. The next meeting will take place on Feb. 10 at which time an election of officers will take place.

Good Program At Mission Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—The Women's Missionary society of the Bell Memorial church held its regular meeting Thursday afternoon in the church. Forty members were present on the occasion.

A delicious dinner served by group No. 2 inaugurated the events of the day. Following this, work on a quilt was done, after which the usual business meeting and program was held. Mrs. Dora Cover, the president of the society, presided on the occasion. Mrs. George Hindmarch took charge of the devotional period. Then Mrs. Alice Guy favored the gathering with a vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. J. A. King.

The society at this time accepted the invitation from the First Presbyterian church to study their mission book together. Also a supper for January 28, their next meeting, was planned. An election of officers will take place on February 11. Group No. 3 will do the serving and group No. 2 will divide the program.

Howard Johnson Addresses Rotary

Found Romance

A romance that started to bud when Dr. Haldor Barnes, of Whitehall, Mich., accompanied Commander Richard Byrd on his Antarctic expedition, blossomed into flower when Dr. Barnes led Miss Phillis M. Creig to the altar. The couple met at the bride's home in New Zealand in 1928, when the Byrd expedition was en route to the pole. The newlyweds are shown looking at a picture of the bride's native city.

Ellport Has Another Fire

Fire Chief Believes Incendiary Is At Work—Loss Today $6,000

IS SECOND FIRE WITHIN TWO DAYS

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—Fire Chief H. T. Plante and other authorities are endeavoring to trace an "arson ring" which is believed to be in operation in the borough of Ellport, which has a record of one fire per month for the year 1931.

Early Thursday morning the fire department was called to fight the flames at the home of A. A. Wimer which was completely destroyed.

Again at 12:45 this morning the department was called to cope with a fire at the home of Steve Reibnak on the Wurtemburg road. Fire Chief Plante placed the cause, on the work of an arson ring. The home, a two story frame building which was used as a store and dwelling burned to the ground. A near-by chicken coop and garage were also destroyed.

The family at the time of the fire was not home. Nothing was salvaged. The loss is estimated at $6000 and is reported to be entirely covered by insurance.

Due to the lack of fire fighting facilities in Ellport, the local fire department could no nothing but use chemicals.

The fire caused extensive damage to the Bell Telephone Company and the P. and O. Power Company lines. Telephone communication with Ellport was impossible this morning. Poles were burned down and wire melted which resulted in having 175 stations out of order. Work has been going on all morning and it is expected that communication may be properly established by 3:30 this afternoon.

CAT UP-A-TREE SAVED.
(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY—The bad luck traditionally associated with black cats was visited upon the animal in the exploits of "Tim," a big, black Angora, friend of everybody. But good luck finally triumphed and "Tom" is a happy feline again. The cat had climbed to the top of a big elm tree and was unable to get down. Neighbors hearing the plaintive meows summoned the fire department. A fire truck towas was raised and the cat rode safely to the ground perched on the shoulder of a fireman.

TO GIVE SERIES OF COURSES FOR 25 CENTS
(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 15.—Unemployed, and any others interested, may obtain courses at Harvard University for a fee of twenty-five cents.

This was assured when Harvard agreed to assist in the series of co-operative university courses to be given for twelve weeks beginning on January 11th. The series was arranged by the Massachusetts Emergency Committee on Unemployment.

Harvard has been asked to provide instructions in the following courses: Business Economics, Appreciation of Art, Appreciation of Music, Choral Singing, and Literature. Registration was being handled at the Y. M. C. A., State House, Y. W. C. A., and the Alumni office, Harvard. The twenty-five cent registration will cover one or all courses.

Although the instructions will be of university grade, university credits will not be awarded. The lectures are open to all who have a high school education.

TRAVELING SALESMAN AND BRAND NEW STORY
(International News Service)

WINSTED, Conn., Jan. 15.—One of the best stories to drift across the state line from the Berkshires in many months is that of the Great Barrington salesman who knocked at the door of a Sheffield house and was told to wait "just a minute, please."

He waited patiently, courteously. Then knocked again, and again the voice, "Just a minute, please." It was taking the lady of the house a long time to dress, thought the salesman as the minute became an hour.

He gave up, and next door a woman informed him that the family on whom he had tried to call was away for the day. He smiled knowingly, and begged pardon, but there was someone home because he had heard the voice.

"Oh, that," said the neighbor "that was only the family parrot.

Mother-Daughter Held As Alleged Auto Ring Member

Describe Mrs. Eunice W. Schwertfeger As Ring Leader

(International News Service)

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 15.—A 36-year-old mother and her daughter were held under heavy bail in Ohio county jail here today as alleged members of an automobile theft ring which has already sent 32 persons to jail in various parts of the county.

Both women are under federal indictment. They are Mrs. Eunice W. Schwertfeger, aged 36, and Mrs. Mary A. Yarnell, a young daughter.

Department of justice agents returned the mother from Oklahoma where she was arrested. The federal authorities described the woman as the leader of the purported ring.

Mrs. Yarnell is held under $50,000 bail. No attempt as yet has been made to obtain liberation of the mother on bond. The latter said she was a resident of Richmond, Ohio.

HANEY'S ON THE PUBLIC SQUARE

Committee Selected By Governor Pinchot For Utilities Probe

Committee Of Fifteen Will Investigate Utility Rates In State

Boisterous Meeting In Reception Room In Capital—Program Is Outlined

By LEO V. DOLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—A "committee of 15" to investigate excessive public utility rates today emerged as the salient achievement of a group of borough and township representatives who variously cheered, hooted and hissed speakers in the sedate reception room of Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

Efforts to organize a smooth-functioning body to effect rate reductions went by the boards as smouldering bitterness in the representatives' ranks broke out in full flame. Anti-utility speakers drew overwhelming applause; pro-utility pleaders were silenced by cat-calls, boos, jeers and hisses.

C. J. Dickson, Berwick, president of the Pennsylvania Fair Rate league, who moved the appointment of the investigating committee was named its chairman. Other members are H. V. McNair, Middletown; John U. Redding, Osceola Mills; P. J. Meyer, Millheim; P. A. McGowan, Williamsport; Paul R. Reese, Coaldale; J. Steele Butler, Brookville; Thomas F. Chrostwaite, Hanover; S. S. Baldridge, Apollo; Joseph W. Beaman, Towanda; John Noble, Wilkes-Barre; M. B. Klinesmith, Grove City; W. J. Landis, Monongahela; J. H. Rockenstein, Freedom, and the Rev. Father James Cox of Pittsburgh.

Meeting Boisterous.

So boisterous became the meeting on several occasions that Charles W. Staudenmaier, Schuylkill county legislator and sponsor of fair rate measures, rose to reproach the borough representatives for "barroom tactics: which, he charged, had resulted in the "sorry spectacle" of denying the right of free speech to a speaker and pleaded the cause of the utilities.

Staudenmaier condemned the "insult" offered to John H. Bigelow, Hazleton, who appeal to A. B. Davidson, Tarentum, chairman of the meeting, for the right to be heard courtesously by those assembled in the reception room resulted in Davidson ruling:

"You are taking up too much time. There are men here who heard you before and they are not interested in what you have to say."

When Bigelow attempted to continue, his voice was drowned out by a rhymthic hand-clapping. Bigelow retired.

Program Outlined

Formation of the committee followed a welcoming address by Governor Pinchot who outlined an eleven-point program for the regulation of Public Utilities in the state. The program of the executive, who assured the representatives of his "enthusiastic co-operation," is as follows:

1.—Prohibiting issuance of securities by utilities without approval of the Public Service Commission.

2.—Prohibiting utilities from placing excess earnings in reserve funds.

3.—Providing for condemnation and operation of utilities by municipalities.

4.—Limiting utility charters to fifty years.

5.—Giving jurisdiction over utility holding companies to the Public Service Commission.

6.—Requiring commission approval of increased rates before rates may become effective.

7.—Permitting the commission to make reparation where rates are found to be unreasonable and unjust.

8.—Elimination of ready-to-serve charges.

9.—Requiring utilities to make replacements from reserve funds.

10.—Lowering rates for rural classifications.

11.—Elimination of commission approval of municipal contracts with utilities.

Governor Pinchot came in for a share of the criticism that crackled continuously while the meeting was in progress. L. W. Hagmaier, State Representative and Burgess of Aspinwall, charged the utility code bill in the 1931 session had been killed as a result of the Governor's insistence on a "hire and fire" clause which would have given the executive absolute power over a fair-rate board.

Murdered Society Beauty

Police of Middleburg, Va., are conducting a frantic hunt for the killers of Mrs. Spencer Ilsley, society beauty and leader of the exclusive hunting set in that city. The murder is believed to have been the work of burglars as Mrs. Ilsley's maid was also slain and the house ransacked throughout. The murdered woman was 32 years old and was prominent in Washington, Chicago and New York society. Since her husband's death two years ago, Mrs. Ilsley had resided at her home in Middleburg, taking part in many social activities, particularly in the hunting field, where she was a familiar figure. She is shown on a favorite horse.

Scotland Yard Discovers Why Girls Leave Home

Less Than Ten Per Cent Remain Away For Long

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 15—The ancient question: "Why do girls leave home?" is no mystery to Scotland Yard.

Here are the principal reasons why 15,000 women and girls drop out of sight in Britain yearly:

1—Fits of temper following quarrels.

2—Love troubles: associations with married men.

3—Small thefts.

4—Delusions suffered by middle-aged women.

5—Desire for adventure.

6—Employment of which parents disapprove.

7—Suicide.

Foul play, detectives say, seldom accounts for a disappearance It is rare that a murder can completely dispose of the body of his victim. "White slave" traffic is negligible.

Only one out of a thousand London girls who disappear are never found, and only two out of a thousand British girls drop permanently from sight, detectives stated.

Less than ten per cent remain missing for more than a fortnight, and it is rare that a girl cannot be found within two or three months.

Men who disappear are not so easy to find. This, it was explained, is because men can more easily take care of themselves. When women find out that life away from home isn't so pleasant, they usually come back.

Business worries and unendurable home life are the chief reasons for man's disappearances, Scotland Yard said. On an average twelve persons a day are reported missing in London.

Paris reported recently that 27,000 persons disappeared there this year. Reasons given were debt, love affairs and adventure.

More than 25,000 were reported missing this year in New York Included were 3500 boys and 2450 girls.

Controversy Over Board Bill Amount

Case Of J. L. Miller And Wife Against Henry G. Fox On Trial Today

The case of J. L. and Alma Miller against Henry G. Fox is on trial today before Judge R. L. Hildebrand in Lawrence County Court. The case is one in which the Millers are sueing for a balance alleged to be due on a contract for keeping Mrs. Fox, mother of the defendant.

Under the original terms of the contract Mr. Fox was to pay $5 per week, and if Mrs. Fox needed more attention, a larger amount was to be paid. By a verbal agreement this was later increased to $8 per week. Miller's claim that there was also an understanding that if greater attention was required the amount paid was to be increased.

Mr. Fox claims to have paid the bills regularly by drafts from March, 1921, until some time in 1923. At the time Mrs. Fox left Fox claims that there was only $14.30 due, according to a statement made to him by Miller, but Miller is claiming something over $300 on account of additional work in caring for Mrs. Fox.

Determination Versus Suavity

An interesting photo study, made during a session of investigations which the Senate Committe is conducting into the sale of foreign bonds in the United States, shows in sharp contrast the determined mien of Senator Hiram Johnson (right) of California and the suavity of Victor Schoepperle, vice-president of the National City Company, who was under interrogation. The banker admitted during the course of the two-hour examination that his company's loan to Colombia was made about the same time that the Colombia Government restored an oil concession in which a Mellon-owned oil company is interested. Schoepperle testified that the State Department had called his objections to making the loans "technicalities."

Japan's Olympic Invaders

Lake Placid, N. Y., is taking on a cosmopolitan aspect these days as the international teams that are scheduled to participate in the Olympic games are gathering at the battle ground where the contests will be decided. This photo shows members of the Japanese Olympic team standing in front of the house they will occupy for the run of the games. The Japanese entries are 12 skiers, six speed skaters and a few figure cutters.

Three Stolen Tires Claimed By Owners

Three of the stolen tires recovered by Detective C. G. Logan and Officer Thomas Lynch through the confession of Fred Bush, colored, and the corroborating statements of Augustine Fandzzi, relative to their actions the night, when the latter was caught by former Police Officer Charles Augostine with the tire stolen from his car, have been claimed by the owners. They belonged to W. M. Nunn, William H. Dunlap, Jr., and Frank Golis.

One tire taken from an Essex machine and a blanket taken from a car on Cedar street in the seventh ward are still in the hands of the police awaiting the owners, who are as yet unknown.

Two Strange Girls Found In Stolen Auto On Thursday

Claim They Did Not Know Driver Of The Machine In Which They Rode

J. W. Biddle of Edenburg reported the theft of his Whippet coach from South street Thursday afternoon and the police were on the lookout for the missing machine, when about seven o'clock last night a call was received from North Cedar street and Mahoning avenue to the effect that an automobile had crashed into a street car.

Officers Thomas and Criswell hurried to the place and found that the stolen machine had run into Street Car No. 361 operated by M. J. Hunter.

The driver of the automobile ran away after the crash, but two girls in the machine remained and they were arrested. They gave the names of Ruth Walker, 17 of Monaca Heights and Marie Doyle, 22 of Beaver Falls. They claimed that they did not know the driver of the machine in which they had been riding. They admitted that the driver had told them that he had made six trips to Youngstown during the day to get liquor.

The machine was moved to a local garage and the owner notified. The girls were discharged this morning by Mayor Chas. B. Mayne on their agreement to get out of town immediately and stay out.

LAST NARROW GUAGE QUITS

(International News Service)

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Jan. 15—A horse and wagon supplanted railroad service between Bellaire and Jacobsburg near here when the old B.Z.&Z., last narrow guage railroad in America, quit business. Squire Adam Bovenizer, 70, and his horse, "Whitey," for years had taken the mail from the train to the postoffice and when the train quit, he enlarged his service to take over that of the railroad.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Boy Of 16 Would Let Tots Fight

Thinks Paternal Interference Often Is Harmful

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

Much wisdom comes in letters "I may be wrong, but it seems to me the boys would have been much better off without interference. I'm reading your column very long, so maybe you have written on the subject I am about to mention. Why can't mothers mind their own business when the children are fighting? Yesterday I was looking out the window, and I noticed two boys standing with clenched fists, glaring at each other. They were both around eight years old, but one was quite a bit smaller than the other. Then they started to poke at each other with their fists and I could hear, 'You're yellow,' and the like. They weren't hurting each other. Just when I was getting genuinely interested, the smaller boy's mother stormed out of the house, grabbed her small son by the shoulders, and gave the other boy a good scolding. . . . .

"I may be wrong, but it seems to me the boys would have been much better off without interference. I'm 16, and of this 'ignorant younger generation,' so perhaps I am not fit to give opinion. But won't you please say something about this in your very interesting column?"

Answer: You are right, and you appear exceedingly well fitted to express an opinion. No doubt it will prove more eloquent than if it had been uttered by an oldster. In this column I have said a number of times, less effectively than you have, that we ought to let children settle their own quarrels, that, moreover, some of them we ought to teach to fight in self-defense. The mother would have done her boy much good if she had praised him for his courage.

As a fine example of what happens to children not allowed to learn to settle their own quarrels, let me quote from a worried mother's letter: "I have a six-year-old boy who has been a problem since he was two years old. . . . Whenever he makes his appearance in a group there is almost instant trouble. Today I asked a group of boys with whom he had been playing, what the trouble was, when I heard him screaming and crying. One replied that Junior always started wrestling, throwing grass, sticks, or stones, and laughing when he did so. When they retaliated he always cried and still would not give up. This goes on several times a day, and to stop the abuse and screaming I am usually called to the rescue.

"No matter with whom he is playing, when a third child is playing the third child is always against him. . . . I never dare leave him alone in the daytime because he always gets into trouble, sometimes seriously hurt, and this continuent and the worry over his behavior makes me mentally and physically ill.

"I dread starting him to school this fall, for wherever he goes he is the cause of trouble, and the target of abuse. His father and our specialist blame me for everything, but I am doing the best I can and know how to do."

Her last sentence is most pathetic. She, as well as the child, is to be pitied. Undoubtedly she is doing the best she can and the father and specialist are not helping her much by scolding her. She merely has had an unfortunate point of view in regard to her lad and has built up many habits of defense around it. To her and the child it will be very hard to change. Anything we can do to encourage parents of children beginning to walk to let them learn to defend themselves with their fists, ought to render them less quarrelsome later.

Hoover Urged To Name Sen. Walsh As U. S. Justice

Influential Republican Leaders In Senate Urge Appointment Of Democrat

MONTANAN WOULD LIKELY ACCEPT

Suggest Appointing Of 'Liberal' To Succeed Oliver Wendell Holmes

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—President Hoover is seriously considering the appointment of Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat, of Montana, to the vacancy on the United States supreme court bench caused by retirement of Oliver Wendell Holmes, "The great liberal."

Principal reason the president is giving such serious consideration to Senator Walsh is that—oddly enough—Republican leaders of the senate are backing him almost to a man. By telephone and personal interview during the past 24 hours they have importuned Mr. Hoover to appoint him.

Pressure Exerted.

Whether they will be successful remains to be seen, but certainly more pressure is being brought to bear in Walsh's behalf than in the case of any of the other score of possibilities—and from a source which Mr. Hoover cannot ignore.

Late yesterday, a group of the most influential Republicans in the senate conferred with Postmaster General Walter F. Brown and urged him to join with them in endorsing the Montanan to the White House. Singularly enough, the move to promote Senator Walsh to the bench appears wholly Republican. No Democratic senators participated in the conference—not because they do not approve of Walsh, but because they were unaware of the Republican movement in his behalf.

Could Get Approval.

One of the most potent arguments being used in Walsh's behalf is that his confirmation by the senate would be almost instantaneous. Republican leaders are most anxious to avoid anything approaching a contest over the successor to Justice Holmes, such as occurred in two of Mr. Hoover's previous supreme court appointments. The senate fought for days before confirming Chief Charles E. Hughes, and in the case of John J. Parker the battle was so bitter the president ultimately was forced to withdraw Parker's name.

With these contests still fresh in the public mind, Republican leaders have strongly urged Mr. Hoover to appoint a man this time about whose qualifications and confirmation there can be no doubt. They have also informed the president the country expects "a Liberal" to succeed the greatest Liberal that ever sat on the bench, and they regard Walsh as coming within that category.

Political Implications.

Political implications in Walsh's appointment have also been stressed. Walsh is a Democrat and a Catholic. The last three appointment to the bench have been Republican.

Moreover, it has been pointed out Walsh won undying renown by his vigorous prosecution of the oil scandals, which Mr. Hoover so vehemently denounced at the grave of Warren G. Harding last June, and his appointment would be in the nature of a recognition of that service.

One thing that may militate against Senator Walsh is his age. He is 72, but his friends point out there is no more industrious member of the senate than Walsh, despite his age.

Many Candidates.

There is no dearth of other candidates. President Hoover already has almost a score of names on his desk—Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, Judge Benjamin N. Cardozo of New York, Judge Wm. S. Kenyon of Iowa, George W. Wickersham, John W. Davis, Attorney General Wm. D. Mitchell, Judge Wm. T. James of California, Gerald Hughes of Denver, Garrett McEnerney of San Francisco, Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson of Texas, and many others.

In view of the fact the court is just getting into its long term, it is expected President Hoover will make an appointment at an early date.

WESLEY MEN DO MUCH WORK

Young Men Of West Washington Street District Grade Methodist Church Property

The young men of the Wesley Methodist church, West Washington street, have accomplished a great deal of hard work in the past few weeks, inasmuch as they have graded the ground back of the church, tiled the ditch running along the street, and made a place suitable for the members of the congregation to park their cars.

In addition to grading the ground, they also erected a flood light, which enables the driver with his night parking.

In appreciation for all the work done by the young men, who were supervised by the pastor, Rev. George B. Nolder, and Prof. R G. Leslie, the women of the church, under the leadership of Mrs. R. G Leslie and Mrs. William Britton, invited the group to a delicious chicken dinner Tuesday evening in the church dinning room.

Submits December Milk Report

City Bacteriologist Shows Result Of Milk Tests Here

When city council met today Dr. W. L. Steen presented a report covering milk activities during the month of December. The report is delivered each month after samples of milk have been collected and examined.

According to the report, "good clean milk should contain less than 25,000 bacteria. Dirty milk may contain enormous numbers of bacteria.

"Pasteurized milk should contain less bacteria than raw milk because pasteurizing destroys the bacteria.

"Raw milk which contains more than 100,000 bacteria is classed insanitary and sale is prohibited.

"Pasteurized milk which contains more than 50,000 bacteria is classed insanitary and sale is also prohibited."

The following is a result of the milk analysis during December:

Y. W. Bureau Is Trying To Find Work For Women

Splendid Work Being Done By Friendly Service Of Local Association

The Friendly Service Bureau of the Y. W. C. A., organized several months ago for the purpose of finding work for unemployed women and aiding employers to find suitable help, had 67 new applicants for the jobs during the month of December.

Adding 43 women who had already registered the month before the total number of women seeking jobs was 110 according to a report given by Miss Emma Moore, executive of the department. The report was submitted a committee consisting of Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, chairman, Mrs. M. L. Ailey, Mrs. Earl Douglas, Mrs. C. W. Duff, Mrs. James Rhodes, Mrs. William Wilson and Miss Fannie Howard.

In that one month the Friendly Service Bureau made 25 placements.

Interesting facts of that month were: ages of women seeking positions ranged from 15 to 60 years. Most of the applicants were between the ages of 15 to 20 years. Many were between ages of 30 to 40 years. Fifty of the women and girls had no home while the other 17 lived at home. Eight desired business or professional work, the rest wanted industrial jobs.

Many employers, wanting either business girls or girls experienced in house work, have found this bureau most beneficial.

Greater Council Members Listen To Gov. Pinchot

"Pennsylvania Must Keep Moving Ahead" Gover- Tells Selected Group

MUST SELL STATE TO ITS CITIZENS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—"Pennsylvania must keep moving ahead."

With this as a keynote, Gov. Gifford Pinchot Thursday outlined, at the first meeting of the Greater Pennsylvania Council, the guide posts along the roads of progress toward a super-state in agricultural, recreational, industrial, and social development of the commonwealth.

Participatiton of the various members of the council in working for realization of a Greater Pennsylvania, the Governor said, "Represents the highest range of achievement in your respective callings."

Politics No Part

The Governor emphasized that politics had no part in selection of the council's personnel and that politics would not be allowed to interfere with the council's work in state employment.

Pointing out that the migration of capital and the trends and shifts in population indicate changes of considerable magnitude, Governor Pinchot urged the need for realistic planning to keep Pennsylvania in the vanguard of the nation's progress. He continued:

"In bituminous coal, for instance, many mines in Pennsylvania are idle, even though nearest the great markets of coal, while coal from southern fields is carried past our duors. In textiles, we find the Carolinas looming as the new textile center of America. In recreation, New England, the seashore, Florida and Canada are taking large numbers of tourists, while Pennsylvania's beauties of mountain and plain are far too little seen and enjoyed.

Are Immiensely Wealthy

"In our stores, we find apples brought from beyond the Rockies, potatoes raised in Maine, and maple syrup coming from Vermont that is quite often our own product sent there to be merchandised back to us."

The Governor deplored, as "a tendency to slip back," the declining population in the northern tier and the central regions of the state. He warned also Pennsylvania must strive against the shifting of capital from the commonwealth to other states.

A brighter side of the picture was painted by the Governor as he spoke in glowing terms of the state's assets—industrial and social. In this connection, he observed:

"In natural resources, we are immensely wealthy, our lands are fertile, our people are vigorous and intelligent and the warm loveliness of natural beauty in Pennsylvania is unsurpassed. The possibilities ahead of us, if we choose to use them, are very great."

Business Recovery

"Since it is the immediate need of the time, I suggest that you give your prompt and earnest attention to the problems of business recovery, that you attempt to develop a more wholesome outlook and a healthier tone throughout our economic order. The building of a spirit of courage and faith in Pennsylvania's possibilities is as essential to prosperity as are the scientific plans and projects that you will develop.

"I trust that you will blend confidence in the future with sound scientific procedure in the performance of your duties."

Expresses Faith

Harrisburg, Jan. 15. — Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, President of Penn State College and newly-appointed chairman of the Greater Pennsylvania Council, Thursday expressed keen delight that the council was "charged (Thank Heaven) with determining ways and means for establishing and guaranteeing the political well-being" of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Hetzel expressed his faith in the council and declared that "the work of the council should be so prosecuted as to make it reasonably certain that should the ministry of this body be discontinued at the end of six months or six years or any other time, it would leave existing institutions and agencies which are capable of constructive work with their programs strengthened and their resources enhanced.

Sub-committees

The executive committee, Dr. Hetzel, shall be divided into sub-committees which will be called "functional" committees.

Each committee will have jurisdiction over one of the broad fields, including agriculture, recreation, and industries.

Sub-committees will be divided, the president said, into project committees, these committees to be responsible for defining the purpose, prescribing the procedure, and directing the work incident to the several separate and distinct project programs.

"Scientific efforts toward finding the factors which may be used to bring about business recovery in the state" were included in the list of projects announced by the executive committee for submission to the full membership of the council late today.

Projects Listed

Other projects in the list include studies for the improvement of agriculture, rehabilitation of certain state industries and studies looking toward improved recreation, transportation and general industrial conditions.

Recreational development studies are planned for the Poconos, the Philadelphia concentration area, Pittsburgh concentration area, Pymatuning region, Erie area, Northeast Pennsylvania and the Seven Mountain and Black Forest area.

World Convention Plans Maturing

State Sabbath School Association To Be Represented At South America Meet

Robert Strickler, president of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, or Mrs. W. J. Marshall, county secretary, are ready to receive reservations for transportation to the next World's Convention of Sunday Schools, which will be held July 25-31 at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Already many persons have registered from Pennsylvania and the number of delegates from this state is as many as any other two states. There will be 54 nations of the world participating in the program, which is the first world religious gathering ever held south of the equator.

There are popular boat trips planned for the entertainment of the visitors, which will take in the beauties of the coast of the southern continent.

Mr. Yates and Mr. Bilkie, students from the seminary conducted the services at Mahoning Sunday and took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kletzer.

The elders and trustees of Mahoning held a business meeting Monday evening at the home of L. A. Philips.

ASK JOBS FOR MEN WHO ARE MARRIED

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 15.—A plea to hire only married men on road improvement projects here has been made by Major W. H. Supplee, county engineer. He sent his request to 22 township supervisors.

At the same time, the engineer announced that "food orders" would be given instead of cash for payment for the secondary road work.

"Under the plan we are able to find work for many married men with families and at the same time are placing Erie county roads in good shape for the winter and spring months," said the major.

Statistics show it is more dangerous to get into a bath tub than an airplane. Maybe it's because you don't jump out of a plane when the phone rings.

"Pity Poor Babe," Week In New York, Slugger Is Silent

Fans Weep Crocidile Tears That Ruth Has Been Reduced To $70,000

Babe Is After Two-Year Contract From Yankees—Ruth Can Still Smile

By QUENTIN REYNOLDS
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 15—"Pity poor Babe Week" was under way today in New York and the crocidile tears which were shed at the sad plight of Babe Ruth have practicaliy inundated Broadway and its by-ways.

"Pity Poor Babe Week" began yesterday when it was learned that Colonel Jake Ruppert had sent the Babe a contract for 1932 which called for a paltry $70,000.

Ruth Is Silent

Immediately the storm of indignation broke and the helpless colonel had to turn for the storm cellar, while Ruth himself maintained an almost dignified silence, thousands of New Yorkers roared their protest at this Simon Legree who wanted to make poor Babe play baseball for an insignificant sum like $70,000.

The soup kitchens of the Bowery; the bread lines of First Avenue and the long lines in front of the municipal lodging house arose in shrill protest. They might be out of work. They might be hungry. Their families might be starving—but nevertheless, Rupper should not be allowed to get away with such a base and heartless plan. Only $70,000, indeed! Ruth the mighty must prevail.

Reducing his salary was tantamount to reducing the salary of the president. The fate of the country hung in the balance yesterday while thousands of baseball fans vented their indignation against the colonel.

Wants Two Years

Ruth himself oddly enough turned out to be an enthusiastic supporter of "Pity Poor Babe Week" and he dismissed the $70,000 contract with a shrug of his bovine shoulders.

"A two year contract calling for $70,000 a year will be okay with me," the great man said "but for one year—no."

He then excused himself to visitors and said that he had a date to play golf. He was speaking the truth too and he immediately hurried out to the St. Alban's course where he played 18 holes and won a $5 wager from his partner.

If the truth were known, Ruth did not seem greatly concerned about the terrific cut of $10,000 which the colonel had given him. The Babe, who earned $80,000 last year and the year before, seemed strangely confident that the colonel would soon come around to his way of thinking. Even after a half hour conference with the colonel yesterday morning Ruth still was smiling serenely.

Here And There In Sports' Land

Retrospection: Rube Jones calling balls and strikes....Mickey LaLonge catching a runner at second....George Chip battling Harry Greb in the Coliseum....Tommy Jones doing roadwork through Cascade park ....Carl Myland going to the fence to spear a fly....The Barry Boys-Y. M. C. A. basketball game....Paul McCullough and Joe Hartman in the 16-inning ball game....Bill Klee ripping through the line....Miz Dart doing yeoman service on the Westminster line...Jewie Coen making a throw from the outfield and cutting the runner off at the plate. And what are they all doing now?

Every now and then Rube Jones, the former O. & P. umpire and who officiated in practically all the games almost a score of years ago is around. The whereabouts of LaLonge are unknown. The last heard from him he was with a Michigan ball team. George Chip is here but Harry Greb has passed to the Great Beyond. Tommy Jones is directing traffic at Mill and Washington streets, and Carl Myland is in Chicago.

Some of the Barry boys and Y. M. C. A. players are here. Others have gone to other climes. One of the officials of that memorable game was C. Hugh Blair. He paid a visit to New Castle yesterday. He is now a Pittsburgher. Paul McCullough spent part of last season in the A. A. while Joe Hartman hurled for Jersey City. Paul is around town. Joe is an athletic coach at Grove City high.

Bill Klee is one of the athletic coaches at New Castle high school while Miz Dart, now a city fireman, helped to direct the blue and white football eleven during the past season. Jewie Coen is a game protector for Lawrence county, having recently recovered from an operation. During the summer time he pitches baseball hereabouts.

Just as many shrewd fight fans anticipated, the Max Schmeling-Mickey Walker fight, which was scheduled for February 25 at Miami, has been tosesd into the discard. Joe Jacobs, manager of Schmeling, accuses Jimmy Johnston, matchmaker for Madison Square Garden, of throwing a wet blanket on the fight. Schmeling participated in one bloomer when he fought Willie Stribling and his manager doesn't want another.

Were Schmeling to fight Jack Sharkey again and with business conditions anywhere near right, the promoters wouldn't have to worry about a bloomer. The fans wanted a Sharkey-Schmeling fight instead of a Stribling-Schmeling go but got what the promoters and managers wanted to give them. The Madison Square Garden promotion took an awful jolt on the pocketbook at Cleveland and they haven't forgotten the loss.

Leo Diegel scored a 68 at Agua Caliente, Baja, Calif., yesterday to take the lead in the world's richest golf stake, the $15,000 Agua Caliente open. The 68 gave him a total of 138, six under par, for the first 36 holes of the 72-hole tournament. He scored a 70 yesterday. Charles Guest, Deal, N. J., shot a 69 and is second with a score of 140.

Donie Bush, former manager of the Chicago White Sox, will arrive Monday at Minneapolis to discuss becoming manager and part owner of the Minneapolis club, Manager Mike Kelley announced today. Bush informed Kelly he wished to go over the situation fully before making his decision. Paul McCullough formerly pitched for Minneapolis.

Joe Alexander said today that Emmett Rocco, Ellwood City heavyweight, will probably fight this month. Should Eddie Simms win from Chet Shandel at Cleveland tonight, Rocco may be his next opponent. It is reported that Motor Square garden, Pittsburgh, has also offered a bout to Rocco with Tony Galento or Stanley Poreda.

Rocco has been out of the ring for a month or more and Alexander proposes to use care in selecting an opponent. Should Rocco box in Cleveland, Mickey Solomon will be on the card. Billy Joyce, junior welterweight in the camp of Jimmy Dime, will soon appear in a 10-rounder at Dayton. He is in good condition due to daily training.

Oilers Defeat Y. M. H. A. Five

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 15.—The Oil City Penzips today wore the insignia of another victory, this time over the fast Y. M. H. A. aggregation here which the oil-field boys defeated in a flashy spurt of action just before the final whistle.

Shepstal, Oil City forward, lopped through four baskets and in his idle moments made good two fouls for a total of ten points.

The "Y" basketeers seemed to hold the edge of victory as the final quarter rolled around. Refusing to concede the Jewish passers anything that even approached victory, the Oil City court-men put up a fast and furious battle that ended the game in their favo"

St. Marys Will Play Struthers

Saints Will Play Struthers All-Stars Here; Girls In Preliminary

The St. Marys varsity basketball team is rarin' for action today. Tonight they may bet their full of action as the Struthers All-Stars will appear at the St. Marys auditorium. The girls of St. Marys will play the preliminary game at 8 o'clock.

The Ohioans are reported to be fast and to have cleaned up all opposition in the Eastern Ohio area so far this year. Coach Fraser will have his strongest lineup available for the game tonight with the possibility that Kulich and Lackey will start at the forwards, with Alexander at center, and Jones and Uhle the stellar guards ready to keep the visitors from the baskets. Rowe is another possible starter.

The Saints are anxious to get started on a long winning streak and figure that they may just as well start tonight. The Ohioans will probably have other thoughts about the matter. Anyway, a good game is expected.

Testimonial To Slippery Rock Coach Planned

Banquet Will Attract Coaches From Many Big Colleges In Country

SLIPPERY ROCK, Jan. 15—Coverers for 200 former athletes of Slippery Rock State Teachers College will be laid at the dinner served at the Presbyterian church at 7 p. m. January 23rd.

The dinner will be a testimonial for Coach Kerr Thompson who for 15 years has directed the athletic activities of the school with pronounced success.

With Arthur Vincent presiding as toastmaster such well known stellar lights in the world of athletes as Luby Simeola of New York University, "Chick" Davies of Duquesne, John Lawther of Westminster; Jim Marks of Kiski, Honus Wagner former Pirate star and R. E. Torne of Grove City College will be introduced. The arrangements are in charge of Albert Dunn, Stanley Berkman, Richard Goldberg, Neenie Campbell, Paul Sager and Charles McDonald.

Thompson is a Butler county product. He attended Slippery Rock from 1905 to 1908. Matriculating later at Ursinus he made history as a football tackle, graduating in 1912.

From 1913 to 1919 he was coach at both Slippery Rock and Ursinus. Following the period of war and his discharge from the army he returned to Slippery Rock where he has been head of athletics since. His 1923 grid team scored 400 points; his 1924 team won 10 straight for a state championship; while his 1929 team was also a state champion among state teachers colleges.

PRELIM GAME AT 7:15 O'CLOCK

Games To Be Played On Washington Gym—Look For Big Crowd

TWO schoolboy basketball aggregations, undefeated in W. P. I. A. L. competition, will be called upon to face each other tonight at the George Washington junior high school gymnasium. The New Castle high and New Brighton quintets will provide the entertainment for adherents of both cities in a crucial section three battle. The embroglio, which looms as one of the best attractions so far this season, will start at 8 o'clock.

Prelim at 7:15.

The added feature will be a preliminary game between the reserves of the two institutions. The New Castle reserves played Ellwood City last Friday but were defeated. The local substitutes hope to win this tilt. This game starts at 7:15 o'clock.

The consensus of opinion down the valley is that New Castle has a better club than Beaver Falls. To date the New Brighton team has feasted on Ellwood City and Rochester in league play. Freedom was also added to the victory list Tuesday night 20-13. According to fans who watched the crimson and gold quintet play, the team looked impressive.

Coach George Roark's team is reported as being in the "peak" for the crack at the Bridenbaugh charges for the first time in a number of years. By the way, the meeting tonight is the first in some four or five years. New Brighton in its last two frays has gone through its opponents like water through a sieve. The game will be a test for the New Brighton team as well as the local machine.

Having practiced for the last week Coach Bridenbaugh announces his team to be in tip top form for the encounter. The work of the entire squad has pleased the local mentor. New Castle has captured three victories and will be out to annex the fourth one.

Coach Roark will start his strongest forces against the local boys in the hope of securing a victory over the highly touted Lawrence countians. Mujwit, the New Brighton scoring threat, will have to be watched. He is reputed as being a cagey fellow. His teammate, Fields, is another tricky passer. H. Molter at guard to date has also been predominant in the valley team lineup. The other guard will likely be Walker.

Andy Lasky's opponent at center will be Roth. So far the lanky New Castle center has shown up well. If he continues improving he will be a big asset before the season ends. The New Castle forwards will be John Teplica and John Uram. Nick Uram and Bus Reiber will be the guards.

The game headlines the section three program tonight. The winning team will have to lick Butler for first place, that is, if Ellwood City doesn't spill the Soap Miners this evening. This is the most important tilt of the first half race. The setto is expected to attract the attention of an overflowing house. New Brighton, acording to reports, will be represented 100 per cent. Admission to the game is 50 cents, two games for the price of one.

The probable lineups:

New Castle		New Brighton
J. Uram	F	Fields
Teplica	F	Mujwit
Lasky	C	Roth
N. Uram	G	H. Molter
Reiber	G	Walker

Time Out Rule May Be Changed

Before the New Castle and New Brighton high basketball teams take the floor for their crucial game tonight on the Washington floor, the officials of the schools may come to an agreement whereby the time out rule will be changed.

The rule calls for a one-minute rest instead of two minutes. There are many who believe a one-minute rest is not sufficient, especially to high school athletes. The officials will try to agree on allowing the players a two-minute rest instead of one. The officials of the local high school are in favor of changing the rule. As soon as the New Brighton players arrive here this matter will be taken up.

Loughran-Hamas Battle Tonight

First Big Test For Former Penn State Athletic Star In New York Ring

VICTORY MEANS CLIMB UPWARD

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 15—The well-known fistic crossroads will be used as a scenic prop in the ring at Madison Square Garden tonight for the ten-round bout between Steve Hamas, a young slugger getting his first big test, and Tommy Loughran, veteran master boxer who is just beginning to slip.

A defeat for Loughran, coming on the heels of his recent set back at the hands of King Levinsky, would push him definitely out of the heavyweight picture.

Loughran Favored

Defeat for Hamas would retard the progress of the former Penn State star for only a few months, while victory would catapult him into the big money class. Steve has been undefeated in twenty-six starts against Palookas, winning twenty-three of them by knockouts, but has never encountered a boxer of anything like Loughran's calibre.

Loughran is possibly the best-liked fighter in the game today and nobody wants to see him relegated to the limbo of Stumblebums. The odds say he won't lose. He is a 2 to 1 favorite to outsmart the youngster with the weaving, body punching style reminiscent of the old Dempsey.

I. W. W. Quintet Takes Victory

The I. W. W. quintet handed the West Pittsburg Reserves a 46 to 19 setback last night at West Pittsburg. For the winners the work of Smith, Badurick, and J. Fruitt featured. For the losers the playing of Onicka was the best. On Monday night the I. W. W. team will meet the strong Rambler Five at the St. Michael's hall. The game starts at 8 o'clock.

The summary:

I. W. W. 46.		West Pittsburg 19.
J. Fruitt	F	DeManaco
Smith	F	Lazar
Badurick	C	Quinn
A. Fruitt	G	Adams
Lewis	G	Onicka

Subs — Janovich, Marky. Field Goals—J. Fruitt 5, Smith 6, Badurick 7, Janovich, DeManaco 2, Lazar, Quinn 4, Onicka. Fouls—I. W. W., 6 out of 17. West Pittsburg, 3 out of 14. Referee—Sisko, Penney.

Reider And Cuba Out For Panther Basketball Team

New Castle Boys Report With MacMurdo, Hirshberg, Colline, O'Dell And Cutri

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 15.— Seven City basketeer champions in their own right, today wore the abbreviated costumes of basketball players in answer to Coach "Doc" Carlson's urgent call for reserves.

Smarting under the defeat administered by Duquesne, because the Pitt basketeers lacked reserve strength, Coach Carlson appealed to the grid stars, all of whom left brilliant court records in their high school and preparatory school days.

Answering the call were: Eddie Hirshberg, football captain last year; Paul Reider, next year's captain-elect and brilliant forward on the New Castle high school basketball team in 1927; Paul Cuba, Reider's team-mate at high school; Paul Collins and Howdie O'Dell, highly rated in Iowa scholastic circles; Rocco Cutri, former Erie Academy star, and Jim MacMurdo, flashy Ellwood City basketeer.

EAST BROOK TO PLAY BESSEMER

Frederick's Squad Hopes To Win And Atone For Recent Defeats

Having lost the last two games, one to Shenango and the other to Sharpsville, Bessemer high school hopes to defeat East Brook high school varsity in their clash this evening at Bessemer.

The loss to Sharpsville did not count in the Lawrence county B school standing but the defeat by Shenango did and for that reason Coach Fredericks men hope to emerge victorious. Preliminary to the main game there will be a clash between girl teams from both schools.

Bressler-Luque May Be Dropped

No Contracts Mailed To Brooklyn Veterans By Management

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The axe loomed today for two Brooklyn baseball veterans, outfielder Rube Bressler and Pitcher Adolfo Luque. When the Brooklyn contracts were mailed yesterday, documents were not sent to this pair. They probably will be released unless a right-handed hitting outfielder and a pitcher are obtained by the club in trades.

Franklin High Plays Washington

Junior High Schools Of City To Combat Today At 4:00 O'clock

This afternoon the junior high schools of the city will combat when the Benjamin Franklin high five opposes the George Washington quintet on the Franklin floor. The game starts at 4 o'clock.

Annually these schools stage interesting battles. Another exciting contest is anticipated.

Leo Diegel Leads Mexican Tourney

(International News Service)

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex., Jan. 15.—With play starting on the third day's round of the Agua Caliente open golf tournament for the world's richest money prize, Leo Diegel, professional at the club here, was leading at the half-way post with 138 strokes.

Charles Guest of Deal, N. J., was in second place with 140, and Gene Sarazen was third with 142. Harry Cooper of Chicago and Fred Morrison of Los Angeles were next with 143 followed by Walter Hagen of Detroit and Paul Runyon of White Plains, N. J., with 144's.

College Crews Work Out-Doors

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Unusually warm weather is luring college crews out of doors in January for the first time in history.

Princeton's varsity and 150-pound eights worked out on Lake Carnegie yesterday. Heretofore Feb. 22 was the earlies date a Tiger crew ever had been out on the lake.

A new high winter temperature of 73 in Philadelphia moved Pennsylvania's oarsmen to launch the first shell on the Schuylkill river, at least a month earlier than usual.

St. Andrews To Battle Falcons

The St. Andrews church basketball team will battle the Polish Falcons Saturday night at St. Mary's floor. The Megan Tydols and Eintrachts will play the preliminary game starting at 7:45 o'clock. The St. Andrews team recently defeated the Polish Falcons at the Falcon court and hope to make it two straight tomorrow night.

Coach Tommy Evans reports the St. Andrews team is in fine shape for the game. The preliminary game originally scheduled had to be called off.

Outsider Comes Through To Win

Magna Mater, a 3 year old filly with a liking for heavy going won her second race over the Jefferson Park oval at New Orleans, leading a field of platers home in the six furlong feature. Magna Mater finished last in a field of nine the last time out. As the result she was made an outsider in the wagering, paying $18.40 for $2.

Flying Heels Wins Hialeah Inaugural

Twelve thousand racing fans cheered Flying Heels to victory yesterday in the Hialeah inaugural handicap, $2,500 added race that featured the opening of a 39 day meeting at Joseph Widener's $2,000,000 Hialeah park. The winner, owned by J. J. Curtis, paid $8.40 for a $2 mutual ticket.

Walter Fey broke Tiffin, O., Y. M. C. A. archery records when he scored 505 points with 90 arrows at 60 feet. He registered 87 hits out of 90 and connected for 10 bull's eyes.

Strong "Y" Team Should Force Titans To Limit Tonight At Home

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 15.—After losing to Grove City and and his mates [illegible] at the team played Francis, the Westminster College basketball team has taken a new lease on life, and starting with tonight's game on the home floor with the Youngstown Big "Y" team, will play far better ball.

Coach John Lawther cut his squad to 12 men during the week, eliminating seven scrubs. The players left on the squad have exhibited a better brand of ball, and should show steady improvement from now on.

Lawther hopes to have the Titans "clicking" for the rest of the season the way they did against the strong Akron Goodyear Wingfoots at Akron, when the blue and white passers played one of the best games in history to defeat the Wingfoots.

This same brand of ball, Lawther thinks, will carry captain Phil Rice and his mates far in the district race. The fact that the team played such a good game at Akron and against Wooster would seem to indicate that the recent "slump is temporary, and Titan officials believe that Brownlee, Kocheran, Hamas, Rice, and Siljander are again back in old-time form.

On the Youngstown Big "Y" team which opposes the Titans tonight are such stars as Meinkardt, rangy center; the McDonald brothers, speedy forwards; Welch and Sebastian, guards; and Johnson, forward. Most of these men are former college stars, and should provide plenty of opposition for the rejuvinated Westminster team.

Next week Westminster meets Geneva at home on Tuesday night; Thiel at Greenville, Friday night; and John Carroll at Cleveland, O., Saturday night. The Geneva and Thiel games are Tri-State Conference contests, and both are difficult and important.

Benefit Games Here Saturday

Three Games Carded For Mayor's Relief On Armory Floor

Scholastics of Union township have completed their preparation for the game with Wesley M. E. church five Saturday night at the Armory. The contest will be the main attraction of the basketball players efforts to secure food, garments and cash for the mayor's relief committee. The two other games will be staged between St. Paul's girls vs. Union Alumni girls and Scholastics B versus Union high reserves. The first tilt starts at 7:30 p. m.

Lincoln Passers Capture Win, 19-7

Securing an early lead the Lincoln and Garfield basketball team scored another triumph Thursday afternoon on the Lincoln floor winning over the Basketeers. The score was 19-7.

Merando and Santangelo featured for the winners, while Panfield and Dugan played well for the losers.

The lineup:

Lincoln 19.		Basketeers 7.
Fonzeno	F	Buney
Merando	F	Frankovitch
Nocera	C	Panfield
Santangelo	G	Kaszella
Pearsall	G	Dugan

Subs.—Lincoln, Condus; Albert, Jacobs; Basketeers, None.
Field goals—Fonzeno 2, Merando 4, Nocera 3, Panfield 1, Kaszella 1, Dugan 1.
Fouls—Lincoln, 1 out of 5; Basketeers, 1 out of 4.
Referee—Szyko.

Walker-Sharkey Bout Is Talked

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A fistic ring-around-the-rosy was in progress today with Jack Sharkey chasing Max Schmeling, Mickey Walker chasing Sharkey, and Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, chasing around trying to find a promoter for the defunct Schmeling-Walker bout.

Pending negotiations for a Schmeling-Dempsey bout later in the year, Jacobs was trying to get Madison Square Garden to promote the Schmeling-Walker affair in Chicago through its Illinois subsidiary.

Meanwhile the Garden is trying to line up Walker and Sharkey for a bout here next month. Walker is willing, with Sharkey yet to be heard from. The pair battled to a 15-round draw here last summer.

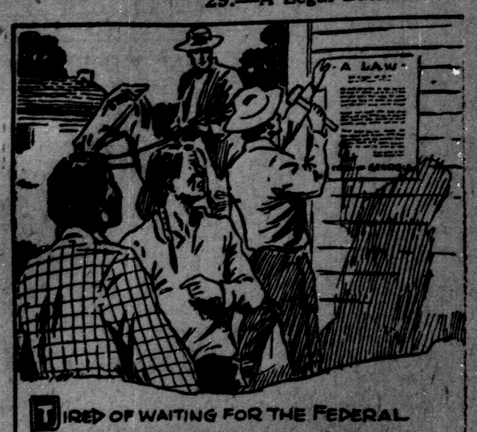
Vanishing Americans
29.—A Legal Battle



TIRED OF WAITING FOR THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO REMOVE THE CHEROKEE TRIBES TO THE WEST, THE STATE OF GEORGIA SPREAD ITS LAWS OVER THE INDIANS WITHIN ITS BORDERS.

THEN A SURPRISING THING, NEW TO THE FRONTIER, HAPPENED.—INSTEAD OF TAKING UP ARMS, THE CHEROKEES RAISED A FUND AND HIRED A FAMOUS AMERICAN LAWYER, WILLIAM WIRT, TO PROTECT THEIR RIGHTS.

A BITTER LEGAL BATTLE FOLLOWED IN WHICH THE RED MEN CAME OFF VICTORIOUS. IN 1832 THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT DECIDED THAT GEORGIA'S LAWS EXTENDING HER JURISDICTION OVER THE CHEROKEE COUNTRY WERE UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

HOWEVER, THE VICTORY OF THE INDIANS IN THE COURTS PROVED TO BE AN EMPTY ONE. GEORGIA DISREGARDED THE SUPREME COURT'S DECISION, AND THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT NEVER BOTHERED TO ENFORCE IT.

How Do You Buy

Do you buy blindfolded or do you want to see and know all about the article you desire?

Of two ads, one merely listing "a house" for sale, and the other describing a "modern tapestry brick bungalow, built in book cases, buffet and ironing board, wood burning fireplace," etc., which most appeals to you?

The "house" may have all the attractive features of the bungalow, but if the ad. does not tell about them, its appeal cannot equal that of the more fully described bungalow. An extra line costs only 10c. It may make the sale.

PECULIAR LIST OF VOTERS.

WELLESLEY, Mass.—Townsfolk of this college community were both amused and offended at the occupations given in the assessors' list for voters. According to the lists, John Kent, father of 11 children is "at home," while his wife, Martha, is listed as a "chauffer." Charles, 24, a son, won the prize, however, by being listed in the report as a "housewife." Now Wellesley wants to know whether it has an imaginative board of assessors, or a careless printer, or whether it has just some peculiar residents.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY WILLIAM RITT

Central Press Sports Editor

When the major league magnates let it be known at their winter conclave that they were sharpening their butcher knives for a necessary operation on the payroll it looked as though there was going to be some slicing performed.

Those who thought so were wrong. They didn't look far enough.

And—to hear Hack Wilson tell it—it isn't even good gristle.

When Mister Baseball Fan drops into his favorite ball yard next summer to forget the fact that his boss is paying him 10 per cent or so less he can assuage his sorrow by the thought that he is gazing at athletes who have felt the payroll knife so keenly that a 10 per cent cut would look to them like a bonus.

There was little furore over the report that Babe Ruth might have to take a $30,000 cut. Mr. Ruth is a king among ball players and was hauling down a kingly wage. Therefore, it seemed meet that if his salary should be slashed it should be royally so, thus keeping the tradition of Ruthian matters always being on a grander scale than others.

But Hack Wilson and Bill Terry are, at best, ex-kings of swat and the salary slash that faces these chaps are worthy of a czar.

If Ruth would have to take the $30,000 slash the cut would be 37 per cent. But the Babe probably will have to take a smaller deduction—if any deduction at all.

But in the case of Terry and Wilson the deductions are far more drastic and their respective bosses seem adamant about it, too.

Terry got $23,000 for his 1931 labors. The New York Giants have notified him that the salary knife peels exactly $9,200 off that sum, a 40 per cent deduction.

But even Terry's salary slash appears generous in view of the thumping wallop Hack Wilson's pay checks will get if he accepts the St. Louis Cardinal's terms.

Last year Hack received $36,000 for his presence in a baseball uniform. The new offer is $7,500. Not per week or per month, but for the full season. That's almost an 80 per cent cut!

The battles between Terry and the Giants and Wilson and the Cardinals over current salary matters are more interesting to the fans than the impending salary squabble between Babe Ruth and the Yankees over like financial matters.

This is because the public has seen the Ruth-Yankee battle before, many times before. Up to this writing Ruth has always said "More!" The Yankees have answered "No!" This was the signal for a grand time in which Ruth would threaten to quit the game, take up golf or pinochle or enter a monestary. The Yankees would threaten to let him go ahead.

And then, when the controversy had reached a point where the folks were beginning to believe it, Ruth and Colonel Ruppert, the Yankees' owner, would be discovered at a table signing the all-important papers, with Ruth always getting an increase somewhere between his and the Yankees' figures.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Little Change In Stock Market Prices

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The road to higher prices in the stock market this morning was again blocked by profit taking and professional selling. The rails were unsettled by the further postponement of the Chicago railroad wage conference until this afternoon, which indicated no authentic report of definite progress would be available during the market session.

In contrast to yesterday's 600,000-share volume in the first half-hour, only 200,000 shares passed through the market in the first half-hour today. Trend of prices was slightly downward, though actual losses were small. United States Steel started the session at 45 and eased off to 44⅞, while American Can slipped back in the same period from 65 to 64.

Losses in the high-priced rails ranged from 1 to 3 points. Atchison, which opened at 92¾, eased off to 89½ and Union Pacific reacted 1¼ points to 84⅝. New Haven under 29 showed a loss of 1½ points from Thusday's best price. New York Central was in good form at 34¾, up fractionally from the previous close. Railroad bonds were also under pressure, but this was not unexpected after the board advances of the last few days.

NO PRICE CUTTING IN BASEBALL GAMES

CHICAGO, Jan. 15—Despite recent agitation that the big league magnates reduce the price of admission to ball games, there will be no change in the present scale, it was indicated here today.

"Any suggestion that admission prices be lowered overlooks the fact that in boom times baseball did not attempt to take advantage of the easy money," William Harridge, American league president, said today in denying rumors of impending admission reductions.

State "Y" Officer Declares Need For Help To Business

District Y. M. C. A. Secretaries Meet Here For Conference, Discussions

More spiritual food is needed in the Young Men's Christian association today; and there should be additional emphasis on the need for the associations to cooperate more closely with the businesmen of their respective communities.

So stated Charles E. Ford of Harrisburg, head of the state Y. M. C. A. boys' work division, at the meeting of the central west district Y. M. C. A. secretaries in the local association building this morning.

The conference was over early this afternoon to permit the secretaries to enjoy a luncheon as guests of the local "Y".

The feature of the gathering, presided over by Vice President H. M. Caldwell of Crsaopolis in place of A. H. Smith of New Brighton, who was absent, was an address "Ministry of Material," delivered by A. H. Shook, Tarentum "Y" secretary. Reports of the last state convention held in November were presented by W. H. Seybolt, New Brighton, and A. H. Shook, Tarentum. L. L. Miller, Tarentum, and W. A. Thomas, local Y. M. C. A., presented reports on the older boys' conference held last December.

Others present at the conference today were:

R. L. Meermans, Henry T. MacNichols, New Castle; B. H. Newport, L. H. McCullough, New Brighton; J. V. McBride, Corsopolis; Miss Vivian Dunkin, Tarentum.

Delayed Blast On Farm Injures Man

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Jan. 15.—Walter Barber, 34, Pine township resident, is in a hospital here suffering from severe burns sustained when a delayed blast of powder let go while he was dynamiting at his farm yesterday.

Barber was badly burned about the body, and fears are held for the vision in his right eye. His head was injured.

Re-Organization Of Washington, Pa., Banks Is Planned

Plans Are About Complete For Re-Opening Of Three Closed Banks

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 15.—Plans for the re-organization of three closed banks went forward here today following approval by State Secretary of Banking, William D. Gordon of the committee personnel.

Beginning today, meetings will be held daily by W. A. H. McIlvaine, and John L. Stewart, of the Washington Trust Company; Thomas L. Anderson and Harry E. Pollock, of the First Bank and Trust Company, and John N. Spriggs and Lewis E. Paul, of the Union Trust Company, whose appointment as the committee was approved by Gordon.

The committee will prepare plans for re-organization of the bank which will be acceptable to Dr. Gordon.

GUN SETS FIRE AND SOUNDS OWN ALARM

(International News Service)

WINSTED, Conn., Jan. 15.—Nothing like having your own private fire alarm, Harland White of Colebrook is convinced.

White went hunting, returned with one barrel of his shotgun still loaded, and left the weapon on the back porch. At midnight the gun banged and White jumped from bed to find the porch in flames. The fire had fired the gun. Damage was held to a minimum by prompt organization of a family bucket brigade.

The passive resistance advocated by Gandhi is a movement hard to combat. It is a difficult matter to fight those who wage war by doing nothing at all.—The Salt Lake City Deseret News.

It's a hard commentary on our civilization that a police head is called a traitor only when he does his duty.

The ruling races are meat eaters, but what of it? They are also snow shovelers, but that isn't what makes them rule.

It takes approximately 62 ounces of wool to make an average man's suit.

Feared Dying

Alarm is felt in European royal and ex-royal circles over the condition of ex-Dowager Queen Sophie of Greece (above), who, since the fall of the Greek throne has been living in exile in France and Germany. The former Queen is reported to be near death in a hospital at Frankfort-on-Main, Germany. Doctors hold little hope for her recovery, as she continues to lose strength despite their efforts.

Mrs. Gandhi Is Given Sentence

Six Weeks Simple Sentence For Wife Of Mahatma Gandhi For Disturbance

(International News Service)

BOMBAY, Jan. 15.—Mrs. M. K. Gandhi, wife of the Indian Nationalist leader, was sentenced today to six weeks simple imprisonment for activities in behalf of her husband's cause.

Mrs. Gandhi was arrested along with a number of other Nationalist leaders on charges of spreading the "No-Tax" campaign among the peasants of the Bardoli region.

The turbans worn by Orientals usually consist of 10 to 20 yards of material.

Cleveland Banker Asks Support For Hoover's Program

President's Reconstruction Program Advocated To Break Deflation Spirals

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Jan. 15.—Advocating support of President Hoover's reconstruction program, Colonel Leonard P. Ayres, noted Cleveland economist and vice president of the Cleveland Trust Company, declared in his monthly business review today that the duration of deflation is the most important problem to be solved in 1932.

The economist stated the processes of deflation have run so far and fast, and they are continuing with such vigor there is danger of the needless destruction of sound values.

The appeal of President Hoover to Congress to enact legislation "designed to break the vicious spirals of deflation that continuously generate further deflation merits the wholehearted support of all citizens," he said.

Prayers Offered To End Economic Strife In Nation

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 15.—Twenty-four hours of continual prayer for unemployment relief and the revival of "old-time" religion ended today at the Christ Reformed church, Homewood, a suburb.

During the meeting, a telegram calling upon President Hoover to ask churches of the nation to conduct a similar prayer meeting was signed by twelve ministers and dispatched to the White House.

About 180 worshippers gathered at the church yesterday morning when the praying began. When the last prayer was intoned and the last hymn sung today, 22 women and three men remained. They had prayed through the night.

Evangelist Luther A. Horn, assisted by four clergymen, led the worshippers.

NAME FLEMING AS MANAGER OF GOLF COURSE

Councilmen Concur In Recommendation Of Golf Committee

William G. Fleming, Addis street, former county detective, today was elected by city council as manager of the municipal golf course. His term will start February 1. He will succeed Walter Hart. His salary will be $50 a month, house rent and the balance of compensation will come from concessions.

When council met, Councilman Genkinger of parks and buildings said that he wished to offer a motion to concur in the recommendation of the golf committee and appoint William G. Fleming as manager of the course. The vote was unanimous.

The golf committee consists of Howard B. Richards, Louis B. Round and Daniel M. Woolcock. The members resigned recently, in order, the communication state, as to not embarrass the new council if the latter had any new ideas relating to municipal golf. The members were reappointed.

Youngstown Youth Admits His Auto Is Stolen Machine

Donora Police Gain Confession From William Powers, About Stolen Car

(International News Service)

DONORA, Pa., Jan. 15.—A man who gave his name as William Powers, 22, of Youngstown, O., today surrendered to police and admitted the car he was driving had been stolen in Ohio, officers reported.

The machine bore Ohio license plates.

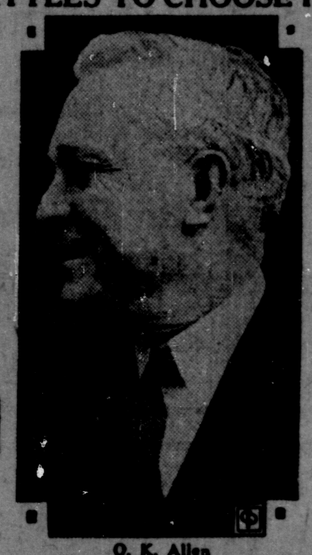
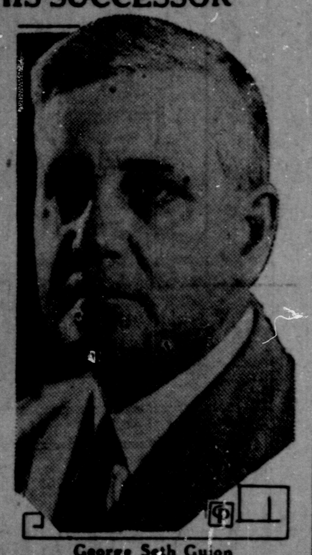
HUEY LONG BATTLES TO CHOOSE HIS SUCCESSOR

Dudley Leblanc



O. K. Allen



George Seth Guion

Intense interest is manifest throughout the south in the approaching Louisiana gubernatorial election, with the important Democratic primary Jan. 19, because of the active part played by Governor-Senator Huey P. Long in the campaign for selection of his successor. Above are the three most active candidates. O. K. Allen, chairman of the Louisiana highway commission, is Long's choice; Dudley Leblanc, member of the state public service commission, is a former ally of Long, and George Seth Guion, former assistant attorney general, has for his chief speaker the governor's elder brother, Julius Long, Shreveport lawyer. Earl Long, younger brother of the chief executive, is running for lieutenant governor in opposition to John Fournet, speaker of the house, who has the governor's support. Thus the governor's brother is in opposition to his plans.

Chip Off the Ice Block

Nearly Two Hundred Enjoy Polish Party

A large gathering of 180 women of Polish and Slavic ancestry made merry in the gymnasium of the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday night. It was a splendid party, sponsored by the Polish department of the International Institute, of which Mrs. Josephine Sroczynska is secretary.

A short program of music, then games of all sorts and dancing made the evening delightful every minute. Invitations for the party were given to every woman of the Slavic races in the city of New Castle. Including the special guests of the occasion, there was easily 200 people taking part.

Highspots of the program were: Several very splendidly rendered songs by Louis Badurik, accompanied by Miss Anna Janocik at the piano. Mr. Badurik is a very talented singer and his part of the program was very much appreciated. Then there were a Polish recitation by Miss Matilda Pigon and a display of a Slavic costume by Mrs. Anna Skuba. Mrs. Skuba presented a very pretty picture in the brilliant costume of her ancesters. And last were some song selections by a group of girls, in both English and Polish languages. This feature was especially noteworthy because of the fact that the four girls, Misses Mary Cwynar, Matilda Pigon, Helen Sniezek and Frances Cwynar, have been in this country but a very short time.

Refreshments were served later in the evening. The refreshments were donated by friends of the International Institute.

Without the interested cooperation of a committee of arrangements consisting of Mrs. Howard Kirk, Miss Marguerite White, Mrs. Earl Douglas, Miss Marian Wilson, Miss Ethel Moore, Miss Emma Moore, Mrs. Alice Kubinska, Mrs. Nellie Waczykowska, Mrs. Anna Vago, Mrs. Lillian Keder, Miss Matilda Pegon, Mrs. Mary Wysocka, Mrs. Mary Wiech, Mrs. Mary Matnack and Mrs. Florence Babiarz, it could not have been the most successful party it was.

The Engineers' Society of New Castle will hear a talk entitled, "Burning of Fuel for Steam Generation" by J. B. Crane, expert of the Combustion Engineering Corporation of Pittsburgh, at the next monthly meeting of the society, to be held in the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening.

The new officers of the society will take charge at this meeeting.

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS
Editor The Farm Journal
Written for Central Press

A couple of months ago a very distinguished body of economists and research men and heavy thinkers of that class met in Chicago and conferred on the general subject of "Land Utilization".

It was, on the whole, a group of smart men, and I do not mean to disparage them by calling them "heavy thinkers". On the whole they were our best trained, most experienced and most level-headed experts, and what they decided to recommend must carry weight.

"Land Utilization" is a nice, dignified phrase, and you would hardly suspect it of carrying any dynamite. But the thing it deals with, the problem that the conference was called to consider is just this: "Should we, and if so how can we, make farmers quit farming land that is not fit for farm?" That is the milk in the cocoanut, and the more you consider it, the more different kinds of trouble it appears to lead to.

The conference made 18 recommendations, dealing with various phases of the problem, and of course including more research and more appropriations to pay for it. (Research men always recommend further research: they would be less than human if they didn't.) Then they declared that public lands and school lands should be better managed; watersheds in the West protected; farm credit systems overhauled; a national survey and classification of soils and farm lands completed; state income taxes established; land developments licensed and regulated; no further desert land reclaimed for the present; poor tax-delinquent land held by counties and states instead of being resold; industry decentralized, and some more conferences, committees and above all, more research.

The great question, of course, runs all through these recommendations, and is not settled by any of them. It is whether the state and federal governments should take a hand in throwing poor land out of cultivation, or whether every farmer should remain free to bankrupt himself, if he sees fit, by trying to farm it. And if the government should step in, how should they go about it?

This country has until recently gone on the theory that if a man wants to attempt the impossible, let him go ahead, at his own risk and expense. When the sheriff sold him out, that was a private matter between him and the sheriff.

But many people point out that while a farmer is engaged in bankrupting himself on poor land, he also is doing his best by his competition to bankrupt good farmers on good land. And they think that something can and should be done about that.

In other words, it merely is one more example of the basic difference of opinion between those who want the government to butt in more, and those who want it to butt out and stay out. I don't know which is right, if either. I wish I did.

SWIMMING POOL IS A BALLROOM NOVELTY

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Hundreds of fashionable guests at the opening night of Berlin's own indoor Lido were thrown into a panic by an elderly gentleman who staggered on the bar and shouting that he intended to commit suicide dived into the new swimming pool evening clothes and all. He came to the surface and swam around to the ultimate amusement of the guests while his wife screamed and begged someone to save her dear hubby.

The swimming pool has been installed in the ballroom of the Old Ball House, traditional Berlin dancing hall, which is now the last cry in Berlin's night life. When the bands stop playing beautiful sirens perform their swimming and diving stunts in the pool, and dancers may cool off their temperament between jazz and tango. The water is kept at a temperature of 72 degrees.
